Oak Hill Dist. Imp. Asso. Holds First Meeting

Mayor Weeks Addresses Large Gathering

The first meeting of the newly organized Oak Hill District Improvement Association was held at the Charles River Country Club on Monday night. Wendell R. K. Mick, president of the association, presided and about 150 residents of the Oak Hill district were present. Other officers elected at the meeting included: Mrs. Horatio Rogers and Charles R. Davis, vice presidents; Harry S. Cummings, secretary-treasurer. The principal address of the evening was given by Mayor Weeks.

The Mayor referred at length to the matter which is first in the requests of Oak Hill residents, a new school in that district. He told of the plans of the Newton School Committee for five new school buildings in this city, to be erected under PWA grants, and commented that it is improbable that all five will be started during the coming year. He said that public buildings erected in this city the past couple of years under PWA provisions were supposed to have 70% of their cost provided by PWA funds, but only 14% came from this source, and the amount of red tape involved made the small amount of Federal aid not worth while. The Mayor stated that since the World War school buildings in Newton have been erected at a cost of over $4,000,000, and the anticipated relief from over crowding has not been obtained because of the rapid growth of the city. He said it is difficult to decide which of the projected new school structures will be built first, but over crowding must be relieved, and thus the districts where there are insufficient school facilities to care for pupils must get attention.

The Mayor told of the work on the Charlestown sewer and drain as the first step in providing Oak Hill with proper sewer facilities and a drainage system which will tend to eliminate the mosquito nuisance which now bothers the district. He said that he hopes the matter of selecting a school site at Oak Hill will be decided during the next few months. Referring to the complaints about speed on the Worcester turnpike, Mayor Weeks said this highway is under control of State officials. Mentioning the complaints about the gravel pit at Oak Hill, the Mayor said the matter of discontinuing this pit

Kiwanis Benefit Movie Show

All arrangements have been made by the Newton Kiwanis Club for their Annual Kiddie Movie Show at the Paramount Theatre for the benefit of the Underprivileged Child Fund. Money received from this show will go toward helping children in the Newtons who are unable to secure the necessities of life they are deprived of for some reason or other. Much good work is done by this committee during the year in supplying glasses, shoes, wearing apparel and conveying crippled children to school, to say nothing of food and milk to those in need.

The picture this year will be Shirley Temple in "Now and Forever" with several short comedies, together with Bob Mills and his Kiddie Revue. All local children will take part in this revue.

The Kiwanians are supplying home-made candy which will be sold before the performance to further the receipts of the show. Mrs. George White is chairman of the Candy Committee. Steve Hodges, J. N. Snider, Wilfred Chagnon and Ray Green are the committee in charge of the show.

The speaker at the Kiwanis meeting last Tuesday was Mr. Harry Seymour Ross, President of Emerson College. His subject was "Kipling." Mr. Ross read several poems from Kipling in a manner that was most pleasing.

The speaker for next Tuesday will be Maj. E. Farnum Rockwood, who will talk of the workings of the CCC camps.

Bandits Hold Up Young Woman at West Newton

Dora King, 23, of 363 Highland ave., West Newton, was held up by two bandits on Sylvan ave., West Newton, late Sunday night. An automobile, which was proceeding along the street, stopped opposite the young woman and one of the two occupants of it alighted, flourished a revolver at the young woman and seized the purse she was carrying. Miss King did not obtain the registration numbers on the car as it was driven away. She rushed to the home of Joshua Clark at 5 Sylvan ave. and told of the robbery. Mr. Clark phoned police headquarters and cruising cars hastened to the scene. The purse stolen from Miss King contained about $5 in cash in addition to other articles.

Brighton Man Low Bidder On Garbage Contract

Bids for the collection of garbage in Newton for the next three years were opened at the office of Street Commissioner Mahoney on Tuesday. The bids were as follows: T. H. McVey, Brighton, $41,590 per year; John A. Janse, Newton Centre, $42,725; Joseph P. McCabe, Boston, $47,380; A. R. Doyle, Jamaica Plain, $57,490. Janse had the contract for the past eight years, and his compensation for the past three years on the present contract has been $53,850 annually.

According to the specifications given to bidders, each bid was to be accompanied by a certified check for $25,000. McVey's bid was accompanied by a bank cashier's check. Commissioner Mahoney has asked City Solicitor Bartlett to rule as to whether, or not, McVey's bid can be accepted.

Newton Artist Wins First Prize

William M. Paxton of Newton Center, was awarded the first prize of $200 on April 30 as the artist whose picture received the most popular preference from the public at the 14th biennial exhibition of contemporary American oil paintings at the Corcoran Art Gallery in Washington. The painting, a nude, was titled "Nellie Looks Down on Phryne." Another painting by Mr. Paxton won second place in the balloting. This was the fourth time that a painting by Mr. Paxton won first prize in these exhibitions. Mr. Paxton, who resides at 19 Montvale rd., is a life-long resident of Newton and the son of the late James Paxton, a famous Newton caterer of the past generation.

Arrest Men For Loitering

Because of complaints received by the police of men loitering in some of the village business sections, three arrests were made at West Newton square on Saturday night by Patrolmen Slavin, Murphy and Maloney. In court on Monday Joseph Rizza, 36 Cottage place, and Louis Albano, 353 Cherry st., each was fined $5. Joseph Milligan of 200 Walnut st. had his case placed on file.

Urges Abolition Of Block Movie Bookings

Newton Motion Picture Council Supports Pettingill Bill

Every month more pictures are finding their way to endorsed lists proving that there are more good pictures being produced—so with better pictures comes better audiences. To keep up a steady improvement in the moving picture field, to continue raising the standards, to educate the public to support good films when they appear, means constant and intelligent direction on the part of Moving Picture Councils.

At the present time one of the most important roles it must play is to encourage the support of everyone in the campaign to establish community freedom in the choice of moving pictures. To help this campaign all citizens are asked to support the Pettingill bill now before Congress to abolish by federal law the monopolistic practices of compulsory block booking and blind buying. The Newton Motion Picture Council urges all to write to the New England members of the committee.

The Committee before which the bill will be heard is the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, Hon. Sam Rayburn of Texas, Chairman. The New England members of the Committee are Hon. Pehr G. Holmes of Worcester, Massachusetts, and Hon. Schuyler Merritt of Stamford, Connecticut, both to be addressed at the House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Among the organizations favoring the abolition of compulsory block booking and blind buying are:

Police Seize Alleged Loot At Newton Ctr.

Newton police, including Captain Good, Serg. Crowley, Special Officer Feeley and Patrolmen Bibbo and Turner yesterday morning at 8 raided the home of Joseph Lichtenstein at 11 Garner rd., Newton Center, and seized a large quantity of liquor, ladies' dresses, cosmetics and other articles, including two revolvers. The revolvers were turned over to Boston police and the other alleged loot taken to Newton police headquarters. The raid in Newton was the result of another previous raid earlier in the morning at a garage in South Boston in which a large quantity of alleged stolen goods were found. South Boston police, lying in wait at the garage, arrested Lichtenstein and his wife, and Andrew Eagan of Gates st., South Boston, and then communicated with the Newton police.

Garage Man's Finger Caught In Car Motor

Kenneth Stewart, 21, of 38 Auburn st., West Newton, received a painful injury to the middle finger of his left hand last Friday afternoon when it became caught under a valve spring while Stewart was working on a car at the Furbush garage at Davis ave., where he was employed. Douglas Furbush sent for Dr. Sherman of Elm street and workmen at the garage labored for an hour and a half to dislodge the motor sufficiently to permit the physician to pull Stewart's finger from under the spring. The physician administered an anesthetic to the injured man before extricating his finger from the motor.

Nonantum Women Injured In Car Crash at Belmont

Three Nonantum young women were injured Sunday night when the automobile in which they were riding hit a stone wall on Mill st., Waverley, near the Belmont-Waltham line. Betty Shorton of 268 California st. received a fractured jaw and concussion of the brain; Lillian Meilman and Rae Meilman of 23 Beech st. received cuts and bruises. The car was driven by Charles Bustin of 10 Wilson ave., Watertown. He and his wife received serious head injuries. The injured were taken to the Cambridge Hospital. Bustin lost control of the car when he made a sharp turn.

Changes In Newton Police

A number of changes in assignments went into effect in the Newton police department on May 1. Two patrolmen have been assigned to motor-cycle duty nights to cope with the speeders who have been endangering the lives and safety of the public on Newton highways. They are Patrolmen Barr and Dwyer. Barr will cover the streets on the South side, including the turnpike, Beacon st. and Commonwealth ave. Dwyer will ride on the North side along Washington and Watertown sts. and the avenue.

Patrolman Dow, who has returned to day duty at Newton Corner after a long period of illness, has been relieved from patrolling South of Washington st., including Mount Ida. Patrolman Connelly has been assigned to cover the Mount Ida section in addition to his duties at Newton Corner. Patrolman Clancy, who has been on duty days at Newton Center sq., has been transferred to relief duty. He was succeeded by Patrolman Stanton, who has been on relief duty. She was formerly a resident of Newton but in recent years has been living on Waban st., Wellesley. Miss Rose Feldberg, formerly of the City Engineer's office but for the past year in the accounting department, was transferred to fill the position formerly occupied by Miss Jennison.

Early Morning Awning Fire

Box 715 was pulled at 2:03 Monday morning for a fire at the home of H. P. Carver, 177 Homer st., Newton Center. The fire started in an awning over a second-floor window and damaged adjoining siding on the house. It was extinguished before it worked through the siding and so did not reach the interior of the house.

Annual Horse Show Attracting Favorite Entries

Plan Twenty-Five Classes In Benefit Affair

The favorite horses of Greater Boston are being entered by the horse show enthusiasts for the Newton Charity Horse Show to be held on May 11th at the Newton Centre Playgrounds. The splendid facilities offered by the Playgrounds are attracting to the ring the well known prize horses of popular interest. The Horse Show will start at 9:30 and continue through the day with an intermission for luncheon which can be secured on the grounds. It is being given for the benefit of the Newton Mayor's Relief Committee and the Y. W. C. A.

There will be twenty-five classes for the various divisions of the equestrian world. Children under 12 years and over 12 will have classes in riding competition. There will be 6 classes for the smaller saddle ponies, the combination ponies, and pairs of ponies. This class for pairs of ponies always attracts much interest. Also, entries are being made for the taller saddle horse 15.2 hands and over, for ladies saddle horses, pairs of horses, road hacks, and combination saddle horses. Five-gaited saddle horses and fine harness horses with long tails will each have a class. The hunters and jumpers will be divided into seven different classes. All entries should be made through Arthur H. Lovejoy, East Milton.

During the past week interest in this Newton Charity Event has been steadily increasing through the meetings of local committees throughout Newton. On Monday evening the Newton Centre and Newton Highlands group met at the home of their chairman, Mrs. Fred W. Downer. On the same evening, Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Everts entertained the Newtonville Committee of which Mrs. LeRoy S. Miner is chairman. On Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Philip P. Guiles invited the West Newton committee to meet in their home. BROCKTON LOSES 41-31 ON NEWTON HIGH TRACK

Led by Captain Warren Wittens and Allen Freeman, who scored 23 points between them, Newton High defeated Brockton by 41-31 in the opening meet of the outdoor track season last Friday at Dickenson Field, Newtonville. Wittens won the low hurdles, cleared 20 ft. 3 1-4 in. to take the broad jump, and ran second to Brockton's Adolph Kelley in the quarter mile. Freeman, captain during the indoor season, won the 100-yard dash in 10 1-5 seconds, then ran away from the field in the 880, winning in 2 m. 25 s.

Hurdle Race Too Long
 A slight favoring wind may have bettered the times in the sprints and hurdles. Warren Wittens led the field from the half-way mark in the hurdles, avoiding a yapping dog without breaking his stride, and won by several yards from Sullivan of Brockton. The time, 16 seconds even, was not bad, as the race was run over a 130-yard course, due to an error by the officials.

Allen Freeman barely held off the final surge of two Brockton men in the dash, Jencunas and Tamolonis virtually pushing him through the tape in 10 1-5 seconds, which is the state record for the distance. Ted Ladd won the 220 for Newton, followed by Bob Muther and Tamolonis, and the time was 23 3-5 seconds.

Wittens Leads Jumpers
 Warren Wittens hit the takeoff perfectly and cleared 20 ft. 3 3-4 in. on his first attempt, which was good enough to win the broad jump. Werner and Jencunas of Brockton took second and third-place points. On a subsequent jump, Wittens spiked the middle finger of his left hand, requiring some bandaging by "Doc" Frank Simmons.

In the last event of the meet, the 440-yard run, Wittens returned to set the pace for 400 yards, when he was overtaken by Adolph Kelley, who won for Brockton in 53 seconds, leading the Newton captain by five yards. Trailing Wittens were Bob Kiley and Al Bianchi, both of Newton. Melvin Swig won the shot with a toss of 45 ft. 6 in., beating out Sinuc and Rosenthal of Brockton, and the high jump went to Sullivan of Brockton, who took the event from Ross McLean of Newton at 5 ft. 4 in., while Joe Blair and Julius Ainsner were tied for third place.

Freeman Double Winner
 Al Freeman looked very strong in winning the 880-yard run for his second victory of the afternoon. At the quarter, Freeman ran about five yards behind Dan Sampson of Brockton, while Charlie Center was running third. Freeman took over the lead on the next turn, went down the backstretch in front, and led Sampson at the tape by eight yards in 2 m. 5 2-5 s., while Gilbert of Brockton took third.

Tomorrow morning the team makes the annual trip to the Worcester Polytechnic Institute's interscholastic meet. Warren Wittens, Al Freeman and Mel Swig will carry the scoring burden for the Orange and Black. In the high hurdles, Charlie Center or Ross McLean may be surprise entries, while Swig will be entered in the discus along with Whitten and Bob Wild.

Stow Golf Course Is Now Open

Many golfers from Newton will be interested to know that the Stow Golf Course is now open for the 1935 season. Improvements made on the second and ninth holes have helped the course to dry out much quicker this year than ever before. Rates are to be the same, except for a reduction in the season privilege for men. Apparently the cost of golf is one thing that has not gone up—at least, not yet. A busy season is expected.

NEWTON DOWNS LATIN IN LEAGUE TILT 11-2

Newton High's baseball team had only two scoreless innings against Cambridge Latin last Friday at Russell Field in Cambridge, as they won their first Suburban League game, 11-2. Cambridge pitchers dealt out ten bases on balls, struck out only three, and were further hampered by five infield errors. Newton hurlers, Bosworth, Castoldi and Quinn struck out nine Latin batters, passed six and allowed only four hits.

Captain Bill Spilman made three hits, one a double, and scored three runs in four times at bat, while Bullet Byrne was good for a triple and a double in five attempts. Newton scored a run in each of the first three innings, four more in the fourth, two in the sixth, one each in the seventh and eighth. Even so, ten Newton men were stranded on the bases.

Byrne's Triple Scores Three
 Guido Castoldi grounded out to the third baseman. Bullet Byrne rapped a triple out to center field, clearing the bases, then chased home on an error by the Latin first baseman. Pete Morrison drew a walk, and Bert Marrazzo grounded out to shortstop to end the inning for Newton.

Newton's last three runs came each on the heels of a two-base hit, namely, those of Bill Spilman in the sixth, Sylvan Simon in the seventh, and Bullet Byrne in the eighth. Pete Morrison waited out four consecutive bases on balls in his first four trips to the bat, then grounded out on the fifth, and had 10 putouts and two assists to his credit behind the bat and at right field, where he vent when relieved by Gammons. Bosworth was twice hit by pitched balls.

Newton had scheduled a game with Boston High School of Commerce for Tuesday last. When rain made a postponement inevitable, it was discovered that Commerce had no intention of playing Newton this week, anyway. Efforts by Coach Jones failed to raise a last-minute opponent for Wednesday, and today's game at Rindge Tech. on the scene of their auspicious league debut of last week is the first game for Newton since last Friday. They meet Brookline at Newtonville next Tuesday, then go to Brookline for another league game a week from today.

NEWTON TENNIS TEAM AT EXETER TOMORROW

Fifteen Newton High tennis players will take off for Exeter, N. H., tomorrow morning to play the Exeter Academy tennis team. Newton has victories over Huntington School and Winchester High already under their belts, and are expected to give a good account of themselves against the strong Exeter racquet-swingers, who won 5-1 from Melrose High on Wednesday.

The 5-4 defeat of Winchester on the Newton High courts Wednesday was featured by the three-set defeat of Captain Leo Geary by Scully of Winchester, 3-63 (6-2) (8-6). In the other singles matches, Paul Rich won from Ellis by (6-1) (7-5), Tom Slattery won from Josephson (6-2) (6-0), Gardner Stratton lost to Carlton (0-6) (6-2) (7-5), Ken Chase won from Linnell (6-0) (6-0), and Brewster Williams won from Lyman (6-0) (6-0).

In the doubles, Tore Peterson and Walter Michael lost to the Winchester pair of Josephson and Ellis by (6-8) (6-2) (8-6). Arthur Pearson and Bill Wise won from Lyman and Linnell by (6-3) (7-9) (6-4), and Leo Geary and White lost to Scully and Carlton by (6-1) (6-3).

Huntington and Watertown Beaten
 Newton won its match against Huntington last Friday 9-0 without losing one set, while the second team defeated Watertown varsity 7-0. In the varsity matches, Geary won from Harlow (6-1) (6-3), Rich won from MacDonald (6-2) (6-1), Slattery won from Simpson (6-2) (6-3), Stratton won from McArdle (6-2) (6-1) and Peterson won from Gordon (6-1) (6-0). Geary and White, Rich and Stratton, Pearson and Chase, Sam Wyatt and Gordon all won their doubles matches easily.

On the same day, Newton second team beat Watertown High 7-0. Newton Highlights

Our Lady's High School of Newton is setting a merry pace in the Catholic League baseball. Last Friday they forfeited their game with St. Mary's of Brookline at Cabot Park, objecting to the umpiring. But on Monday they turned back Immaculate Conception 8-1, and Wednesday they took Cathedral High at Somerville 15-4. Cliff Choquette struck out sixteen I. C. batsmen and gave only four hits on Monday, while Fitzgerald allowed Cathedral nine hits and struck out eleven.

The Newton aggregation hits hard. Although Russ Harney's double was the only extra-base bingle of the Immaculate Conception game, Gallagher, Fitzgerald, Mullen and Shaughnessy hit two-baggers against Cathedral, while Morris made a triple and Cliff Choquette made a triple and a double.

Newton Athletics At College

Bobby Hunter is playing on the Harvard golf team. He won both his single and best ball matches against Holy Cross, but was defeated both ways by Dartmouth golfers. Bill Sutcliffe is playing for Temple University.

Jack Skillings, a sophomore at Brown, played No. 6 in the singles against the Harvard tennis team Wednesday. Although Harvard swept all nine of the matches, Skillings ran his opponent to extra games in the singles, and his doubles team won the only set of the day for Brown. Bob Ashley of Waban is playing on the Bowdoin tennis team.

Track and Field

Many Newtonians competed in the Greater Boston Intercollegiate track meet last Friday and Saturday at Cambridge. Milton Green turned in the finest individual performance for Harvard with a new record in the high hurdles, another first in the lows, and third in the running broad jump. Stan Johnson placed second in the broad jump and was a qualifier in the low hurdles. Another Tech man, Tom Kinraide of Newtonville, placed third in the hammer throw, and Dave MacLellan took fourth in the 400-metres run.

Running for M. I. T. in the G. B. I. meet were Doug Chalmers, who qualified for the finals of the 800-metres, and Richard Jarrell, who got into the 200-metres semi-final. Palmer York of West Newton won the high hurdles and was third in the lows for the Yale Freshman last Saturday when they beat Andover Academy. Don Bowen is running the two-mile for Tufts.

Twi-League Baseball Meeting

The city Playground department has announced an organization meeting of the Newton Twilight League for next Thursday night, May 9, in the Newton Centre Playground building at 7:30 p. m. All former managers and others who have made application to join the league are invited to be present.

Incidentally, the Playground department is prepared to issue tennis permits, and the rush for buttons with low numbers is on. Practically all the public courts in the city are now playable, although reservation cards have yet to be posted.

NEWTON BREAKING EVEN IN SUBURBAN GOLF PLAY

The Newton High golf team is away to a good start, having beaten Waltham, tied Brookline and Arlington, and lost to Watertown. Under the guidance of Thomas C. Walters, the present crop of linksmen appear to have the balance to bring back some of the golfing prestige Newton enjoyed when Pat Hagerty, Bobby Hunter, Bill Donnelly and the Gianfrante brothers were playing on the high school teams.

In their first match, Newton won 8 1-2 to 1-2 from Waltham at Woodland. Watertown defeated Newton 5-4 in the second match, also played at Woodland. On Wednesday, playing the Brookline municipal course, Newton broke even with Brookline High, each team making 4 1-2 points. Roy Merchant set a hot pace for both teams with a 79 medal score that included seven pars and three birdies. Merchant and John Ford won their three points, Bill Herlihy and Robert Burns broke even, and Joe Hall and Gordon Wentworth lost.

Yesterday Newton played another 4 1-2 to 4 1-2 tie, this time with the strong Arlington High golfers, at Brae Burn C. C. John Ford and Joe Hall teamed up to take 2 1-2 points, while Merchant paired with Arnold Devlin and Herlihy with Burns to take one point each. All matches played thus far are Suburban League affairs, and the match scheduled with Swampscott is the only non-league date on the schedule. The next match is that with Lexington High next Monday at Lexington.

Stole From Uncle, Gets Two Months

Arthur Pilz, 21, of New Britain, Connecticut, was sentenced to serve two months in Middlesex County prison by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Wednesday. He was found guilty of having stolen a watch and $90 in money from his uncle, Carl McKinley of Newton. Mr. and Mrs. McKinley testified that they had given Pilz a home and aided him in obtaining a job, but that he had quit the job and returned to Connecticut the same day the watch and money vanished. The watch was returned.

Fifty Years Ago In Newton

 May 2, 1885
 Newton

After an unprecedentedly hot, dry, dusty week the month goes out with a cold, northeasterly storm.

The corner stone of the new Baptist church will be laid this evening at a quarter of seven with simple exercises.

The delightful weather attracted the horse cars from their winter quarters one day last week. A carriage and span, with driver and footman for ten cents.

Work is steadily progressing on the approaches to the Bellevue street bridge for which Mount Ida folks have been longing for many months.

Mr. Calkins' Sabbath evening service at Eliot Church was a very pleasant surprise. During the service a church mouse was seen gallivanting about on the tapestried floor.

Mr. A. J. Gordon, accompanied by Master Theodore Walker, sailed for England last Saturday. He represents some Yankee inventions for which he finds a splendid market, including a button boot-fastener which he cannot get fast enough to fill his orders.

Galen St. was again disturbed by another melee on Saturday night. About midnight six men engaged in combat at the corner of Boyd st. and left blood where they fought. Rev. Mr. Lamb had the front of his house attacked with rum bottles.

Newton Centre

Samuel D. Garey has sold his fine dwelling house on Summer st. corner of Gibbs st.; price $9500. The purchaser will occupy and probably build a stable.

A gravel walk extending from the corner of Center and Station sts. to the new Rice schoolhouse has been built. The Rice school is a model as is proved by use, and its location is unsurpassed. The front elevation faces the common, and the north elevation has a fine view of Gibbs Brook.

Newtonville

A Newtonville man was lately inquiring among his friends if they knew of anybody who he could get to sew on a few buttons. He said his wife belongs to so many literary clubs, she does not have time to attend to anything of that kind.

The Parlor Literary Union met at the house of Mrs. Simpson on Newtonville ave. on Monday evening. Selections from Longfellow's "Evangeline" and "Courtship of Miles Standish" were given, illustrated by tableaux.

NEWTON CENTRE SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

On Tuesday afternoon, April 30, a very successful card party was held in Mason School Hall for the benefit of the student award made each year to a deserving High School senior by the Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. M. M. Millikan, general chairman, assisted by her committee, Mrs. James A. Austin, Mrs. A. C. Coughlan, Mrs. F. H. Wilson, Mrs. LeRoy Schall, Mrs. S. C. von Loesecke and Miss O'Hara, Miss Bartlett and Mrs. Colton from the school, disposed of three hundred tickets. About two hundred persons were in attendance and contract and other games were played. Mrs. P. T. Stonemetz, assisted by Miss Dow and Miss Welch, was responsible for the collection of prizes, all donated. These were many and varied, one of the most attractive being a silk patch-work quilt. Ice cream and cake were served under the direction of Mrs. George Henry and Mrs. William M. Broad. Mrs. Clarke Bristol took charge of furnishing and transporting tables and chairs for the afternoon. The last regular meeting of the association will be held on the afternoon of May 8th, at 3:30 o'clock. Annual reports will be presented and there will be an entertainment by the children. The kindergarten orchestra will play. Refreshments will be served.

ALICIA KELLEHER DANCE REVUE

Miss Alicia Kelleher and the pupils of the Alicia Kelleher School of Dancing will present their 7th annual dance revue at the high school auditorium on Common st., Watertown, on Friday, May 10, at 8 o'clock. Many of Miss Kelleher's Newton pupils will participate. These revues have always merited well deserved praise for the way in which the pupils have interpreted the different dances.

Rotary Club

Superintendent of Schools Julius Warren addressed his fellow Rotarians on Monday on some educational problems. "Education is suffering from certain pressure blocs in America today," he said. "Well organized minorities are getting things to which they are not entitled in a democratic society." First, according to Mr. Warren, is the selection of teachers frequently purely for economic reasons and not for proved efficiency. Religion and race, too, unfortunately enter into the situation. Secondly, there is the menace of eliminating first-class textbooks to please special interests. The speaker told of some ridiculous happenings in nearby towns to illustrate his point, laughable if they were not so serious in their consequences. This sort of thing is in line with the requirements of teachers' oaths in these times. Then, in the third place, there is the reduction in the school budget in the face of an increase in the school population. This is, of course, aside from certain inevitable economics which every School Committee is glad to practice. What we really need in this connection is an intelligent study of taxation. Finally, we must overcome the spirit of provincialism and a certain foolish local pride. We must realize the interdependence of the whole country. "Who will be our future Newton citizens?" Mr. Warren asked. "Most of the children now in Newton schools will scatter to other communities and others will take their place. We want these young people to have had the same advantages that we are now giving to our own pupils. If they are to be our future fellow citizens. We must, therefore, look beyond our own immediate environment and be interested in country-wide education."

In conclusion, Superintendent Warren spoke of the fact that Newton had thus far escaped the menaces he had outlined and how happy he was to work here under such favorable auspices. Let us jealously guard what we have and constantly be on the alert to improve conditions. There were a dozen guests present, most of them members of other Rotary Clubs. The next meeting will be on Tuesday, May 7th, instead of on Monday, when the Rotary-Annus will be guests.

To Present Comedy at Newton Highlands

Next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, May 8th and 9th, "Tons of Money," a three-act farce-comedy, will be presented in St. Paul's Parish House, Newton Highlands. A very excellent cast has been assembled for this hilarious play, including Virginia Valorie Gilbert and Robert Allingham in leading roles. They will be supported by a group including Elsie Blanchard, Dorothy French, Ernest Braithwaite, Emery Leonard, John Allen, Alan Small, Summer Smith and Dorothy Oddard. As the title would indicate, the plot deals with the trials of a family in their mad scramble to share in a fortune left by a relative. It was one of the most successful farces produced in New York in recent years. Harry Tomlinson, well known in South side dramatic circles, is staging the production. Others active in the production include Herbert N. Odell, and Mal Cummings, on stage; Ruth Small, Polly Leonard, Martha Benson and Ethel Odell, on properties; William Newby and Edgar Swail, as ushers. This is the last public performance this season.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

This week has been full of interesting events, including talks by Dr. Alonzo J. Shadman, Chief Surgeon and Director of the Forest Hills Hospital, on Free Hospitalization and by Mr. Isaac Kibrick of Brockton on Hitler's "My Battle." There was also a recital by the nine-year-old violinist, Charles Petromont, who is a pupil of Miss Anna Elchhorn. A group of boys from Caney Creek told of conditions in the Kentucky mountains. Students are very active in outdoor sports preparing events for field day, practicing for tennis tournaments and canoeing on the Charles in anticipation of the canoe races, which are scheduled for May twenty-ninth. The Geology and Biology classes are taking frequent field and collecting trips.

Community Playhouse At Wellesley Announces Films

Taken from the well known novel of the same name by the anonymous Elizabeth, "Enchanted April" proves quite as entertaining on the screen as it did in its original form and subsequence on the stage. Ann Harding offers a portrayal which if it does not add new laurels, surely maintains her in her enviable position. Then too there is Frank Morgan as the husband whom she prodded to fame to her ultimate regret. "Enchanted April," with Warner Baxter in "Hell in the Heavens" as second feature, completes an entertaining program to be seen at the Community Playhouse this weekend. "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer," conspicuously important among recent films, heads next week's program. Limitless praise has been given this British army story of India. Gary Cooper and Franchot Tone, in numerous reviews, have been credited with giving the finest performances in their respective successful careers. "Charlie Chan in Paris," the most recent film in this popular series, should prove an excellent choice for a second feature.

Y. M. C. A.

Annual Meeting

The Fifty-Eighth Annual Meeting and Banquet of the Newton Y. M. C. A. will be held on Monday, May 6th, at 6:30 p. m., in the assembly hall of the Association Building. Officers to be elected are eight Directors, two Trustees, one Treasurer and one Clerk. The guest speaker will be Mr. Roy E. Coombs, recently chosen State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Massachusetts and Rhode Island. There will be special music by the Newton ERA Orchestra. Mr. Fred A. Hawkins is chairman of the Nominating Committee and Mr. D. Webster Anders is chairman of the Committee on Arrangements. Any young men who are interested in the work of the Newton Y. M. C. A. are invited to attend.

Life Saving

Life Saving Classes are being attended regularly on Monday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p. m., at the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool. Marcell Johnson of Needham has already passed his test with eight more making steady progress toward the completion of the course. This course is open to any Y. M. C. A. member and is included in the special summer membership.

Baseball

Baseball practice started Saturday afternoon at the Newton Y. M. C. A. and will be held regularly now on Saturday afternoons and Wednesday evenings. A team has been entered in the Paul Revere League, which will start its schedule of games during the week of May 13th. Mr. Lewis C. Bills is again coaching the team this year. It is planned to enter a team in the Newton Twilight League also. If a large enough number come out, Mr. Jack Barwise will be in charge of this group. Last year the "Y" finished first in the Paul Revere League and second in the Newton League.

Free Swimming Campaign

The Annual Community Swimming Campaign which is held each year at the Newton Y. M. C. A. swimming pool will be held next week from May 6th to 11th inclusive. Although enrollment for the free swimming lessons, which are held each day of the campaign, comes principally from the schools of Newton and Watertown, boys nine years and up from other communities may register for the lessons.

Each year this event brings several hundred boys who cannot swim to the Newton "Y" for the free lessons, who are either taught to swim during the week, or who make a start. Last year 332 boys enrolled and 156 passed the swimming test at the end of the week. On this Saturday morning, May 4th, the boys report at the Newton "Y" at half past nine, with enrollment cards previously signed by their parents. At that time they will be inspected by a physician and then assigned to a definite period for each day of next week. The period will be in the afternoon after school, and will last a half-hour. During the week the depth of the water in the swimming pool is lowered so that it is not over four feet deep in any part. The instructor is Mr. Jack Manning of the Massachusetts Humane Society, who is completing his fifteenth year doing this work.

Discussion Group Known as "Prospectors" Is Formed

A new series of units in the young men's social and educational program known as "The Prospectors" is meeting with great success. It is a fraternity of business and professional men based upon the discussion-group idea. Companies A and B are already in operation and further groups are being formed. Under the confusing conditions prevailing in our times, intelligent study of current problems is proving a great aid to the members. Leaders elected thus far are: Company A — Walter M. Taylor, Chief; J. Ernest Gibson, Adjutant; C. A. P. Johnston, Recorder; Dr. Thomas Burns, Bursar. Company B — Richard H. Lee, Chief; Francis M. Tucker, Adjutant; Daniel Koughan, Recorder; Harry R. Pierson, Bursar.

THE VILLAGE PLAYERS

Can a woman be successful in business and love at the same time? This is the question that Miss Gladys Unger treats in her brilliant comedy to be presented by Village Players on the evenings of Friday and Saturday, May 17th and 18th at the Unitarian Parish Playhouse at Newton Centre.

The modernist setting for this play has been designed by Mrs. William C. Noetzel and is in process of construction in the Workshop by members under the direction of C. Rodrick Clifford. The cast will be announced later.

Mail Collector Fined $10.00

J. Joseph Buckley of 67 St. James street, Newton, was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday on a charge of speeding. Motorcycle Officer Hamill was the complainant. Buckley told Judge Allen he was speeding so as to get mail he had collected to the postoffice. Inspector King, who was prosecuting the case told the judge that Buckley had been previously warned about speeding. He was fined $10 and the fine was suspended.

Annual Dance Recital In Aid Of Stearns School Fund

Mary Stanley, the well known teacher of dancing in the Newtons gave her annual Pupils' Recital at the High School Auditorium on Tuesday evening last for the benefit of the Stearns School Fund. Various forms of the dance were artistically produced in solo and group numbers, all of which were charmingly costumed and lighted. Miss Stanley in "Tango Vaya Por Usted" and in "Enchantment," assisted by Norman Lloyd exhibited the charm and versatility which this fine dancer has so often before shown.

Outstanding solos were danced by Barbara Hastings, Patricia Hoover, Gwendolyn Guile, Betty Ann Bicknell, Joan and Diane Carper, and Nancy Ullenhaut; while among the group numbers those which were especially colorful and artistic were "One Happy Year," "Shenstrus," (a Scottish dance) "The Three Foxes," "In Sweden," and "Shadow."

Fine musical support was given by Mrs. Henry Stanley, pianist, and the Newton Symphony Orchestra under D. Ralph MacLean.

THE CAMPAIGN BEGINS

There was little doubt in the minds of the hundreds of Republicans who attended the regional conference meetings in Boston on Tuesday of this week that the time to open the presidential campaign of 1936 was at hand. Leading Republicans were present from all over New England and the enthusiasm and confidence expressed at the meetings is indicative that the G. O. P. is far from the oblivion predicted in the closing months of 1932. On the contrary there is a new spirit prevailing in the Republican ranks. There is the feeling that within the coming twelve months there will emerge from the strengthening ranks of Republicans a leader who will guide the party out of defeat to victory. Who that leader will be, is at the present time, uncertain. Until the time comes when it is necessary to choose the party's presidential candidate at the convention in June of 1936 there is plenty of work to be done. Already there have been various planks suggested for the party's platform, some of which undoubtedly will be adopted. Others may be rejected. The important fact is that the campaign has begun and there could be no more fitting place for the birth of the new party spirit to be voiced than here in Massachusetts, the cradle of American liberty.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

Next week is clean-up week in Newton. With the advent of springlike weather much activity has been noted in preparing gardens, lawns and the outside appearance of many Newton homes for the coming season. It is doubtful if there is any locality in the state where this activity is carried on to a greater extent than in the Newtons. It is one of the reasons that have given the city its title of the Garden City. A title which all true Newtonians are proud to have a share in the making. If you have not already begun be sure and start your clean-up work next week.

"Jean Lafitte told little enough about himself. But others told many, many tales about him. For this tall Frenchman was the kind of man that people talk about. He was mysterious. He spoke French and Spanish fluently and English nearly as well; he was known as a reader and keen critic of the books of the day. Yet no one could say exactly what his schooling had been, where his tastes had been cultivated. He had the typical Frenchman's love for fine foods and old wines, he dressed elegantly if quietly, he was a master of the delicate art of dueling. Yet the only background he told about was a background of hardship and adventure, one that would have been more understandable in a hardheaded sea captain than in a carefully groomed, soft-spoken gentleman."

Read more about this "gentleman smuggler" in Jean Lafitte, Gentleman Smuggler—Charnley.

"He read enormously, almost everything but fiction, for in those days, among sober-minded people the reading of fiction was looked upon and roundly condemned, both in kirk and home, as an idle habit and a wasting of good time. Probably he needed no fiction to stimulate his imagination or amuse him. There was geography. The study of that has always fed imagination, and in those days there were vast blank spaces marked "Unexplored" running across Asia, and Australia, and South America, and Africa. Over these he pondered wondering, speculating, and, like Bartholomew, always full of desire to 'see how places are.'"

This boy became a great explorer; an account of whose life is in David Livingstone, Explorer and Prophet—Finger.

"I came home last night, changed into some old clothes, and went to look up Bill. He works in the library (working through college) and when it closed we took a walk up to Paximosa. We talked about everything and everybody and discussed many problems of college life. It is the first time since I have been in college that I have really found a man who fits in the role of a friend and I hope that it may be a lasting friendship."

An idealistic young man; an account of whose brief life may be found in Larry; Thoughts of Youth—Foster.

"Good scholar though he was, Tom looked forward to the vacations he spent in Shadwell with keen eagerness. He was growing up into a tall youngster, loving exercise and the out-of-doors. This trait his father encouraged to the utmost first by his own example and exploits, and secondly by giving him a gun, a horse and much instruction in woodcraft. Tom's summers became one series of long excursions, on foot through the forest, on horse, or on the river in a boat."

Read Gene Listzky's fascinating biography of brilliant Thomas Jefferson, author of our Declaration of Independence.

"I kept a band of music on the front balcony and announced, 'Free Music for the Million.' People said, 'Well that Barnum is a liberal fellow to give us music for nothing,' and they flocked down to hear my outdoor free concerts. But I took pains to select and maintain the poorest band I could find—one whose discordant notes should drive the crowd into the Museum, out of earshot of my outside orchestra! Of course the music was poor. When people expect to get something for nothing, they are sure to be cheated and generally deserve to be. And so, no doubt, some of my outdoor patrons were sorely disappointed. But when they came inside and paid to be amused and instructed, I took care to see that they not only received the full worth of their money, but were more than satisfied."

Autos Collide At West Newton

Cars driven by John J. Harvey of Bronx, New York, and Charles T. Andrews of Belmont collided Friday night at 7.55 at Watertown street and Elliot ave., West Newton, and the car driven by Harvey, containing eight passengers, overturned. Several of those riding in it were injured. Leon Ober of 40 Woodbine st., Auburndale, received a fractured left shoulder; his wife, Mary Ober of 54 Ribbs fractured; Robert Rapp, 15, of 54 Woodbine st. had his right thumb broken; Douglas Ober, 17, and Margaret McIntosh of Dorchester received slight injuries.

Burning Torch Causes Alarm

A railroad signal torch which was left burning in a laboratory room on the second floor of the Central Railway Signal Building at 272 Centre st., Newton on Tuesday night produced a brilliant glare and caused Patrolman Walker to notify Engine 1 of the Fire Department. The firemen went to the building and extinguished the torch.

CLIFFORD HALL WALKER

By F. F. MEYER

Born: Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 20, 1882. Parents: Charles, Jeanie M. (Smith) Walker.

Prepared: Cambridge Latin School, Cambridge, Mass.

In College: 1900-1903. Degrees: A.B., 1903; LL.B., 1906.

Married: Edith A. Huntsman, Providence, R. I., June 1, 1914.

Children: Robert Randolph, May 1, 1915; Helen Carol, Dec. 10, 1916.

Occupation: Lawyer.

Addresses: (home) 711 Chestnut st., Waban, Mass.

Business Address: 50 Federal st., Boston, Mass.

"To be honest, to be kind, to earn a little and to spend a little less; to make upon the whole a family happier for his presence; to keep a few friends but these without capitulation. . . . That was Robert Louis Stevenson's prescription for happiness. Here's Walker's; and with this one goes the author's recommendation as "tried and true."

More than twenty-five years ago, Walker remembered saying to a classmate that he hoped some day he would find himself with a home in some small community near Boston, with a wife and children, and honest-to-goodness neighbors, and he enough of a part in the life of the community to feel that he counted for something in it. His ambition was not a high one, and what progress has been made towards it in these thirty years has not called for a high degree of effort or sacrifice, but represents a variety of experiences which are distinctly pleasant in the retrospect.

From 1903 to 1906 he studied law at the Harvard Law School. Those were pleasant years, bringing enduring and intimate friendships, which grew out of close association in the work of the school, the law club and the Law Review, of which he was an editor in 1906. After graduating from law school and admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1906, he spent a year in a law office in Boston, employed chiefly in drawing briefs, and assisting in appellate court work.

The following eight years of general practice with another Boston law firm, Carver & Wardner, of which he eventually became a partner. He had many good times in these years, partly because he handled many admirable cases, which are apt to be picturesque and entertaining. One I remember had to do with a whaling voyage in the far north, and partly because he tried considerable variety of cases in his state and federal courts and helped run several business enterprises that had fallen into difficulties. For about a year during this time he lived in New York City where he was engaged in a criminal trial of considerable public interest, involving the administration of one of the largest New York banks. In 1914 the opportunity came to Mr. Walker to become associated with the law firm of Ropes, Gray, Boyden and Perkins, in Boston.

In 1930 and '32 he was in charge of Ropes, Gray, Boyden and Perkins' office in Paris; also taking his entire family with him.

Mr. Walker is a trustee of the Union Church of Waban, also alderman of the Fifth Ward.

This story would not be complete if I failed to say something of the Walker family, whose companionship has been, and is, the happiest part of his life. As for Mrs. Walker, as far back as high school days was the one thought in Mr. Walker's mind that she would marry him. His son, Robert, is now attending Amherst College; daughter Helen is attending the May School in Boston. Mrs. Walker is very active in church affairs, also the Waban Women's Club board.

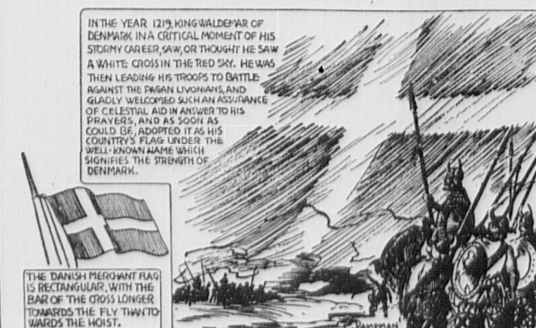

Clubs and Societies: Waban Neighborhood Club, Harvard Club of New York, Harvard Law School Association, American and Boston Bar Associations, Boston City Club, Boston Chamber of Commerce, National Tax Association, National Economic League, Newton Chamber of Commerce, Brookline Amateurs, Brae Burn Country Club.

ONE THING.... AND ANOTHER

Times Are Different

Old-timers are sometimes distressed because of the many changes that have taken place since the days of their youth. Now and then I have to check myself for fear of uttering an armchair comment, beginning, "When I was a boy—"

Still, things will persist in clinging to one's memory, including old rhymes and sayings, snatches of verse, etc. One of them that apparently has gone into the discard forever was the maidenly assertion, "Lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine."

Too Scared to Start

How often has some one said, possibly only to make conversation or to imply by subtle flattery, that mere labor alone will bring literary fame—how often, I repeat, have they asked, "Why don't you write a novel, you know so many interesting things?" Many scribes, like myself, reply, "I'd like to but I scarcely know how to begin." As if that were all.

Well, that stock answer is useless. All works of fiction these days have the same opening. Due to suits against publishers by persons who alleged authors had defamed them, the publishing firms are getting cagey. Some of them have had to pay enormous sums in damages. Therefore, every novel now starts off with, "The characters and situations in this work are wholly fictional and imaginative, and do not portray and are not intended to portray any actual persons or parties."

This imposing opening is too much for me. Furthermore, it gives me a reason for not engaging in my life's magnum opus. Asked why I haven't a great literary work underway, I now reply, "I'd like to but I'm afraid I might write something illegal and get my publisher into trouble."

Patience Plus

It won't surprise many persons to learn that professional interviewers are getting more and more persistent and persevering. Competition is one explanation. Fast work at high speed, another. Clamor of the public for knowledge of everything that's going on and all that sort of thing.

Well, here is a case where a man of prominence was asked to give his views on an important public matter. He wouldn't talk, but gave all reporters the cold shoulder. Wasn't to be "seen" at his office or his home.

Among the newspaper sleuths assigned to "cover" him was one who wouldn't take "No." He camped on the great man's trail. Days and days went by and it began to look like a hopeless quest. At last, to everybody's astonishment, the determined and tenacious one "got his man." Result—a fine interview and much praise from his boss.

"How did you ever land him?" the reporter was asked.

"Got him when he was down and out—almost."

"Don't understand you," said the managing editor. "Explain."

"Well, I sat on his doorstep until he got groggy falling over me."

"Ghost" at the Typewriter

"Ghost writers," as far as published magazine articles are concerned, seem to have flitted from the picture. Instead of finding something signed by a man or woman who could never have written it, we see it headed, "By I. M. Famous as Told to S. Scribbler." At last we get frankness instead of pretence. Plainly the noted person has told his or her story to a facile writer and the latter has dressed it up in such a way as to make excellent reading. But for years we were asked to believe that one man or woman had not only achieved fame through an act of heroism or ingenuity but had sat down and put the whole thing on paper.

I doubt, however, if ghost writing has gone forever. We'll still encounter examples of it and, being wise in our day and generation, will understand. There remains the problem of speeches. You'll hear or read addresses supposed to have been conceived and delivered by the same individual when as a matter of fact it was written by an unknown or at least an unidentified employee. Perfectly all right, too, as it gives employment to brains and is a big help to many a "stuffed-shirt."

Never shall I forget the daring of a fellow newspaperman. He always resented deceit and never missed a chance to express his contempt for it. When a certain statesman issued an historical statement that received a wide reading, my colleague sent his paper this comment: "The statement was interesting but was not up to the usual high standard of Mr. Soandso's secretary." The wisecrack never was printed.

Pussy in the Well

Several requests for animal stories have come to me from time to time. In an effort to oblige I have tried to gather suitable material. Owners of pets I consulted offered little help. Gradually I became desperate. When about to send out an SOS I happened to enter an office building on Boylston street, Boston. There I came upon a Maltese cat who begs to be allowed to ride on the elevator.

Proof, if you demand it, will be forthcoming, providing, of course, postage is enclosed. I saw Pussy and watched her do her stuff. Whenever the urge comes, which is several times each day, she runs about the elevator operator's legs, purrs and meows until invited to hop in the "lift." Once aboard the cage she has a pleasant frolic until escorted out again.

Letters To The Editor

VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA

To the Editor,
Dear Sir:

It seems necessary to appeal to you in reference to a matter of importance relative to a drive being conducted to raise funds for the Volunteers of America.

The orders for this campaign consist of one pound of coffee, and one-half pound of tea obtained through telephone solicitation. It seems that an organization representing themselves as Volunteers are calling at the homes where we have received an order, and saying that there is no such thing going on. This results in a refusal of our order, and they collect some small donation. While I do not desire to thwart their objective, or antagonize anyone, yet I think the public should be acquainted with the fact that this drive is legitimate. The purpose of raising funds for Lake View Camp at Bridgewater, Mass., which is for the children who cannot get proper care during the summer months, and as a vacation under excellent conditions.

Very truly,
Mrs. H. PARKER MERRILL
Cambridge, Mass.

Miss Beach was also in the class of 1933 at Newton High School. She is a student in the School of English, and has been chosen as secretary of the English Club. Miss Beach recently played a leading role in the all-college production of "The First Mrs. Fruster," given at the Repertory Theatre, Boston, early in April. John D's Secret

WHEN John D. Rockefeller was asked the secret of making so much money he replied:

"Why, it's very simple. If your income is $30 a week, you save 10% of it. When your income gets to $60 a week, you save 20% of it. And when your income gets to be $120 a week, you save 50% of it."

He was treasurer of the Pomroy Home of Newton, a trustee of the Newton Savings Bank, and a member of Channing Church, Unitarian Laymen's League, Brae Burn Club, Eight O'Clock Club and Massachusetts Horticultural Society. AN APPRECIATION

Frederick W. Stone died at his home on Bellevue st. in Newton on Wednesday morning. He was 76 years old, a merchant whose office was in Boston at 61 Chatham st. in the market district. It was a family business in which he had succeeded his father. The office was an old-fashioned one, of the Boston of his times, and it suited him. He understood values of life, which are without time. He was an honest merchant and an upright man. To have seen him at his desk was to get an instant of another day. There was no ancient day in the presence of his mind, however. Without changing in himself, he was an equal member in any group.

He was a tall man, slender, spare of every habit except the one of thought. There was a warmth about his thought with regard to people, and they understood it, and were comfortable with him. Therefore, he had gathered friends, and he was seventy-six and so had gathered many. He did not change in his last years, and so was what one would ask of age. That he made the approach to old age intelligent should be his transcendent epitaph.

Because he proved the possibility of greatness in living, many affections came to him. They were deep and they will hold and mold the lives that knew him. He was a dear and charming man, with charity. He spoke deliberately when his humor and understanding told him it was time. He was not perturbed because he was sure and his foundations were there. There ought to be more like him, but there will not be except once in a great while. Science and progress do not make them: God does.

Weeks Jr. High

On Wednesday, April 24th, girls' color teams held their gym meet. The judges were Eunice Robinson, '32, Marjorie Bunker, '32, and Barbara Carriac, '33. Points were awarded each team in marching, apparatus work, tumbling, dancing, relay races, and basketball; and the results were announced as follows: 1st, Red, Captain Valia Ciccone, 350 points; 2nd, Blue, Captain Caroline Perry, 306 points; 3rd, Green, Captain Virginia Brown, 306 points; and 4th, Gold, Captain Natalie Phaneuf, 284 points.

The first baseball game of the season was played Thursday, April 25, when the Varsity met the Alumni. The first string men held the Alumni 3 to 1 until the seventh inning, when Coach MacConnell put in some of his second string players. The change enabled the Alumni to come from behind and top the Varsity by the close score of 4 to 3.

The Varsity tennis team was also defeated in its initial try last week when the High School Junior Varsity won the match 3 to 1.

The seventh grade dramatic club, the Amard Club, under the direction of Miss Chandonnet, presented a one-act play "Buried Treasure" at the May first assembly. The cast of characters included Rosalie Grow, Ingrid Johnson, Caroline Kenney, Eleanor Green, Rosalie Cohen, Ruth Dillingham, Dora Hetherston.

Day Jr. High School

This evening the annual spring concert of the F. A. Day Band and Orchestra will be presented. This represents the peak of the year in musical training and includes offerings from all the musical agencies of the school. In addition to the band, orchestra, and Glee Club, there will be solos, quartets, sextets. The Radio Club also has a surprise number as one of the special features.

The Day Broadcasting Club will again take to the air on May 7th from station WBZ on the "Newton School Days" program. The time has been changed to 9:45 a. m.

The tennis tournament is in full swing, with the first round nearly finished. The boys' tennis squad, directed by Mr. Addison Cowles, will play its first inter-school game at the Bigelow today.

Tuberculin tests were given at the school this week by Dr. Martin and Dr. Davenport who are in charge of such work for Middlesex County. Only those pupils whose parents had signified their willingness in writing were given the test. The work done along such lines should prove very valuable in the fight against tuberculosis.

This week's assembly was an all-student affair. The orchestra, with Doris Mergendahl conducting, played for the entrance and exit, and certainly did credit to Mr. Frank Tanner, the orchestra and band leader. The first number on the program was a demonstration by the Red Cross Home Nursing Club of the work done this year, under a Red Cross nurse, Miss Norcross. The girls illustrated how to make a sling and an eye bandage, and showed the steps in giving artificial respiration. The Girls' Variety Club sang and danced to the tune of "The Good Ship Lollypop." Further music was contributed by Shirley Huber, vocal soloist, and by Robert Hayes and Harold Chamberlin on their harmonicas. The Ninth Grade Dramatic Club held on the stage a typical rehearsal of a most amusing play that they are preparing with Charlotte Steltz as coach.

Warren Jr. High

May 10th is to be a gala date at Warren Junior High. A Pop Concert and Dance will be held amid a village scene in the school auditorium. A program full of interest and variety is scheduled to begin promptly at 8 o'clock and end in time to permit at least two hours of dancing before midnight.

As a result of a contest conducted last month the following girls have been chosen as drum majors and twirlers: Head Drum Major of Band, Mary Cameron; Assistant, Marjorie Millard; Head Twirler of Band, Eleanor Mayer; Assistant, Arlene Webster; Head Drum Major of Drum and Bugle Corps, Helen Ahern; Assistant, Mary Hurley; Head Twirler of Drum and Bugle Corps, Dorothy Cleveland; Assistant, Jeannette Joyce.

Mountaineers from the Caney Creek Community Center, Pippapass, Kentucky, entertained the students of Warren today with ballads, drama and an open forum. Caney Creek Community Center is the only means of education for people in that section of the Kentucky Mountains. It is a pioneer venture, and is supported almost entirely by gifts. At present it offers educational opportunities equivalent to the sophomore year at college.

The seventh grade held its first social today. A moving picture featuring Chic Sale in "The New Teacher" was viewed with enthusiasm. The entertainment was followed by dancing, with music by Bob Estes and his orchestra. The committee in charge of the social consisted of Ralph Burns, Edith Alexander and Mildred Baird.

279 students were given tuberculin tests at Warren this week. The work of the School clinic is to find the children who are infected and to give advice when necessary. No child was tested without parents' approval.

Spring and summer sports was the timely subject of last week's assembly for Junior I and II. Students participating were John Hay, Edgar Dunlap, Edward McIsaac, Robert Townsend, Donald Smith, William Burns, John Fernald, Brooks Heath, Kittridge Fisher and Annette Couchman. The orchestra played "Traumerie," "Andante" from the Surprise Symphony by Haydn, and "Our Cheer Leader."

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Seniors at Lasell Junior College "took their tables" at dinner on Tuesday evening, following an old Lasell custom. The Seniors are now privileged to sit together at table for the rest of the college year. This ceremony, formerly a battle royal between classes, has been converted into an occasion of dignity with President and Mrs. Winslow, the Dean and other officials of Lasell as their guests. The cap and gown-clad Seniors sang songs written for this event and the other students joined them in singing Lasell songs.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

To Celebrate 40th Anniversary

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will celebrate its fortieth anniversary on Monday, May 6th, at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock. Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, president of the Newton Federation in 1919-1920, will be the toastmistress, using as her theme, "Life Being at Forty." A birthday cake, with forty lighted candles will be cut by the retiring president of the Federation, Mrs. Charles Carter Willson. The luncheon artist will be the well-known opera star, Madame Marie Sundelius, who will give "Reminiscences of a Metropolitan Opera Star," illustrated musically by favorite Arias. Dolores Rodriguez will be the accompanist.

The Annual Meeting will open at 2 p. m., with reports, action on proposed amendments to the constitution, and election of officers. Noteworthy work performed by the Newton Federation during the last few years has been the handling of the annual Christmas Seal sale in Newton and charge of the Newton Clothing Chest.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, of Newtonville, who has achieved prominence as a lecturer before women's clubs of New England, and who was president of the Newton Federation from 1916 to 1919, will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Palmer's address, "Turning the Pages," is sure to provide not only history but humor and entertainment, as well as inspiration for future achievement.

Mrs. George G. Phipps, of Newton Highlands, the founder of the Newton Federation, will be the guest of honor. Although 93 years old Mrs. Phipps is very much interested in the women's clubs of Newton and is attending some of their spring festivities. Tickets for the luncheon may be obtained from Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, chairman of the Social committee, or from any member of her committee, before May 4th.

All clubwomen of Newton are invited especially to attend the afternoon meeting, if it may not be possible to be present at the luncheon. The entire program is in charge of Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg, Mrs. Wallace Wales, Mrs. Fred G. Sandford, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson and Mrs. H. S. Wells.

Scholarships Are Offered

Attention is called again to the following Scholarships available to daughters of club members in Newton or to Junior members of eligible age, among other club daughters of the State. One of these will be presented by the Garland School of Home-making, 409 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, and the other by the Danforth-Dunbar School, 2 Harvard street, Worcester.

To receive the Garland scholarship, the girl must furnish a transcript of her secondary school record and a statement from her principal or school superintendent. Her interests may include either domestic activities, interior decorating, costume designing, or domestic science. This is a two-year scholarship.

The Danforth-Dunbar School is offering a one-year scholarship to a high school graduate, who must write a letter stating why she is interested in applying. She must also submit references from four people who may be any of the following: her minister, her mother, the president of the Woman's Club of which her mother is a member, the chairman of the local Club American Home department, a club scout captain, a superintendent of schools, a principal, etc. This scholarship offers an education designed to follow a high-school or academy course, placing emphasis on woman's place in the world, the management of the home and family, and the true art of hospitality.

These Scholarships are offered to the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Schuyler Van Ness, State chairman of American Home, which department has the opportunity in charge, will be glad to give further details not later than May 25th. Her address is 102 Warren road, Framingham, or telephone Framingham 4711. Letters of application must be attested to by the club president as to eligibility of applicant.

As your Editor stated in this column of March 15th she recommends this opportunity to the attention of Juniors and of Club daughters with the hope that it will be secured by a Newton girl.

Entertaining Play At Newton Centre

The Club Chorus in co-operation with the Dramatic committee presented a most enjoyable program at the last monthly meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Friday, April 26th.

Mrs. Edward A. Estaver, a Club member, gave a violin solo, with Mrs. Kirtly Mather at the piano. The Club Chorus sang "Venezia" or "A Day in Venice," by Ethelbert Nevin, after which "It's a Woman's Privilege," a one-act comedy, written by Mahle Conklin Allyn, and coached by the Dramatic coach, Mrs. Donald C. Walsh, was staged. Mrs. Catherine Alvord as Mrs. Lewis, a charming Club woman, was well cast; Josephine Tyler as Margie Lewis, her daughter, excellently portrayed the modern daughter; Mrs. Jessie L. Hardy as Mrs. Robinson, a gushing lady; Mrs. Helen Noetzel as Mrs. Lawson, the minister's wife; Mrs. Marion F. Waterman as another modern woman;

Mrs. Alice B. Andrews as Cousin Mary, old-fashioned, dowdy, and unhappy; and Mrs. Harold R. Keller as Josephine, her unpleasant daughter, were all very well done. After seeing this portrayal one decides that after all the busy Clubwoman is a far better mother and wife than the stay-at-home housewife of past days.

Mrs. Kilsey Atticks and Mrs. Thomas S. Rowlett were hostesses for the social and coffee hour, with Mrs. Harry C. Gibson and Mrs. Harold Jenks pouring.

Annual Meetings

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The message of the president, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, stressed the necessity for unity and co-operation within the Club, and the need of a Federation consciousness, and an up-to-date acquaintance with National and World problems.

Mrs. Ralph H. Somers brought the Mikado to life with Mrs. Harry A. Hageman, Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, and Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite as the Three Little Maids from School.

The following officers were elected for the season of 1935-1936: President, Mrs. William G. Lennox; vice-presidents, Mrs. Fred T. Field and Mrs. Ralph H. Somers; recording secretary, Mrs. Steven B. After luncheon, Mrs. Fred A. Gay gave a delightful talk on her recent secretary, Mrs. Ralph H. Somers brought the Mikado to life with Mrs. Harry A. Hageman, Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, and Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite as the Three Little Maids from School.

The afternoon session opened at 2 p. m. The new Executive Board of the Newtonville Woman's Club will meet for the first time on May 8th, at 10 a. m., in the Directors' Room at the Club House.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club is proud and pleased to have as the guest speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Newton Federation, on May 6th, at the Brae Burn Country Club, a former president of the Newtonville Club, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer. Many of the members will avail themselves of this splendid opportunity to attend and hear Mrs. Palmer tell of the achievements of the Newton Federation during the past years and of the possibilities for the future. The afternoon session opens at 2 p. m.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The Annual Meeting and election of officers of the Community Service Club of West Newton was held at the Second Church on Wednesday, April 24th, drawing to a close fourteen years of friendly activity. At one o'clock Luncheon was served to 145 members and guests under the direction of Mrs. C. H. Lippincott, Miss Emma D. Coolidge, Women's Club's Editor, was one of the honored guests.

The business meeting began immediately after luncheon, the president, Mrs. Anstin H. Decatur, presiding. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Frank E. Winsor, Mrs. Kenneth C. Tiffin read the annual report, which gave a very full and appreciative account of the various activities of the Club and showed how much time and effort had been expended by the officers and members. It has been an unusually successful year, as has been evidenced by the large attendance at the meetings and the interest taken in the classes held under the supervision of the Club.

Among the entertainments have been a Fashion Show, Familiar Portraits, lectures by Cornelia James Cannon, Leonard Kraske, and Professor Anton de Haas, and a Concert by Jesus Maria Sanroma. In order to raise money for the treasury, three food sales and a card party were given. Twenty-six new members have been added, and the membership is now 285. The Club has contributed a total of $311.00 to the Community Chest, West Newton Library, the Civics Committee, and the Second Church.

A Budget committee, which has functioned effectively, was added this year. An amendment to the Constitution was passed whereby the dues were raised to three dollars, and each member was assessed ten cents to cover the per capita dues to the Newton Federation.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. George S. Fuller; vice-presidents, Mrs. William L. Butcher, Mrs. William M. Wise, Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown, Mrs. Benjamin G. Rae, Mrs. Leslie P. Phinney, Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles Gregg; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. O. Dales; treasurer, Mrs. Ethel P. Leach; clerk, Mrs. Clarence S. Marden; auditor, Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown; Federation delegates, Mrs. Kenneth C. Tiffin, Mrs. John Reed, and Mrs. William Crosby; and Nominating committee for 1936, Mrs. Ernest Dockstader, chairman; Mrs. Wilfred Tufts, Mrs. Harry S. Wells, Mrs. Edwin Rogers, and Mrs. Edwin Covel.

The Club Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Marion Kingsbury and accompanied by Mrs. Frank S. Tower, sang four beautiful selections, each with the atmosphere of spring, which gave much pleasure to all the members.

The following entertainment was also related to the spring season, as it was a talk on "Gardens of New England and Old Spain" by Harriette Patey Long, a graduate of the Cambridge School of Domestic and Landscape Architecture. The beautifully colored views inspired each one to enlarge or change her own garden and plantings.

Newton Community Club

The Annual Luncheon and Meeting of the Newton Community Club, which were held at Channing Church Parlor on Thursday, April 25th, brought to a close the 16th year of the Club's activities.

The business meeting opened at 11 a. m., and was conducted by the retiring president, Mrs. Steven Bayard Wilson. Reports of the officers and chairmen, although short, recorded a large amount of yearly work accomplished for the Club, and for philanthropy.

Mrs. Ralph Patterson, chairman of the Education committee, announced the awards of a $200.00 scholarship to Miss Regina Herlihy, of Charlesbank road, who is a member of the National Honor Society; and of a $100.00 scholarship to Miss Jean Waring, of Braemore road, who was awarded a scholarship last year, and whose excellent work as a Junior at Bates College is most gratifying to the Club.

The following officers were elected or re-elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Alfred H. Handley; first vice-president, Mrs. Marvin B. Perry; second vice-president, Mrs. Samuel N. Braham; third vice-president, Mrs. George Lincoln Parker; recording secretary, Mrs. A. Thomas Sundborg; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. M. Patterson; treasurer, Mrs. H. E. Colton, Mrs. Mason H. Stone, and Mrs. Arthur D. Weston.

At the close of her own report, Mrs. Wilson presented the gavel to the incoming president, Mrs. Alfred Handley, who gave a short speech of acceptance, and then adjourned the meeting.

One hundred and sixty-three of the club members and their friends enjoyed a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock, served by Mr. Sellar, caterer, assisted by Mrs. George Rawson, her social committee, and other members of the Club.

Following the luncheon, a decidedly entertaining program was presented by Miss Adele Neff, Mime de la Vie, assisted at the piano by Miss Marion Greene.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS LAND COURT

No. 2749
Middlesex, ss.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Respectfully represent Hubert G. Ripley and Maude A. Ripley, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; that they are respectively two owners of two certain lots of land with the buildings thereon, situate in that part of Newton called Newtonville, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

First, owned by Maude A. Ripley, bounded: southerly by Otis street 222.50 feet; westerly by land of Hubert G. Ripley and land of Brown 150.00 feet; northwesterly by Brown 3.60 feet; northerly by Birch Hill road by curved lines 92.04 feet; north-easterly and northerly on two lines the second parcel herein described by 72.88 feet and 87.46 feet; easterly by 72.88 feet and 87.46 feet; and easterly by land formerly of Estabrook 102.90 feet; Second, owned by Hubert G. Ripley, bounded: westerly by Birch Hill road by a curved line 61 feet; northerly by land late of Clara S. Pulsifer 121.81 feet; easterly by land late of Estabrook 84 feet; southerly and southwesterly by the first parcel on two lines 87.46 feet and 72.88 feet.

Not to be properly described, said lots of land is clouded by a mortgage given by Alfred Schoff, to Timothy H. Carter, dated August 24, 1872, and duly recorded Book 1242, Page 169, (the petitioners' lots being parcels of the tract so mortgaged) purporting to secure a note for $3564.40, payable August 24, 1874, with interest semi-annually, which mortgage on January 10, 1873, was assigned as collateral security by Timothy H. Carter to David Elliot (otherwise called David Elliot) by an instrument duly recorded Book 1244 page 307, and again was assigned by said Carter to Royal M. Pulsifer, then the owner of the equity of redemption, by an instrument duly recorded May 3, 1875, book 1346 page 647, but no reassignment thereof from said Elliot to said Carter appears of record, and said mortgage appears not to be properly or legally discharged of record.

WHEREFORE your petitioners pray that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20 of the Acts of 1924.

HUBERT A. RIPLEY,
MAUDE A. RIPLEY.

which were enacted with some pathos and with a great deal of delightful comedy, won a heart response from Miss Neff's audience. Her clever character impersonations of "Four Girls in a Casting Manager's Office," "A Week-end on a Long Island Estate," "Mrs. Hetherford's Art Exhibit," (as reviewed by her maid), and a "Gentleman's Conception of a Woman's Club" caused much laughter. "Mrs. Hetherford's Maid at the Movies," was a study in facial expression and in humorous pantomime. In a more serious vein was a satire on the modern girl, entitled "Adolescence," and giving the outlook of three generations, the girl, her mother, and her grandmother.

Miss Neff, a versatile artist, writes, as well as acts, her own parts.

Miss Greene furnished entr'acte music. Her selections, which were very pleasing, were "Whims," by Schumann, and "Valse Caprice," by Frank Bridge.

—Mr. Bauckman said the Oak Hill program is not overambitious. Its first demand is for a new school and the cost of this can be spread over a long period of years. He asserted that many properties in Oak Hill are overassessed, and he said that Oak Hill should get its proportionate share of the city's expenditures. Mr. Trefry, reporting for the safety committee, explained the police protection given to Oak Hill and told of instructions given by Chief Randlett regarding citizens familiarizing themselves with the location of fire alarm boxes.

—While we are on the subject of Newton residents being awakened during the wee hours, mention might well be made of a practice which has become common in Newton in recent years—that of milk wagon drivers rearranging the cases and bottles in their wagons. Milkmen will stop their wagons alongside houses in thickly settled neighborhoods and awaken persons within a radius of 100 yards as they shift empty bottles and place them in the wooden cases. This work should be done in locations remote from dwellings.

—According to an announcement made yesterday by State Commissioner of Public Works Callahan, a new State superhighway will be under construction this summer between Worcester and Uxbridge, 17 miles in length to connect with a Rhode Island highway leading to Providence. It will cost $2,000,000. The State is now completing a new highway between Cambridge and Concord. A couple of years ago the so-called circumferential highway was built between Needham and Canton. All these new expensive highways are over largely undeveloped territory; land which will not lend itself to development of much importance. And such State highways as Route 117 from Waltham to Lincoln, and its continuation—Route 126 from Lincoln to Concord, continue to remain narrow, with many dangerous curves. Highways which for years have been heavily travelled and which connect thickly settled communities. We believe, with many others, that highways such as Routes 117 and 126 ought to be widened and straightened before more expensive roads are built over wild, unsettled areas.

—Talking about highways—how much longer will many of Newton's streets remain uncleaned? It is now the month of May and the winter has been over for going on two months.

—The tribute to Frederick W. Stone in this issue of The GRAPHIC is well merited. A native and life-long resident of Newton, he loved and served this city. He was for five years a member of the Board of Aldermen, five years a member of the School Committee and active in civic and philanthropic affairs.

—How much of the $4,800,000,000 to be expended for relief will you get? Throughout this country are many thousands of persons who have been faring more than well through payments, salaries, allotments or some type of largess from the A. A. A. V. A. E. R. A. or other U. R. O. K's of the government. And we don't refer to those recipients of public aid who are without political influence and must undergo pauper humiliations to obtain $12 or less per week.

—One of the many stretches of street in Newton which has been in terrible condition for several years is Bellevue street from the summit of Mount Ida toward Centre street, Newton. The fact that this is a very steep grade is the more reason the street should be placed in proper condition.

—Mrs. Gerry Tuttle of Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., has returned to her home after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mercer of Erie ave.

—Ray Deary, Jr., of Concord, N. H., grandson of the late George Deary of Newton Highlands, was the winner of the "Stuart Cup" for best shooting in a DeMolay tourney recently concluded, with an average of 98.13. He will attend Northeastern College this fall.

—Mrs. James F. Cooper of 2 Kingston rd. opened her home on Thursday afternoon for a dessert bridge for the benefit of the D. A. R. Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter. There was a twenty minute talk on the "Points of 1935 Contract," given by Lucile DuPay which was greatly enjoyed. The affair was very successful both socially and financially.

Imp. Asso. Holds First Meeting

is up to the Board of Aldermen. Regarding billboards at Oak Hill, the Mayor said as the district is in a residence zone, there can be no billboards there. He said the Aldermen at their next meeting are to take up the matter of restricting billboards in this city. In reference to the cleaning of land bordering streets, the Mayor said that can't care for private land and the matter of expense must be kept in mind as regards cleaning streets. He explained that it has been the policy of the city to care for needs in developed sections before starting projects in undeveloped districts. He made this statement in connection with a request to widen Brookline street at Oak Hill. He commented that many streets in older sections of the city need repairing before streets in the newer sections can be improved. He said it will be many years before Newton's 300 miles of streets can be modernized. He reminded his audience that Newton has 10 villages to care for and "we must cut our pie as we have it."

—Mr. McIntyre in response to a request by President Mick explained the purpose of the Oak Hill Improvement Association. He said it is a collection of neighbors who are working for the betterment of Oak Hill and it is not to be used for political purposes or to antagonize the Mayor. Lewis Smith spoke briefly on the matter of the gravel pit off Winslow road which has been a source of bother to persons residing in the Brookline street section.

—Alderman McKay praised the new improvement association as a clearing house for matters affecting Oak Hill. He said that improvement associations are more effective than individual demands. Alderman Walker said that the Aldermen are pleased to see improvement associations started. He commented that the Aldermen are supposed to consider the needs of the city as a whole as well as the demands of their own wards. He advised his listeners to formulate their requests with reason and with due regard for the tax rate.

—Mr. Bauckman said the Oak Hill program is not overambitious. Its first demand is for a new school and the cost of this can be spread over a long period of years. He asserted that many properties in Oak Hill are overassessed, and he said that Oak Hill should get its proportionate share of the city's expenditures. Scout Jubilee Pageant Plans Progressing

Interesting Event Assured For May 17 at H. S. Stadium

Rehearsal of various episodes of the Silver Jubilee Pageant, which will be held on the evening of May 17 in the Newton High School Stadium, points to the most interesting event of its kind ever held in Greater Boston. Moreover, ticket sales assure an audience of well over 5000 persons, before which the Boy Scouts of Newton and Wellesley, numbering 1000, will perform. Many of the scenes were rehearsed with marked success last Saturday on the heights of the Lowell Avenue Playground, and others will have their preliminary performances in a full pageant rehearsal tomorrow afternoon in the High School Stadium.

Dress rehearsals will begin at 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening next week in final preparation for the actual event on Friday evening. Costumes, scenery, lighting and stunts to be performed are the most colorful and spectacular ever before attempted by boys in this section. Those directing the pageant declare that for "a big show" the performance next Friday night will outshine anything that has previously been staged here.

William V. M. Fawcett, of Newton, is director general of the pageant, and has planned and prepared many months for the various episodes. Mr. Fawcett is being assisted by William R. (Rod) Spiers, who is also the assistant executive of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America. Lyseom A. Bruce, Jr., who is scout executive of the Council, is acting as administrator of the various committees making arrangements for the production of the pageant.

The cub episode, in which the smaller boys will have a part, is directed by Douglas Francis of Newton Center, the council's director of the division of cubbing. Samuel Allison of Wellesley, Chairman of Troop 2 W Committee, is directing the games episode and Maxwell P. Cadde, Commissioner of the Viking District, which includes troops in West Newton and Auburn.

Ice Houses at Newton Centre To Be Razed

The partially destroyed ice houses at Crystal Lake, Newton Centre, which have been the source of so much controversy the past few years are being torn down. At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night an order was on the docket which was presented by the Claims & Rules Committee. This order asked the Board to adjudge the burned buildings a nuisance, to order their removal, and to set a date for a public hearing on May 20. When the order came before the Board, Alderman Holden moved that it be laid on the table as he had been informed that the Metropolitan Ice Company, owners of the buildings, had agreed to start at once to raze them. Workmen started on the razing process on Wednesday.

The buildings of tile and masonry construction were formerly used by the Crystal Lake Ice Company to store the ice cut on the lake. Several years ago the Crystal Lake Ice Company sold its business to the Metropolitan Ice Company which makes artificial ice. The buildings have since been idle, and since the fire they have been an eyesore. Petitions have been presented to the Board of Aldermen during the past few years asking that permits be granted at the property for a gasoline filling station, an automobile laundry and the storage of fuel oil. All these petitions were refused. Residents of Newton Centre and Newton Highlands have asked that the city buy the property and convert it into a park.

Baby Smothered At West Newton

Elizabeth Johnston, 6 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van B. Johnston of 95 Warwick rd., West Newton, was found dead in her crib on Sunday. Medical Examiner Gallagher reported that the infant had so turned her face while lying in the crib that she became suffocated. The baby's mother was the former Miss Kathryn Stuart of Newton Centre.

Aldermen Refuse Permits For Gas Stations

At the meeting of Monday the Board of Aldermen refused two petitions for permits to establish gasoline filling stations. One was that of Anna P. Delaney, who desired to obtain a permit for a filling station at the corner of Walnut and Floral sts. The other was that of the Newton Co-operative Bank, which sought to get a permit for a station at the southwest corner of California and Bridge sts., Nonantum.

Alderman Hill, as chairman of the Licenses Committee, reported adversely on the two petitions. He said that the locus of the proposed station at Newton Highlands is dangerous because of a blind approach over the railroad bridge, because the street is narrow there in proportion to the traffic, there is a bus terminal opposite and many children pass the site. Mr. Hill said there was opposition to the petition, and there are several gasoline stations within a short distance to serve public needs. Had Mrs. Delaney obtained the permit, the station would have been operated by one of the large gasoline companies.

Referring to the petition for the station at Bridge and California sts., Alderman Hill said that a number of home owners in the vicinity opposed it, there are other stations nearby to provide accommodations, and there is no need for a station at the place. Two downgrades are at the locus, it is surrounded by residences and the Planning Board has recommended that the zone be changed from manufacturing to private residence.

Martin Petition Referred to Com.

The Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night voted to refer back to the Claims & Rules Committee a petition from the Martin Manufacturing Company asking that the zoning ordinance be amended to permit bottling and rectifying in business districts. On motion of Alderman Guzzi the matter was taken from the table and put to a voice vote. Apparently the vote was close, but President Gordon ruled the affirmative vote was in the majority. Guzzi asked for a roll call vote to ascertain "Who's Who" on this question, but Gordon ruled that the motion had been carried.

Testimonial To Dr. Fred M. Lowe

Dr. Fred M. Lowe, who recently retired as city physician after 27 years service will be tendered a testimonial on Wednesday evening at Vernon Court Hotel, Newton. The affair is in charge of a committee headed by Roy Edwards, and other members of the committee include Dr. C. D. Ansley, Hugh Boyd, Dr. Frank Clark, Frank M. Grant, James P. Gallagher, Harry Hagemann, Rev. Raymond Lang, and Thomas R. White. About 150 will attend.

Aldermen Refuse To Pay Claims

Several claims for damages against the City of Newton were turned down by the Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night on recommendation of the Claims and Rules Committee and advice of the City Solicitor. Among the claims given leave to withdraw was that of Dorothy Lannon of 31 Mather street, Dorchester, who injured her arm when she fell on an icy sidewalk on Elm street, West Newton, on March 4. That date seemed to be unlucky in Newton for two other claims were for accidents occurring on March 4. On the night of that day Mary Greene of 46 Elm street, West Newton, slipped on a huge gob of green paint which was on the sidewalk at Washington and Elm streets, West Newton. She fell onto the paint, ruined her clothes and asked the city for $64 damages. The city solicitor ruled that there was no evidence that any employee of the city was responsible for the paint being on the sidewalk. Bart Sullivan of Medford was driving his car on Washington street, Newton, on March 4th when a tire chain on a city owned truck snapped and a link hurled through the windshield of Sullivan's car. City Solicitor Bartlett ruled that the city is not liable and the Aldermen concurred.

Charles W. Ryder of 525 Walnut street, Newtonville, asked for $175 damages to his home on June 2, 1934. The previous day employees of the water department had been working on the water pipe, plugged a safety valve in a tank at the attic of the house, caused the tank to overflow, damaging a ceiling, walls and rugs. The Aldermen were told that the employees of the Water Department took all reasonable precautions, so the city was adjudged not liable.

On January 23rd as Thomas Hoey of Cedar street, Newton Centre, was driving his car on Ward street, the universal joint on a big city owned truck broke, the truck skidded out of Mount Alvernia road, smashed into Hoey's car and caused damage to the extent of $111. On this case also City Solicitor Bartlett ruled that the city is not liable and the Aldermen concurred.

Alderman Cronin took exception. He said that even though the city might not legally be liable, it should not hide behind the law and evade the moral obligation. He asked his associates how they would feel if it was their own car which had been hit, urged them to act like Christians in the matter and not be unjust. Alderman Bowen said the Aldermen had to be bound by the opinion of the City Solicitor, and be governed by practice rather than actuated by kindness. The claim was refused.

Examination For School Physician

An examination for School Physician in the Newton School Department will be held on June 15. Applications must be filed by June 1st. The salary is $55 per month for 10 months each year.

Waltham Pastor Comes To Newton M. E. Church

At the close of the 139th session of the New England Annual Conference held in Lowell, Bishop Adna W. Leonard appointed pastors to the Methodist Episcopal Churches in Newton. Three of these pastors have been stationed in their respective churches for a period of seven or more years. Under the Methodist system for making appointments, when a change is desired by leaders as well as by the people and pastor of the local church, such a change can be made at a time other than the session of the Annual Conference. It has been found that at Conference time changes can be made to the best advantage of churches and pastors involved. The most desirable adjustment frequently calls for changes involving more than two churches and two pastors.

Dr. C. Oscar Ford came to the Methodist Episcopal Church at Newton last April, preached only several Sundays in his preconference appointment. During his previous pastorate in Winthrop, the beautiful Colonial edifice was dedicated. Dr. Ford was appointed by Bishop Leonard at Conference to the First M. E. Church, Lynn. Dr. Henry M. Lawrence moves from the church in Lynn on Common st. to Immanuel Church in Waltham, and Rev. William E. Gunter, after a five-year pastorate at Waltham, will be the new pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Newton.

Rev. William A. Gunter was born in Yorkshire, England, and came to this country when a child. He graduated from Tilton Academy, Tilton, New Hampshire; Clark University, Worcester, and he studied at Boston University. Before going to Waltham he held pastorates at Worcester and Chicopee. He is married and has two daughters.

Mr. Gunter is an able preacher, an active and successful leader. During the Conference in Lowell, several large churches expressed their desire to accept him as their pastor.

Lieut. Burke Retires From Fire Department

Lieut. Edward J. Burke of Engine 1, Newton Fire Department, has retired on a pension after 39 years service as a member of the department. He entered the department on January 1, 1896 and was promoted to Lieutenant in 1917. He served at Engine 2, West Newton, and Hose 8, Nonantum, before coming to Engine 1 at Newton Center. An expert painter, Lieut. Burke saved the department thousands of dollars during his long service by painting fire trucks and wagons in addition to his regular duties. He was tendered a testimonial at Engine 1 house on Monday night, and presented with a leather chair, an electric clock and a purse of money. Among the large number present were Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Chief Johnson of the Waltham Fire Department, Aldermen Atkins and Barrow, Mayor Weeks, who was unable to attend because of a previous engagement, sent a letter lauding the service of Lieut. Burke.

Charged With Drunken Driving

Howard W. Reilly of 6 University rd., Cambridge, was arrested late Sunday night by Patrolmen Davis and Slavin at Commonwealth ave. and Chestnut ter., Newton Centre, on the charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. His case will be tried on May 15.

In the Newton court on Monday Leo Polucci of Needham was fined $5 for not slowing down at a street intersection. John Wright and Norman Wright, brothers from Whitinsville, each was fined $10 for speeding. Patrolman Smith told the judge that both had disregarded a red traffic light on the Worcester turnpike.

Women Outnumber Men in Newton

According to the census recently taken in Newton there are 2300 more women over 20 years of age in this city than there are men over that age. The figures as compiled by the Board of Assessors show that on January 1 of this year there were 26,255 women residents of the city and 20,526 men. If these figures are correct, there should be more maiden ladies in the Newtons than bachelors. But, because the men have to pay a poll tax and women do not, possibly the names of some men were withheld for the purpose of evading the poll tax.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

TRACKMEN NOSE OUT BOSTON LATIN 39-38

With the outcome of the track meet last Wednesday at Newtonville depending on him, Ted Ladd ran a fast anchor leg in the 880-yard relay, holding off John "Red" Thompson of Boston Latin, and Newton won the meet, 39-38. Although the meet was not listed on the regular schedule, and came during the training for the Harvard interscholastic meet, every event was closely contested. Newton's captain, Warren Wittens, continued his brilliant work of last Saturday with a 20 ft. 11 in. effort in the broad jump, besides winning the 120-yard low hurdles in 14 2/5 seconds, equalling the school record. Wittens was the only double winner, and ran the first leg of the relay.

Bob Muther won the century dash for Newton in 10 3/5 seconds, while Ted Ladd took first in the 220 at 23 4/5. Charlie Center's third in the 220, and Kiley's third in a 53-second quarter-mile added points to the Newton score. Al Freeman won the half in 2 m. 10 s. Harry Feinman of Latin took the shotput at 50 ft. 6 3/4 in., trailed by Nat Heard and Mel Swig. The shot and the furlong were the only events in which Newton had two men in the scoring.

Bud Wittens Smashes Records

The Newton trackmen put in a good day at Worcester Polytech last Saturday, scoring 17 1/2 points in the W. P. I. interscholastics, taking third place behind Everett and Brookline. Warren Wittens was the top-notch individual star of the meet, making new records in the broad jump and the 220-yard low hurdles. He leaped 21 ft. 4 in. in the broad jump, two inches better than the mark hung up by Milton Green in 1931, and broke a three-year old record in winning the low hurdles from his chronic rivals, Hartman and Guthrie of Brookline and Underwood of Everett. His time over the lows was 25 2/5 s.

Other points for Newton at Worcester were picked up by Ted Ladd, with a third in the 220, Bob Kiley's third in the 440, Al Freeman's tie for third in the half-mile run, and Mel Swig's third in the shot and fourth in the discus. Newton got to the Harvard Stadium tomorrow with a fair chance of scoring among the leaders in the high school division of the university's interscholastic games. Bud Wittens will be favored to win his favorite events. Ted Ladd, Mel Swig and Nat Heard are all potential point-makers, while Allen Freeman is again the dark horse of the half-milers.

Escapes Bandit At Upper Falls

Late Saturday night as Bryant Burkhard, 21, of 1376 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, was driving his car on Needham st., Upper Falls, near the Saco-Lowell property, a man stepped in the path of the car and pointed a revolver at Burkhard. The latter swerved the car to avoid hitting the apparent bandit and speeded away. The police were notified but no trace of the gunman was found.

NEWTON'S EARLY LEAD BEATS COMMERCE 10-7

The Newton High baseball team gave their following an interesting but none-too-satisfying performance last Wednesday at Newtonville, subduing a ninth-inning rally by Commerce High of Boston to win 10-7. Newton began the game with first baseman, Jim Byrne pitching, and the ninth inning ended with the cocky Pete Morrison, regular catcher, retiring two Commerce batters with strikeouts. Newton had a six-hit, six-run eighth inning that would have provided color enough for any normal ball game, but the real climax came only when Morrison put aside his catching paraphernalia and ascended the mound with one out, three men on base, and quelled the Commerce rally in true Merriwell form.

Newton Used Five Pitchers

Newton's five pitchers allowed only five hits, none for extra bases, but gave 13 bases on balls, hit three batters and struck out five. Guido Castoldi, who goes ineligible this week, had the best single inning, fanning three Commerce batters in the second without wasting any pitches. Newton made thirteen hits, Simon, Byrne, Morrison, Spilman, Castoldi and Callanan each making one two-bagger, while everyone who batted hit safely at least once.

Robichaud had the Newton batters spellbound with an even mixture of curves and straight fast balls for three innings. The fourth began with Bosworth and Spilman striking out. Byrne singled, went to third on Morrison's double, and came home on Marrazzo's single. Laffie and Castoldi reached the bases on infield errors, with Morrison and Marrazzo scoring, to put Newton ahead 3-2.

Big Eighth Inning

Bullet Byrne started Newton off in the eighth, reaching first on an error, but was cut down at second by a fast play on Morrison's bunt. In the following plays, Marrazzo and Laffie singled, Castoldi and Callanan doubled, Simon and Bosworth singled, Spilman hit a sacrifice fly to left field, scoring Simon, and Byrne popped up to the catcher to end the inning.

Commerce made a slam-bang comeback in the ninth. Muldoon reached on Spilman's error, Casey walked, and both runners advanced on a passed ball. Byrne's pop foul was caught by Bert Marrazzo near first base, but Reid drew a walk, filling the bases. Sullivan pinch-hit for Hanafy, drew a strike, and was replaced by O'Connor, who took a Bosworth pitch in the back, forcing a run in. Connolly walked, forcing another run. John Reche went in to pitch, walked a man, and was replaced at once by the doughty Pete Morrison.

Morrison gave batter Powers three bad balls, then struck him out. Flodora, a pinch-hitter, singled cleanly to right field, scoring another run. Muldoon struck out to end the game. Callanan's unassisted double play at third stopped Commerce in the first inning, when the Boston team had one run and the makings of three more on the bases. Captain Spilman made one very fine assist from shortstop, although he had trouble with a couple of other ground balls. Bullet Byrne began the game pitching, played most of it in center field, and ended up on first base.

Newton Highlights

The Newton High baseball team got the short end of a 20-4 score in seven innings at Cambridge last Friday. After the first inning, when they made three runs, the Newtonians sat back and left the base running to Rindge Tech.

Newton had not played for a whole week, due to an error in drawing up the schedule. And it was raining during the whole game, but not enough to give Rindge a 16-run lead. Newton's crying need now is a pitcher who can throw three out of seven somewhere near the plate.

Golfers Lose

The high school golfers enjoyed a trip to the Salem Country Club yesterday, where they were defeated 5 1/2 to 3 1/2 by Swampscott High. The Newton boys reported that they had a fine match with the North Shore linksmen. Today the team plays host to Watertown, the team which beat them earlier this year, and they hope to turn the tables. Lexington defeated Newton 5-4 in a league match Monday at Lexington.

Bobby Hunter, Harvard golfer, is being spoken of as a long hitter by his teammates on the Brae Burn four-ball team. In a recent match, state champion Bill Blaney found that Hunter's drives were beating his own by twenty yards consistently.

Milton Green Again

Milton Green made fourteen points for Harvard against the Princeton track team last Saturday in the meet won 79 1/2 to 59 1/2 by Harvard. The former Newton High luminary won the low hurdles and the broad jump, placed second in the high hurdles and third in the 100 metres dash.

After the Harvard interscholastics tomorrow, the next two track meets on the Newton High schedule are at home. The Newton-Brookline date is the following Thursday, and the State Meet is scheduled for May 25, also on the Dickinson Stadium cinders.

Charity Horse Show

If the weather is good, the Newton Charity Horse Show will draw a crowd to the Newton Centre Play-ground tomorrow. Moving the event from the Walworth estate to the playground will open it to the general public more than it has been in the past. Beginning at 9:30 in the morning, the show is an all-day affair, and most of the horse lovers in Greater Boston are sure to be there.

Annual Meeting of Newton Centre Improvement Assn.

At a well-attended meeting of the Newton Centre Improvement Association held April 29th in the Newton Centre Women's clubhouse, the following officers were elected for the year 1935-1936:

President, Charles K. B. Nevin; vice-president, Edward O. Proctor; Secretary, Norman A. Hall; treasurer, Mrs. Madeline D. Patch; auditor, Frederic C. Rising; executive committee, Mrs. Helen W. Smith, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, Sydney B. Holden.

Following a brief review of the Association's activities for the past year, the most popular of which was apparently the purchase of an umbrella for the office on traffic duty at Langley road and Beacon street, the members took up various matters of current importance in the field of municipal zoning, notably with respect to bottling and distilling within the city limits, to which the Association recorded its opposition.

At the social period which followed, Mr. A. C. Shelton displayed a remarkable series of colored slides, taken from Boston all the way to the tip of the Gaspe Peninsula. His interesting talk on this little piece of France on the mainland of North America should account for a flood of new visitors this summer.

"Open House" at the Newton Hospital On Sunday

Sunday, May 12, National Hospital Day will be observed, in fitting commemoration of the birth of one whose patient fidelity to the sick poor and indelible influence among those who devoted themselves to her cause have changed the whole aspect of bedside care—Florence Nightingale, the mother of modern nursing.

The Newton Hospital will conduct "open house" in the afternoon between 2 and 4:30 o'clock, when the Superintendent and her staff will be pleased to welcome those who are interested in hospitals in general, and the Newton Hospital in particular. Guides will be placed at the disposal of those who may wish to inspect its splendid new building, which, in design and equipment, parallels the most modern hospitals.

In 1934 the Newton Hospital not only gave bedside care to a daily average of 163.85 patients, but it also conducted an Out-Patient Department to which 15,052 visits were made by those unable to afford a private physician.

The Laboratory staff made 35,729 tests during the year; and the X-ray Department treated 4,081 patients. The Dietary Department provided meals for 400 three times a day, or a total for the year of 438,000. The Special Diet Kitchen prepared an average of 20 special diets, totalling 2,190.

Unusual Program at Meeting Of Newton Welfare Bureau

After brief monthly reports, the May meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton Welfare Bureau was conducted by the Case Conference Committee, and appeal made to directors for suggestion and advice. The purpose of this meeting was double; first to make more definite to the Directors the character and seriousness of the continual procession of all manner of human needs which passes before the Conference Committee of the Welfare Bureau, financial care, "under care" cases, moral support, cases for which the Bureau has always stood, in "relief of the individual who is dependent, or sick, or out of adjustment with social environment." Secondly, to gain from the advice and balanced judgment of men and women who are not so constantly called upon to meet these varied, vital decisions.

Six cases of entire families—several of them far reaching, long-time studies, which have been serious problems to the Executive Secretary and the Staff were presented for discussion, as at a regular Conference. Other active cases, which involve only one or two individuals but are none the less important, received attention.

Newtonville Improvement Assn. Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Newtonville Improvement Association will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday, May 16th, at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville.

Reports of officers for the year will be read, and officers and members of the Executive Committee for the coming year will be elected.

The speaker of the evening will be Professor Floyd E. Armstrong of the Department of Economics, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who will give an illustrated talk, "An Economist Looks at the Orient."

Refreshments will be served after the meeting. All residents of Newton, whether or not members of the Association, are invited to attend.

Dramatic Club
Closes Season
With Comedy

"The Belle of Barcelona" on Thursday evening was the brilliant close of a remarkable season of the Newton Dramatic Club. The house was packed with an enthusiastic audience which applauded each of the excellent soloists and the chorus and dancers, and at the close gave an ovation to Mrs.

SYLVIA CHURCH PETTYS

Everett W. Varney who assembled the cast, coached and consummated the difficult task of a production of fifty people. She acknowledged in turn the co-operation of Hazel Sands Welch, Charles M. Clark and Gilbert Hampl who assisted in the dancing and musical work. Outstanding was the work of the two principals, Sylvia Church Pettys, soprano, and Ermond Lewis, tenor. Their finely trained voices in duets and separately were of a high order of singing and were a signal musical event in Newton's history. Mrs. Pettys has a soprano voice of clear vibrant resonance and a personality that immediately captivated the audience. Her striking entrance in scarlet Spanish shawl was arresting, and later, in a bridal dress, white mantilla and lily bouquet, she made a memorable picture.

Mr. Ermond Lewis sang with assurance and clarity. His tenor voice has been heard in Newton and has a large following. His carriage and fine acting commended him strongly to the audience. Earl Sanner, baritone, as the villain was another outstanding voice. A difficult role, he did excellently. Harry E. Moore as Spanish don, and James Waters, were other popular singers. Mention should be made of Bertram Moore as the comedian, Malone. His solo, "Woman Divine" was a great hit. Anne Morrow as Miss Ayres and Walter Morrow as the treader, were also fine, while Mrs. Forte did excellently as the senora.

Village Players To Present Full Length Drama

The Village Players will turn again to full-length drama for their next production, and will give "Ladies of Creation," by Gladys Unger, on the evenings of May 17 and 18, at 8 P.M. in the Unitarian Parish House, Newton Center.

Raymond Moore presented this play at the Court Theatre in 1931, with Chrystal Herne and Frank Munroe as leads. London was delighted with the delicious comedy Miss Unger had achieved.

It has found equal favor in other large cities, and the by no means an easy play to produce, should fare well with the Village Players, who are always willing to put endless work to a finished preparation.

A modern setting will be provided by the art Dept., under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Noetzel, for the play, a modern comedy in three acts, depicting the women in the business world. Action takes place in the private office of Sibyl Vandervlin, Inc., Interior Decorations, East Fifty Seventh st., New York.

The cast includes Wesley Dynes, Josephine Tyler, John Patterson, Verna Dynes, E. Irving Locke, Louise Hawks, Don Woods, Sydney Woodward, Marion Waterman.

Sons of American Legion

The Squadron have all plans prepared for a Penny Sale at Memorial Hall, Newton Centre, Friday evening, May 10th.

Gas Co. Employees Wearing

The new badge is square, with blue lettering on a yellow background. The design includes a blue gas flame beside the word "Gas" which is prominently displayed. The company name, Boston Consolidated Gas Company, is at the base, above the employee's identification number.

The badges are designed to be worn on the visored caps of the gas company workers.

Rotary Club

Tuesday was Ladies' Day at the Newton Rotary Club with a fine musical program as the main feature which followed the serving of the delicious lobster luncheon. Mr. Edward J. Bleau, baritone, and Mrs. M. H. Gulesian, composer-pianist, delighted all present. Mr. Bleau, accompanied by Mrs. Gulesian, sang "Sea Magic" (the words by Sears and the music by Mrs. Gulesian). Joyce Kilmer's "Trees," and "Eritu" from Verdi's "Masque Ball." For an encore Mr. Bleau chose "Morning" by Olea. No less appreciated by the audience were the piano solos played by Mrs. Gulesian, the "Liebestraum," by Liszt, and the "Spinning-wheel" of Rhene-Baton. The Club was indebted to Hassler Capron for arranging for this program.

A number of amusing cartoons of club members, done by the late Franklin Collier, when he gave an illustrated talk before the Newton Rotarians the past year, were auctioned off by Earl Johnson, chairman of the Good Cheer Committee, the proceeds going to the Good Cheer Fund. The next meeting will be a dinner meeting next Monday evening at 6:30 at the Braeburn, when the speaker and guest will be Dr. J. C. Bacon, Rotarian of New-Castle-on-Tyne, England. Dr. Bacon is a leading British clergyman, a Rotarian of long standing, a keen student of world affairs, and very active in youth movements in Europe. The annual spring conference of the 31st district will be held at the Quincy High School Auditorium, next Wednesday, May 15, at 10 a. m. A number of local Rotarians are planning to attend.

Annual Glee Club Prize Contest At Hartford

The New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs of which the Highland Glee Club of Newton is a member, is holding its Annual Contest and Concert again at Hartford in Bushnell Memorial Hall on May 11th. Last year the Highland Glee Club was awarded first prize.

For many weeks the various clubs have been rehearsing the prize song, as well as the choice song selected by each participant, in preparation for this important contest which will carry the coveted award for outstanding excellence in men's singing organizations in this section.

The Federation is composed of more than 30 member clubs, most of which will participate and will come from all parts of New England, nearly 1,000 strong in singing voices.

The Federation has been established fifteen years and has stimulated a keen interest in men's singing. Its membership is growing each year as new clubs are being added.

Excess funds obtained from the concert at Hartford will be used for the purpose of stimulating a further interest in music, especially on the part of young people in the smaller towns where facilities for musical education are not extensive.

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. held their regular evangelistic meeting at the home of Mrs. Sarah Jigger, Cross st., West Newton. Mrs. M. Stearns was the leader and took for her subject, "Mothers of Today." An interesting meeting was held. One special feature was the solos by Mrs. F. Wycoff, wife of Rev. Wycoff of Framingham, who sang with much expression and accompanied herself on the violin. After the meeting a social hour with refreshments was enjoyed. Mrs. Hannah Blair was assisting hostess.

Kiwanis Club

At the regular meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday, May 7, the members were privileged to hear Major E. Farnum Rockwood, Quartermaster in charge of supplies for the CCC Camps, with headquarters at Camp Devens. His area in New England includes some 30 camps of about 6000 young men. The Kiwanians were particularly interested to hear of the outfitting, feeding and taking care of these, in a way, "underprivileged" young men, men who have been unable to get work. The work of the men while in camp is under the direction of the Forestry Department, and many projects, visible to the motoring public, bespeak their value. Perhaps the greatest value stressed by the speaker was that CCC Camps such as these with their wholesome work and play activities tend to keep up the morals of the young men who may want to work but under present conditions are unable to find employment. A wage of $30 a month and "found," healthy work and recreation, splendid morale, boys in a worthy activity rather than on the streets, in the speaker's opinion, more than justified the government's expenditure.

THE JEWEL OF CONSISTENCY

A measure of psychology was used with considerable success in the House of Representatives this week when the Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles reported adversely upon over seventy petitions for various road and bridge projects throughout the state. There were some two to three hundred millions of dollars involved in the projects sought and the chief argument used by the committee was that it was impossible to undertake all projects. If a few projects were undertaken there was no reason for rejecting others as there was some merit in practically all of them from the viewpoint of the locality involved. Thus the lower branch of the State legislature was treated to the unusual spectacle of prompt and rapid action upon a large number of bills. One after the other attempts to put over one or another of the projects was overwhelmingly denied. Postponement, recommitment and other forms of delay were defeated just as decisively and no favoritism was shown. Yesterday, however, the House of Representatives reversed itself in principle and refused to accept the adverse reports of the Committee on Public Service on a dozen petitions to increase the salaries of various groups of employees in the State service. In one sense no favoritism was shown here, as action on all such bills was similar. On the other hand the bills singled out several groups of employees such as the state police, inspectors in the alcoholic beverages department, elevator operators, janitors and others while almost ninety percent of the 16,000 state employees would not be affected. Consistency—thou art a jewel.

MOTHER'S DAY

Sunday is Mother's Day. The observance of this day has come to mean a great deal since the custom was inaugurated some years ago. True it is that throughout the years reverence and affection for one's mother is everlasting but how seldom it is that we think of the mothers of other persons. Mother's Day is essentially not only a special day for mother in the singular person but it is a day for all mothers. The mothers of those leaders who founded the country, the mothers of those leaders who have struggled to preserve the country and the foundations upon which it rests, and the mothers who at the moment are striving to inculcate into the lives of their children the inspiration and character which will preserve the country for future posterity. And let us not forget those mothers whose children have strayed or fallen and those mothers whose heartaches and burdens sometimes seem too great to bear. On Sunday in honoring Mother spare a few minutes of thought and reverence for all Mothers as well as the one that is dearest of all.

CHARITY HORSE SHOW

The third annual Newton Charity Horse Show is scheduled for tomorrow at the Newton Centre Playground. Favorable weather will practically assure success of the event if other indications may be taken as a criterion. A larger entry list is one indication of the interest manifested by owners of horses. The necessity of increasing the number of boxes in order to accommodate the demand for box seats is another indication of the interest among horse lovers. And a third motive for interest in the affair is in the fact that proceeds will go to two most worthwhile organizations—the Mayor's Relief Committee and the Y. W. C. A. Undoubtedly the 1935 Newton Horse Show will be the finest and best and the committee is to be congratulated upon its diligent efforts.

What Is Spring?

Spring, as I view it, is more than one of the four seasons, more than three consecutive months arbitrarily designated and more than the period between the vernal equinox and the Summer solstice. It is a time for writing verse, composing epics, beating rugs, watching Nature's handiwork with growing things, washing windows, rambling in the woods, house-cleaning generally, day-dreaming, painting, putting Winter clothing in cedar chests and moth-proof bags, wondering if last year's straw hat will stand a cleaning, strolling in the moonlight and for worry over the price of a vacation. Spring is a time when we feel alive and often not much more, when we think about blood tonic, liver treatment, apple blossoms and love.

Surprise Awaits Him

School doors will soon be closed. A good many pupils are looking for "something to do this Summer" which will provide them gainful employment. One teacher tells me of a youth who has been proudly boasting to his classmates, "It's all fixed. I'm going to work this Summer." She adds that if he does any work it will be a new experience for him.

Not A Bad Idea

It suddenly struck me that I was sticking too close to the typewriter keyboard and some diversion might be beneficial. Thereupon I began wondering what it should be. Roller-skating? Hardly, as the sight of an adult making over the concrete in competition with kids might cause comment if not police interference.

Then I thought that if I could induce some of the youngsters to allow me to join in a game of marbles I would not only get the fun of the match but also those bending-over exercises said to be effective in reducing the size of one's girth. On reflection, it seemed so childish I abandoned the idea.

Of course there was bicycling, providing I obtained a bike, but if one has not ridden for some years it may be risky. I might find myself on the sidewalk and if so I could expect no mercy from the police, as I have been urging them for years to prevent bicycle riding on the sidewalks.

I did not want to do anything commonplace but rather something novel and interesting. At last it came to me. Knowing that it is getting fashionable and also good fun as well as good sense and no exertion required, I proceeded to the official place, seated myself in a comfortable chair, lighted a cigar, sat back and had my fingerprints recorded for identification purposes.

"Hickory, Dickory Dock"

One thing Daylight Saving does is to start nearly every family I know talking about watches and other timepieces. Most everywhere I hear something like a chorus, "What's the matter with clocks in this house? They all seem to be different."

Nothing inanimate has to put up with so much fault-finding as a clock. In spite of the fact it may be wound irregularly, seldom if ever oiled, shaken vigorously and no exertion required, it is knocked on the floor by accident or design and accused of stopping, slow, fast or even lying—in spite of such unfair and unkind treatment the clock keeps ticking and ticking.

Abuse is showered upon it but never is there a word of praise. It does its duty only to find people angry when it forces them to get up in the morning or reminds them to go to bed at night.

Until the occasion arrives to set clocks ahead an hour nobody has really considered the poor clock as regards condition. But as soon as the whole populace advances the hands sixty minutes, in compliance with the law, then every clock is under suspicion.

"My clock says so-and-so, what time is it by yours?" a voice cries from another room.

"O, mine is such-and-such and I think it's pretty near right, but I'm not sure," the answer comes.

"Then mine must be slow."

"Probably, but this one isn't much good and hasn't kept time since it was hit by the step-ladder and fell off."

"Mine is punk, too. Guess, I'll have to call up and have the man come and get them."

The scheme of Daylight Saving may have been inspired by a desire to conserve sunshine but I wouldn't wonder if manufacturers and repairers of clocks, watches, etc., may have had a hand in it.

On and Off

Sorry if I was rough two weeks ago in this column about second class mail, including samples, etc., addressed to "Householder" and "Patron," without name, street or number. Seems the whole thing is off, or will be, beginning July 1st under a more recent order of the Postmaster General. And just when I was looking forward to gifts of tooth paste, shaving cream and this, that and the other. Life has so many disappointments.

Knights Templar Parade Sunday

Over 6000 Knights Templar of Massachusetts and Rhode Island will parade at Providence on Sunday when 53 Commanderies and 30 bands and drum corps will participate. Excursion trains are to run from Boston and Worcester. During the parade drill squads will execute spectacular marching maneuvers. A large delegation from Gethsemane Commandery of Newtonville will take part in the parade.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edward H. Powers

The time is about here to plant the flower seeds in your gardens. And then try to keep your neighbors' dogs and cats out of the gardens. If the law requiring all dogs to be licensed was enforced, the dog population in Newton would be largely reduced. This law for years has been largely a joke. It specifies that every dog shall wear a collar to which the license number must be attached. Hundreds of dogs have been permitted to roam the streets of Newton (and the same is true of other cities) wearing no collars. The spread of rabies in late years is mostly due to the failure of police to enforce the law regarding the licensing of dogs.

The thousands of trees in Newton have been a big factor in making this city one of the most attractive residential communities in this country. It is poor economy, therefore, to stint on appropriating money for the care and protection of the large number of trees which line our streets. Particularly with the elms threatened with extinction not only from the ravages of the elm tree beetle, but now from the added menace of the Dutch elm disease which is moving toward New England from New York.

Residents of Ward 4 who are circulating and signing petitions to have the City of Newton repair Rumford avenue, a private way, are wasting their time and energy. In the first place the law does not permit the city to repair an unaccepted street. In the second place, there are scores of other unaccepted streets in Newton in just as bad condition as Rumford avenue; some of them in worse condition. And if the city repaired one unaccepted street it would have to repair the large number of other private ways or there would be some squawking. How fair it would be to property owners in this city who were heavily assessed to have their streets improved and accepted, to have Rumford avenue or any other private way improved and repaired without owners of adjoining properties paying the cost. Just because the Middlesex & Boston buses run over Rumford ave. doesn't change the law or the justice of the matter. A large percentage of the accepted streets in Newton are badly in need of repairs without agitation being started for the repair of unaccepted streets.

An autoist in a court not 1000 miles from here had his case placed on file this week when he gave the excuse that he was hurrying to a dentist to have a tooth treated when he passed another car on a dangerous curve. Well, there are physicians and chiropractors who also relieve pains in the stomach, abdomen, feet and other parts of the human body. It is easy to give an excuse but that doesn't lessen the danger to the great majority of persons who operate automobiles with due consideration for the safety of others.

More and more boys and girls are riding bicycles on streets. It is fortunate that more of these juvenile bicyclists are not killed or injured by automobiles the way that many of them (especially the boys) ride. They ride with utter disregard of traffic rules, swerve suddenly in front of cars, show off by disdaining to use the steering bar, and frequently carry a passenger on the frame of the bicycle. And the law which specifies that all bicycles operated on public highways after dark shall carry a light, is utterly disregarded by the police.

The Aldermen acted wisely in refusing on Monday night the petition of the Newton Co-operative Bank for a gasoline filling station at the corner of Bridge and California sts., Nantuxum. This corner is opposite a residential section and adjoins a residential section. The Newton Planning Board has properly recommended that this section be changed from a manufacturing to a residence zone and the Aldermen should adopt the recommendation without undue delay.

Furniture trucks and vans, coal trucks and other large trucks which are loaded and emptied from the rear, should also have bodies that could be loaded and emptied from the side. This would make it unnecessary for such large vehicles to be backed up to curbs, obstructing traffic on streets.

The new representatives to the Legislature from Watertown are trying to make a hit with their constituents by having legislation passed which will cause a beach and bath house to be built on the Charles River at Watertown above the dam which is located alongside the old paper mill site. And this beach and bath house would be made at the expense of the Metropolitan District, which means that the people of Newton would be taxed for this bathing place. How unselfish of Watertown to want taxpayers of other cities and towns to pay for an additional bathing beach when Watertown already has a bathing beach and bath house on a Metropolitan District reservation. And the argument that this new bathing place is needed because the Charles River below the dam is polluted is amusing. Because we who have lived in this vicinity all our lives know the Charles River is polluted above the dam at Watertown as well as below the dam.

We agree with Alderman Cronin that it is "small stuff" on the part of the city to refuse to pay such a claim as that presented by Thomas Hoey of Newton Centre whose car was damaged to the extent of $111 when a city owned truck skidded into it. The writer served for two years on the Claims and Rules Committee of the Aldermen, voted against his ideas of real justice against the payment of certain claims on the advice of the City Solicitor, and also voted in the minority for the payment of some claims which were granted by the Aldermen. The City of Newton has lost out during the past couple of years several times when claimants who were turned down by the Aldermen took their claims into court. It will lose out in other cases if the too arbitrary attitude practised in the past will be continued. We don't approve of the city being mulcted by unfair claims, but there has been a tendency toward unfairness in past years on the part of the city as regards many just claims.

Aldermen Refuse Change of Pole Ownership on Ave.

The Newton Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Monday night refused a petition entered by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company and the Edison Company asking for the change of ownership from the former company to the latter of 316 poles located along the reservation in the center of Commonwealth avenue. Alderman Hill, chairman of the Licenses Committee explained that this committee had reported against the petition because the Middlesex & Boston Company had agreed when it abandoned its electric car service that it would remove the rails and ties, and also the poles and wires. The poles, located as they are, in the center of the avenue, are quite unsightly and their removal will greatly improve the appearance of Newton's most attractive highway.

Annual Meetings

West Newton Women's Educational ClubThe Annual Meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club was held on Friday, April 26th, at the Brae Burn Country Club, with the retiring president, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, presiding. Luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock in the large dining hall where the many tables were decorated with spring flowers and dainty favors in pastel shades which harmonized with the beautiful centerpieces.After the luncheon the regular business meeting was held and Mrs. Hay introduced the guests of honor, Mrs.
John R. Capron and Mrs. Charles C.
Willson, both of whom spoke very graciously of the Club and of its president and of the many achievements of the Club during the past two years.
Mrs. Hay then presented to the Club the new president of the Juniors, Miss Doris Coan, who was also a guest of honor.A report of the year's work was read by the recording secretary, Mrs.
D. Webster Anders, who enumerated the various philanthropies in which the Club had been interested and to which it had given generously during the year. Among these were the Reformatory for Women at Framingham,
the Memorial Library, the Milk Fund,
the Community Chest, Scholarships and many others.The entertainer for the afternoon, Margaret Lamprell Buren, is a well-known radio artist and a versatile reader and monologist. Her interpretation of the one-act play "The Prince of Court Painters" was especially fine.The following officers were elected for the year 1935-1936: President, Mrs.
John Shade Franklin; first vice-president, Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader; second vice-president, Mrs. D. Webster

Board were present, and Mrs. Hay was presented with a beautiful silver salad bowl by the incoming president, Mrs. John S. Franklin, in behalf of the Board.

Newton Circle

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Circle, Inc., was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Marston, Newton Centre, on Friday, April 26th, at 10:30 a. m.
After the reading of the usual reports the large number of women present enjoyed the absorbingly interesting accounts of the work of the Junior Circle, Welcome House, Newton Welfare Bureau, Y. M. C. A. in its program of preventive activities, and of Mrs. Celia Wellman in her accounts of her court cases and of social service.The speaker of the morning, Major General Daniel Needham, presented in very clear terms the rise of the army of the underworld, its growth, and present flourishing condition.Officers elected to serve for the year 1935-1936 were: President, Mrs.
Frank A. Day, Jr.; vice-presidents,
Mrs. Elias B. Bishop, Mrs. Edwin P.
Brown, Mrs. William B. Emery, and Mrs. Charles L. Harrison; treasurer, Miss Ethel W. Todd; recording secretary, Mrs. Clinton C. Brown; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Chester Kepburndale. Lists of books which have cent years were discussed, with a view to selecting a program for next year.Miss Alice Ranlett was unable to be present to read selections from her stories and poems. Miss Ella B.

Smith read several short poems from Miss Ranlett's book entitled "Sands on the Shore." A social hour was refreshments were served.Officers for the coming year will be

Auburndale Review Club

On Tuesday, April 30th, the Review Club held its Annual Meeting at the "Crane and Kettle," Nobscot, a charming old-fashioned house attractively furnished. In its large living room with its cheery open fire, the president opened the meeting with cordial greetings to all. After the regular business was finished, Mrs. Albert Palmateer, the secretary, gave an excellent report of the year's work of the Club. The following officers were elected for 1935-36: President, Mrs. William P. DeWitt; vice-president, Mrs. Guy M. Winslow; secretary, Mrs. H. E. B. Case; treasurer, Mrs. Amos R. Wells; Executive

Guy M. Winslow, Mrs. H. E. B. Case,
Mrs. Amos R. Wells, Mrs. James G.
Patterson, Mrs. William N. Tenney,
Mrs. Thomas E. Young, and Mrs. E.
Sherman Chase.The outline of next year's program, with parts assigned, was presented by Mrs. Chase, chairman of the Program committee. The first two meetings will be devoted to "Newton" and the rest of the year to "Biography."Mrs. Winslow, Program chairman for the year just ended, thanked the members for their co-operation in making the year so enjoyable with their wonderful papers. She then introduced "Dame Boston," (Mrs. Walter R. Amesbury) in costume, who came to visit the Review Club, and who questioned nearby towns (members) for information as to events that had occurred during her 305 years. Newton (Mrs. Frank F. Davidson) knew the most, and gave a very rapid resume of the papers of the year on "Our Interesting Neighbor, Boston."This very clever and amusing skit was written by Mrs. Winslow.
Members then adjourned to the dining-room where luncheon was served. The long tables, daintily set, with flowers and attractive little Far-isian hats in all the pastel colors, having the name of each member on its long ribbon streamer, made a beautiful place card.Between courses, each member responded to the roll call with an anecdote.The meeting was brought to a close by the president with an invitation to a picnic at her summer home in Marblehead on May 14th.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

The Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club closed its sixteenth year on Monday evening, April 22nd, with a Banquet and business meeting at Seller's, in Wellesley.Mrs. Walter Evans, the retiring president of the Club, conducted the business meeting, which included reports from officers and from chairmen of committees, and she closed with her own report in which she expressed her deep appreciation for the privileges which she had enjoyed while in office. She then presented the incoming president, Mrs. Albert Proctor.The newly-elected officers of the Club are as follows: President, Mrs.
Albert Proctor; first vice-president,
Mrs. Henry Sharratt; second vice-president, Mrs. Ernest Burrows; recording secretary, Mrs. Harold Sydney; corresponding secretary,

William Dunham, who was re-elected;
auditor, Mrs. Wilfred Morton; director to serve for one year, Miss Nellie Osborne; and directors to serve for two years, Mrs. Raymond Cap-piano and Mrs. William Warren.The Club presented the retiring president with a spring bouquet and a State Federation pin. Mrs. Albert Proctor the incoming president, was presented with a bouquet of sweet peas, and Mrs. William Dunham, who has faithfully served the Club as treasurer for several years, was also presented with a spring bouquet.Transportation was furnished by private cars, Mrs. Robert McLaughlin being chairman of this courtesy.

State Federation

Swampscott and the New Ocean House will be the scene once more for the Annual Meeting of the State Federation. This year the Executive Board has chosen three days later in May than in the past, the 21st through the 23rd, and this should give more summers weather to enjoy this delightful shore country, the broad verandas and the balmy ocean breezes. One of the most appealing features of this location for the Convention is the fact that in the moments while the clubwomen are at the Hotel they can view, without loss of time in going to the shore, the blue of ocean and sky and the white clouds that make a constant picture for the eye, even as they walk through the foyer, or sit upon the veranda.As has been stated, the reading of Annual Reports by chairmen of committees will be omitted this year.
Instead there will be speakers upon many subjects, these to include writ-ters, professors, political editors, and those who have given attention to world affairs. Among these already announced are Herbert Agar, a Pulitzer Prize winner in 1934, author, historian, critic and editor, and a contrib-utor to political weeklies of Great Britain. Another in the newspaper world, is J. Frederick Essary, known as the "Dean of Washington correspondents," winner of the Chester D.
Pugsley Prize in 1932, and writer and speaker on current national problems.Professor E. Ray Hansen, of Canton, Ohio, whose study has been crime, will discuss "Government by Gang Land." Margaret Wells Wood will speak on "Growing Up In The World Today," and another presentation of the home as a topic of consideration will be given by Mary Sue Wigley on "Economic Problems of the Family."An innovation for the Annual Meeting—although similar revenue has been in vogue for the Youth Conferences of the past two years, and for the Mid-Winter Meeting in February, is the Registration Fee required of clubwomen, in a ruling approved by the State Executive Board. For attendance at sessions of the entire three days the Registration Fee is $1.00; and for a single day or session the fee is 50 cents. It is stated that this fee is inaugurated to meet the expense of providing speakers for "a more valuable and comprehensive program than has ever before been attempted at these annual conventions."

The boys ran for assistance to Edward Hickey and Mrs. Warren was carried to the rear porch of her home. Dr. Sherman was summoned and he called for assistance from the Fire Department. A crew from Ladder 1 responded. An inhalator was used on the woman and she was revived in about a half hour.

Newton Man Loses Suit Against Gas Company

On Monday the State Department of Public Utilities ruled against a petition of William F. Brennan of Waban Hill road, Chestnut Hill in which Mr. Brennan sought redress against the gas company on an alleged overcharge for gas. He stated that a representative of the gas company made a misrepresentation about the cost of gas for fuel when he induced Brennan to install a gas heater at his home. The Commissioners of Public Utilities ruled that the matter is one for the courts to decide. One of the commissioners, Abraham C. Webber, is a neighbor of Mr. Brennan on Waban Hill road.

Honor Dr. Lowe At Banquet

At Vernon Court Hotel on Wednesday evening about 100 prominent citizens of Newton gathered to pay honor to Dr. Fred M. Lowe of West Newton, who recently retired as City Physician of Newton after 27 years of service. The affair was arranged by a committee headed by Roy S. Edwards as chairman and Thomas R. White, secretary. The assemblage included men active in public, professional and business life of Newton, leaders of the medical profession in this city, many city officials and a number of Dr. Lowe's fellow members of the Newton Rotary Club.

Mr. Edwards officiated as toastmaster and seated with him at the head table were Mayor Weeks, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Hon. Arthur W. Hollis, Thomas W. White, Judge William F. Bacon, Frank L. Richardson, Dr. Frank R. Clark, Thomas R. White and the honored guest of the evening, Dr. Lowe. James Melcher led the community singing and Louis Haf-fenmehl was at the piano.

In opening the post-prandial program, Mr. Edwards emphasized the zeal for charitable works which has characterized Dr. Lowe's long career in this city. Thomas R. White read telegrams and letters from several friends of Dr. Lowe, who expressed their admiration for the guest of honor and their regret at being unable to attend. The senders included Leverett Salton-stall, Dr. Arthur Hudson, Dr. Francis G. Curtis, Rev. Herbert Hitchin and Alderman John Temperley.

The first speaker was Dr. Frank R. Clark who told of Dr. Lowe's long service as city physician and a member of the Newton Hospital staff. He said that Dr. Lowe has been sympathetic and typifies the old-type family physician, a type fast disappearing, men who were kind and resourceful. (Continued on Page 4)

Want Library Building in Newtonville

Imp. Assn. Takes Steps To Purchase Walnut St. Site

A new library in Newtonville, more adequate and more "befitting the intelligence of its people," was the project outlined by speakers before the annual meeting of the Newtonville Improvement Association, held last night at the Central Congregational Church. If the plans of the association go through successfully, a new library building will be erected on the site of the old Newton Club on Walnut street in Newtonville, a site considered ideal because of its nearness to the high school.

Mr. George W. Taylor, who was elected president for the year 1935-36, told the 200 members assembled that the library project was "the greatest challenge to our higher idealism" ever encountered by the association, and predicted that the proposed library would forestall "further inroads of commercialism into the residential and educational section of the community."

The retiring president, Mr. Charles B. Breed, stated that the Newtonville Improvement Association has already made definite efforts to obtain the Newton Club site for the library, and had made an appropriation of $500.00 to that end.

Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, president of the trustees of the Newton Free Library, said that Newtonville had need of a much larger branch library than any other village. The building of a new library has always brought about a sharp increase in the use of the branch, and the Newtonville branch has now distributes more books than any other. Newtonville has marked inferior provision for children, she said, compared to the branches at Newton Centre, Waban, West Newton and Auburndale.

The chairman of the school board, Mr. Walter Amesbury, stressed in his remarks the acute need of a large library branch near the high school. The high school library can accommodate only 90 of the school's 2600 pupils, with the result that research and self-education of the most valuable kind are restricted to upperclassmen and may be pursued only during special hours.

A forceful speaker for the library project was Julius E. Warren, superintendent of Newton schools, who ob-

Boy Scout Pageant At Newtonville Tonight To Be Splendid Spectacle

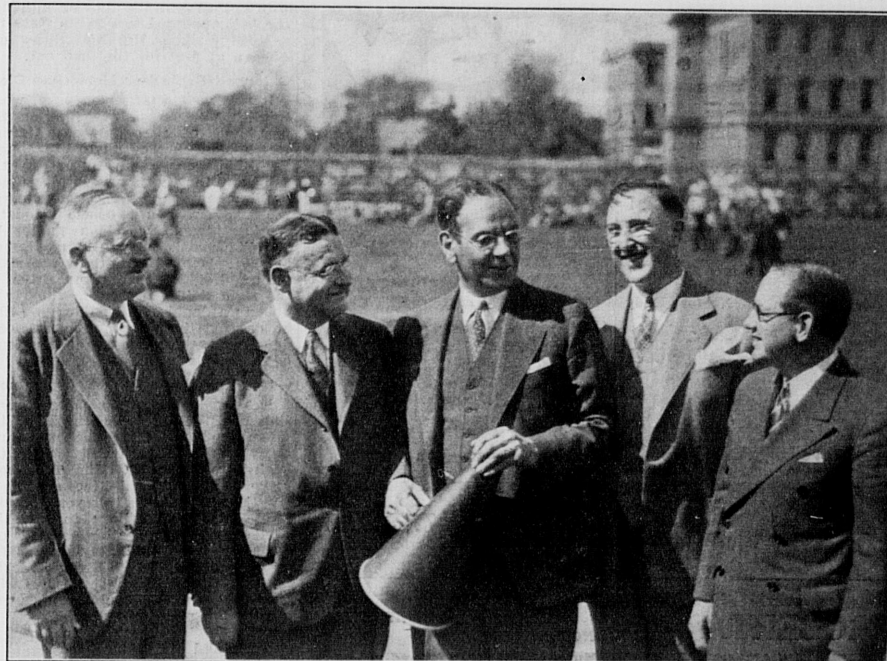

Over 1000 Boys Will Engage In Seven Episodes—Beautiful Lighting Effects and Newton Symphony Orchestra Among Many Attractions

Unless rain interferes, thousands of Newton and Wellesley residents will witness tonight in Dickinson Stadium, Newtonville, the finest Boy Scout presentation ever offered in New England, according to officers of the Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, under whose auspices the Silver Jubilee Pageant will be staged. More than one thousand boys will be in the cast and all of the seven episodes and the prologue have been in rehearsal for two months. The stadium is considered ideal for such an elaborate production. If it rains the pageant will be postponed until Saturday evening, or, if necessary, to Monday.

Title of the pageant, which is being directed by William V. M. Fawcett, is "The Scout Trail to Citizenship," and the final full dress rehearsal, which took place Wednesday night on the tree-bordered stage within the stadium, forecasts a colorful and spectacular performance. The public "age- tion" of a boy to the highest bidder, the Indian scene, the city of tents, an augmented troop meeting and a shipwreck, in which the regular Rockport crew of the U. S. Coast Guard will assist, are announced as chief features of a feature-filled show. Overtures and musical interludes will be played by the Newton Symphony Orchestra, D. Ralph MacLean, conducting.

DIRECTOR REPORTS "ALL SET" FOR SCOUT PAGEANT

Group of key men assisting in the presentation of the big Silver Jubilee Pageant, scheduled for tonight, are told by Director Fawcett that everything is ready. Left to right: Carlton S. Redmond, Scout Commissioner; John M. Bierer, member of Executive Board; William V. M. Fawcett, Pageant Director; Lyndon A. Bruce, Jr., Scout Executive and James Dempsey, Publicity chairman.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

BROOKLINE, ENGLISH DEFEAT NEWTON HIGH

A five-run rally in the fourteenth inning won for English High at Dickinson Field last Wednesday after the score was tied at 10-10 in the eighth. Newton had a 9-2 lead going into the seventh, but the English batters drew eight walks and three singles in the seventh and eighth innings to force the tying runs. Umpire Mooney had some bad moments at the plate. The tenth and tying run by English was allowed under voluble protest from the Newton bench and stands, as a swarm of spectators crowded around home plate.

Pete Morrison, fourth and last Newton pitcher, took the mound in the eighth inning when Bosworth and Tornabene had abdicated, leaving the bases loaded. Munichello walked, scoring Cromwell. Leahy stole home in a cloud of dust. Williams fled out and McPhail fanned. Then Haynes drew a walk on the same pitch on which Falvey stole home, although the ball appeared to cut the plate for a third strike. Morrison threw out Ahearn at first for the final out.

O'Connell Robbed on Home Run Clout. It was well after seven p. m. when English put across five runs in the first half of the fourteenth inning which Newton was unable to match. Bert Marrazzo came to bat in the third and fourth innings with two men on the bases and each time cleared the sacks with a two-base hit, later scoring himself on clean singles by "Squid" Coletti. Okie O'Connell, batting in place of Coletti in the sixth inning, lofted a home run drive to the right field scoreboard, which was held to a double by a field rule. Had he crossed the plate on that tremendous clout, the game might have ended in the ninth inning.

Newton Loses 5-2 At Brookline. Newton lost a good game to Brookline at Brookline Field last Monday when the home team put over three runs in the seventh and two in the eighth, winning 5-2. Jim Tornabene gave the best exhibition shown by any Newton pitcher this year, holding the Brookline artillery to six hits, striking out five, allowing but one base on balls, and staying the full eight innings. Sylvan Simon sparked in left field, pulling in seven flies without an error, and doubling up a runner at the plate on one occasion. At bat he hit safely twice in three attempts and stole four bases.

It was a wide-open game, and Umpire Doc Gautreaux had several toss-up decisions to make. Bill Spilman was out attempting to steal second base in the first inning, when the loose bag jumped away as he slid in. Bert Marrazzo tripled to left field in the fifth, then died at the plate when he failed to beat the throw-in on Tornabene's sacrifice fly, although it was apparent that catcher Sullivan did not put the ball on the runner.

Walsh Fans Ten. Pitcher Joe Walsh struck out ten Newton batters, gave five walks and seven hits. He put Brookline well ahead in the eighth with a three-base hit to left field, scoring Sullivan, and crossed the plate with their fifth run on Morrison's throw past third base. Brookline began scoring in the seventh inning as Liner and Sullivan singled, McPhee reached on Byrne's error, Holston and Richmond hit sacrifice flies, and Hoey singled, bringing in the third run.

Newton's first run came when Simon leading off in the first inning, walked, stole second, and went to third and home in wild throws by the Brookline pitcher and catcher. In the ninth, Captain Spilman hit a two-bagger to left field, then scored on Byrne's single, while Byrne was caught going into second. Morrison singled, but Marrazzo and Laffie struck out. Byrne had another bad lapse on the bases earlier, when he stretched a single into a triple, then was called out for failing to touch first base. Brookline's six hits went for 9 total bases, Newton's seven for ten.

WITTENS STAR IN TRACK MEETS WITH BROOKLINE

Warren "Bud" Wittens was Newton High's fair-haired boy in two track meets this week in which Newton nosed out Brookline 39-30. In the dual meet yesterday at Dickinson Field, Wittens ran the low hurdles in 14 1-5, equalling the state record, then won the broad jump at 20 ft. 5 1/2 in. and the 440-yard run in 52 seconds flat. Newton won the meet 39-33.

Last Saturday in the Harvard Interscholastic Wittens won his low hurdle event in 14 2-5, and the broad jump at 21 ft. 8 1/8 in., and was the only double winner in class B, and Ted Ladd in the 220, this performance gave Newton second place in the big meet. Everett High led class B with 25 points, Newton had 18 and Brookline, 16.

Brookline Meet Close. The dual meet yesterday was as close as Coach Don Enoch would care to have it. Wittens was a step behind Robin Hartman until the tenth flight in the low hurdles, but he pulled away from his Brookline rival with a great finish, and Tom Guthrie of Brookline was third.

Cohen evened the score with a clean victory in the century over Allen Freeman and Bob Muther in slow time, 10-3-5. The visitors had a 14-13 lead after the shotput, in which Charlie Kerins won from Nathaniel Heard and Mel Swig of Newton. Kerins, who took up the sport three years ago to build up a weak heart, tossed the ball 50 ft. 3 in., well ahead of Heard's good 46 ft. 2 1/2, a put that would have taken third place in the Harvard meet.

Wittens Repeats. Warren Wittens has been unbeaten in the hurdles and broad jump this year, but only a hand's breadth kept his record intact in the jump yesterday, as red-headed Tom Guthrie of Brookline did 20 ft. 2 in. on his final try, only 3 1/2 inches short of Bud's best effort. Al Freeman led by ten yards in a 2:06 3/5 half mile, as Anderson of Brookline nosed out Dick Bagley of Newton at the tape to get second. Johnson Quick, taped for a case of an-plant, was a good fourth, but plainly not in his best form.

Wittens took another fine race from Robin Hartman in winning the 440. He led all the way, and Hartman trailed him by five yards up the backstretch. Bob Kiley cleaned up the odd point.

Ted Ladd Again Wins. For the second time in two weeks Ted Ladd, Newton's slight sprinter, found the balance of power resting on him. Coming out of the high jump, which Hartman won at 5 ft. 10 in., from Joe Blair and Ross McLean, Brookline trailed by only five points. Ladd had to win the 220 or take second, and he decided to win, beating Cohen and Livingstone by a yard and a half in 22 4-5 seconds.

Newton Highlights

The committee of the Newton Charity Horse Show did a very fine job. They were fortunate in having perfect weather for their event last Saturday, and actually had a capacity attendance all afternoon.

Miss Nancy Johnson, a nine-year old Newtonian, won the riding competition for children eight to twelve, then repeated in the Good Hands class, in competition with boys and girls up to seventeen years. In the latter class, Nancy changed mounts at the request of the judge, as is customary, and won on a horse she had not previously ridden.

Helen Danforth's Lois Hamlin, the only entry in the class for fine harness horses, literally turned tail and fled after leaving the show ring, and was retrieved a few minutes later at the other end of the Newton Center Playground, on which the show was held. Incidentally, Lois Hamlin also won the class for five-gaited saddle horses, and had a right to a show of temperament.

Lasell Junior College will hold their annual field day and riding competition at the South Avenue Riding Club in Weston next Tuesday afternoon. Victor de Bellefroid, new riding master at the Saddle and Bridle Club of Weston, will be in charge.

Horseshoe Pitchers League. The Charlesbank Horseshoe Club, led by the 1934 champion and runner-up, Charles Blood and Albert Art, appear to be the favorites in the ten-team horseshoe league organized by the playground department. The Charlesbanks have twenty-six members and have built a concrete pitching layout of their own.

Interest in the park league is heightened by the offer of a trophy cup by a "prominent Newton Corner merchant," to be held for one year by each championship team, and won permanently by the first team to win it three times. Lists of players may be submitted at the next meeting of the league, 7 P. M., May 21, in the Newton Centre Playground building.

Twilight Baseball League. The Twi League has been joined by the Newton Catholic Club, who will be led by Bill Lansed, formerly of the Newton Y. M. C. A. Cliff Choquette, Our Lady's H. S. pitcher, who was with the Boy's Club last year, and Cap Coakley of the Newton City Club are now recruits to the Catholic Club.

The Twi League meets again on May 24 at 7:30 p. m. Eleven teams have already applied for admission to the league, and a colored team from West Newton, managed by Harry Gray, is due to apply. Before the season gets under way, ten teams will be weeded out to comprise the league.

Newton High Ball. Philip "Pete" Morrison started the game between English and Newton at

STATE TRACK CARNIVAL HERE NEXT SATURDAY

On Saturday, May 25, one week from tomorrow, the Massachusetts High School Athletic Association will hold its annual outdoor track and field meet at the Dickinson Stadium in Newtonville. An unprecedented entry list is expected, since this year's meet is the first since 1928 devoted entirely to the public high schools of the Commonwealth, and is the first state meet in fourteen years away from the Harvard Stadium.

The Newton High school track team, which has finished second or third in nearly every big interscholastic meet this year, renews its feud with the athletes of Everett and Brookline in its own back yard. The addition of the 880-yard relay race to the usual events adds considerable power to the Newton cause, since the Newton relay team was virtually undefeated during the indoor season.

Newton Location Perfect. The M. H. S. A. A. could not have made a better choice for their new location than the superb track and field layout at Newton High. The quarter-mile cinder track, one of the few in New England built with concrete curbing, has a wide 220-yard straightaway and is surrounded by acres of greensward.

The commodious shower and locker room facilities of the high school will hardly be taxed by the thirty-five or forty track teams who are expected to enter the meet. And not the least advantage of Dickinson Field is the fact that the Newtonville location lies on Route 128, hardly a mile from the Worcester turnpike.

Two Divisions. The high schools are segregated according to the strength of their track teams into classes A and B, and class B will precede class A in every running event on the program. The Newton track is equipped with two sets of jumping pits, so that it will be possible for both classes to run off their field events at the same time.

There is little doubt that the removal of the meet to a high school track, and the exclusion of private schools, will heighten public interest, which has faded somewhat in the past when private school entries have often overshadowed the public school performances. Of the field events, the first to be run off are the 12-lb. shotput and the running broad jump, at 1:30 in the afternoon, followed at 2:30 by the broad jump. The track events begin at 2 p. m. with the trial heats first base, took a fling at catching, and finished up pitching. In the four innings beginning with the ninth, Pete stopped every batter short of first base except for a base on balls in the ninth. Morrison is liable to be the starting pitcher against Cambridge Latin today at Dickinson Field in Newtonville.

Clarence Cormier, a sophomore, played at right field and at first base in his varsity debut Wednesday, and got away with a real shoestring catch near first. Another "rookie," Okie O'Connell, hit the longest ball to right field in many a game when he bounced a fly off the scoreboard in the sixth inning.

Refrigerator Gets Afire

Old fashioned ice chests have their disadvantages but, at least, the ice in them does not become overheated and cause a fire alarm. The family of George D. Hall, 30 Jane rd., Newton Centre, was awakened about 6:30 Saturday morning when smoke filled the house. Unable to discover any fire, they phoned to fire alarm headquarters. Engine 3 responded and the firemen found that the smoke was coming from an overheated motor in the electric refrigerator at the house.

Rev. Richard Cushing, director of the Propagation of the Faith Society will be the speaker of the evening. Rev. Gerald Fitzgerald, C. S. C., will also speak. An attractive musical program will be presented. Miss Mary E. Connelly, formerly of Newton, is in charge of the affair and she is being assisted by a large committee which includes a number of Newton residents.

Highland Glee Club Again Wins First Prize

In Competition With Twelve
New England Clubs

On Saturday, May 11th, the Highland Glee Club of Newton again won the first prize for the highest total of points in competition with 12 men's glee clubs from all over New England.

The contest was held Saturday afternoon at Hartford, Conn., and the prize was announced at the grand concert held in the evening, at Bushnell Memorial Hall.

This is the second year in succession in which the Highland Glee Club has won first place. Great credit is due D. Ralph Maclean, conductor of the Highland Glee Club, for the excellent work of the club necessary to win in competition with other clubs in its class. Mr. Maclean, as conductor of the winning club, was called on to lead the assembled clubs, nearly 1000 men, in singing the prize song, Elgar's "Yea, Cast Me from Heights of the Mountains."

D. RALPH MACLEAN
Director Highland Glee Club

It reflects a great credit to the city of Newton to have an organization of this high standing in musical circles competing successfully with some of the most important men's singing clubs in New England. By winning this coveted prize, the Highland Glee Club has closed a most successful season.

In addition to its many civic activities, it has had engagements not only in Newton but in other suburbs of Boston and its services have been much in demand. The club is at the peak of its membership, having averaged about 60 active members at each rehearsal. It is looking forward to next fall as the beginning of another successful year in its long history.

Annual Musical Field Day Of Newton Bands

The third annual musical field day of the bands and drum and bugle corps of the various Newton schools will be held next Tuesday afternoon. As in former years the program of music will be given on Claffin field, Newtonville, in front of the Dickinson stadium. A parade will open the afternoon's affair. In the event of inclement weather the Field Day will be postponed to Thursday afternoon, May 23rd.

The parade will form at the high school and will march at 2:30. The route to be followed is Elm rd. to Lowell ave., to Highland ave., to Walnut st., to Washington Park, to Park Place, to Cabot st., returning to Walnut st., and thence to the stadium. The order of the parade which will be headed by Chief of Police, Michael Hughes, will be the Grade School band, grade school drum and bugle corps, Weeks Junior High School band, Day Junior High School band, Warren Junior High School band, Warren Junior High School drum and bugle corps, and the High School band. A police detail under Sergeant Meehan will be on duty. No admission charge is made and an attendance of close to five thousand persons is anticipated.

Concluding the parade the bands will pass in review before the stadium where Mayor Weeks, other city officials, members of the school committee and invited guests will be seated in a reserved section. The bands and corps will be seated by units on the athletic field. Each band will give one concert number to be followed by two marches in which the entire ensemble will join. One of the feature numbers on the program which was written for the occasion by Charles R. Spaulding, director of instrumental music in the Newton schools, under whose direction the field day will be conducted. This selection, "Pussy Willows," from "Wildwood Suite," will be played by one hundred trombones, baritones, cornets and trumpets, and will be accompanied by the high school band. The last number on the program with approximately five hundred instruments playing will be featured by the baton twirling of about fifty drum majors.

The Grade School band, numbering more than forty pieces, will open the program with "Long, Long Ago." Members of this band, with but a very few exceptions, began instrumental playing last fall in the school classes. They are pupils in the sixth and lower grades. The Grade School drum and bugle corps is likewise comprised of first-year musicians. The Weeks band, A. D. Parker, director, will play a Southern novallette as the second number on the program and will be followed by the Day band, F. A. Tanner, director, playing "The Conqueror Overture." The Warren band, directed by C. F. Tower, will play "Corinthian Overture" and the High School band, directed by Mr. Spaulding, will play "Auf Wiedersehen." The two marches to be played by the combined bands will be "The Joy Riders" and "The Rifle Rangers." The finale marches will be "Triumph March" and "The Victor March."

The field day marks the opening of the spring season of music offered by the school bands. Plans are progressing for the annual outdoor concert given by the High School glee club, chorus, orchestra, and band which will take place at the high school on the evening of May 21st. June 7th has been scheduled for the annual glee club, orchestra, and band concert at the Warren Junior High School.

Selling Many Nash Cars In Newton

"Business is fine with us," is the enthusiastic answer to those who ask August Osterlund, Newton Nash dealer.

He says his company has sold twice as many new Nash and Lafayette automobiles this year as in the corresponding 1934 period, and that the first four months of this year are the largest in point of business done since 1930.

This is of particular local interest, being such definite evidence of a well defined upward business trend, he says, and of the ability of Newton motorists to participate in it.

The Newton establishment is in equally fine position among the thirty other Metropolitan Nash dealers, having taken third prize at the automobile show for the number of orders secured, as well as winning third place for themselves in March sales contest among this same dealer group, many of whom serve much larger communities than Newton.

The Osterlund organization has a fine service reputation, built up over a period of sixteen years. This, together with the high quality Nash line which they have to merchandise, is the combination always attractive to careful buyers.

NEWS FLASH—Muroc Lake, Cal., April 13—36 official A.A.A. records broken by a stock Hudson Eight. Top speed—over 93 miles an hour for five miles. Average speed—over 85 miles an hour for 1000 miles and beyond. A clean sweep of every record in its class up to and including 1000 miles and 3000 kilometers, and four unlimited class closed car records. Electrical timing correct to a millionth part of a second and every record certified by American Automobile Association.

Here's what it means to you. Probably you'll never care to drive a car five miles at 93 miles an hour. Yet, it means a lot to you to have a car that can go that fast—to shoot out of traffic tangles or flash you out ahead on the highway.

Isn't likely you'll want to drive a thousand-mile stretch at 85 miles an hour, but you do want a car with the fine engineering, power and ruggedness it takes to do this. Ordinary driving is no work at all for a car like this.

That's what it means to own a Hudson—smoother miles, more enjoyable miles—plus ruggedness and gasoline economy that make those miles cost less. You can see and drive an exact duplicate of this record-breaking Hudson Eight at any Hudson showroom. You can also see the complete list of these 36 new records, and scores of others held by Hudson-built cars. Take the wheel today and discover what this record-breaking performance means to you.

Camp Mary Day Plans For Coming Season

Registrations for Camp Mary Day are being received each day at the Newton Girl Scout Headquarters, and although there are still vacancies in each camp period, it would be wise to insure a vacation at this lovely camp by applying soon.

The camp, situated on Nonesuch Pond in Natick and Weston, is ideal for a "woods" vacation and the Newton Girl Scouts are fortunate in having such a spot for a camp so near the city.

Among the pointed cedars and feathery pines are three units in which the girls are grouped according to age and development. They are housed in cabins and wooden tents which have board floors well off the ground. There will be a counselor in charge of every five girls.

Camp Mary Day emphasizes the Outing in Scouting, stress being laid on nature lore, swimming, boating and canoeing. The Camp is run on the Patrol System, the girls helping to plan the program and doing all the Camp Kapers excepting the indoor cooking.

Miss Caroline L. Freeman, Local Director for the Newton Girl Scouts, will be the Camp Director again this season, with Miss Margaret E. Adams, the Newton Field Captain, as her assistant. A staff of enthusiastic and efficient young women will supervise all camp activities. Each has an appreciation of the out-of-doors and of the value of camp life. The health, safety and happiness of the campers is the first concern of the camp committee and staff.

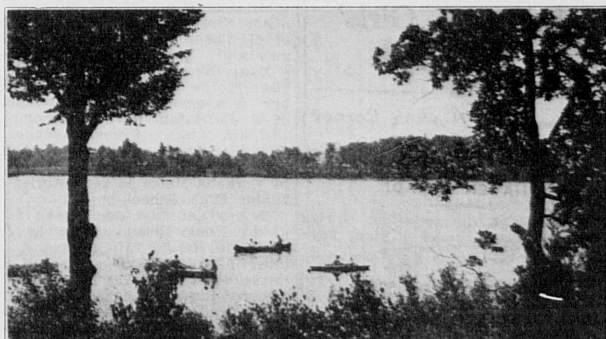

There will be a registered nurse on the staff. A well balanced and appetizing diet is assured the campers as the dietitian of two years' standing will return to camp this year.

It is hoped to include in the 1935 Camp Mary Day program nearly overnight hikes and gypsy trips to more distant camp sites.

Overnight hikes will be arranged for the campers in the Birch and Pine Ridge units whose age and experience equip them for such trips. These hikes will be within a few miles of Camp Mary Day at carefully selected sites.

There will be two Gypsy trips of from two to four days in length during the season—one in the second period of each month. The longer trip will be in August and for the older girls (14 years and older). Locations for these trips will be very carefully considered and inspected. "Just imagine yourself packing a pack, loading it into a beach wagon in the morning and unrolling it that night on a thick mattress of pine needles in some faraway place, awaking at night to look up through tall pines to a silver star and hear the far off cry of a loon as it calls to its mate across the lake. The next day what fun to climb a mountain, to cook all your meals outdoors, to sing grace in the open air, with a frying pan in your lap for a table. Suddenly, out of all this ecstasy, you awake to learn that you have earned the Pioneer badge."—from a 1934 Gypsy at Camp Mary Day.

Fourth Annual Hay-Fever Clinic At Osteopathic Hospital

The fourth annual hay-fever clinic of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital, Jamaica Plain, will open Monday, May 20, for those who suffer from the earliest form of "hay-fever," caused by new grasses, roses and other plants, beginning this month. Although the largest number of hay-fever sufferers are discomforted in August and September, the hospital invites one and all to come as soon as they feel the first symptoms, regardless of the month. This clinic, which treated about 600 persons last year, will be held every Monday and Thursday until the first frost. Dr. E. A. Marcoux of Newton, who will be in charge, announced today. Dr. Marcoux will be assisted by Dr. Arthur Katwick of Watertown and Dr. Laurence Walsh of Cambridge. Registrations close each morning at 10:30.

A STATE LOTTERY

Considerable time was spent this week by the House of Representatives in debating the establishment of a State Lottery as a means of providing additional revenue. Twice the lower branch of the Legislature reversed itself. Last Friday with more than a third of the members, largely from the western part of the state, absent, the lottery was favored. On Tuesday a tie vote of 110 to 110 was taken and the measure temporarily defeated. Reconsideration was given by a small margin yesterday and further action put over until next week. Representative William B. Baker, who ably debated against the proposal, said that he had never seen a lottery bill which he would vote for, but if there were new ideas to be brought in he did not object to postponement. There never will be a lottery bill written that will be based upon sound government. A method of raising funds by preying upon a natural human weakness can only foster that weakness with disastrous effects. The sooner the voters of the state awake to the realization that its Legislature may impose upon them to this extent and the sooner the voters make known the fact that they do not want such an "old man of the sea" upon their backs, the quicker the state lottery proposition will be defeated.

A GREAT DEMONSTRATION

With plans for tonight's boy scout pageant completed and ideal weather prevailing indications are that the affair will be a great demonstration. We have frequently commented upon the worth of this movement which is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary this year. The activities tonight will display, as no words can ever picture, the various ways in which Scouting is valuable. If you are unacquainted with Scout activities, be sure to attend. If you are acquainted you will enjoy a profitable evening if you attend. Scouting is a movement which should have universal encouragement and attention. It is a vital part of the training of our youth.

A NEWTONVILLE LIBRARY

The plan to erect a branch library building in Newtonville is one which will meet with general approval. In the past six or seven years we have seen attractive and appropriate buildings erected in several sections of the city. They are a decided asset to the community life of the respective sections. The necessity for a reference library in Newtonville, near the high school, is evident. The project, sponsored by the Newtonville Improvement Association, will be carried to a successful completion only through the co-operation of all. We have no doubt that such co-operation will be forthcoming.

served that since the N. I. A. activities invariably benefited the entire city, the city might be expected to reciprocate. He said in part, "There could be no greater asset to the Newton High School, an institution representing an outlay of $3,000,000.00, than an adequate branch library. Mr. Warren pictures the project as a museum, a storehouse of the visual aids to education, and available to all the schools in the city as well as to the high school.

Julius Lucht, head librarian of the Newton Free Library, said that the new branch should have 20,000 volumes in its shelves and twice the floor space of the present location, where the heart of Newtonville's culture is ensconced between an undertaker's establishment and a meat market. It would be a great joy to the library staff, he added, to be able to teach school children proper use of the library files, something that is virtually impossible now.

The meeting was concluded with an address by Professor Floyd B. Armstrong of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, whose subject was "An Economist Looks at the Orient." New members of the executive committee elected at the meeting were James D. Bennett, Marshall B. Dalton, Eugene Howell, Clifford B. Whitney and John S. Whittemore.

The owners of the dogs were ordered to restrain them and the city veterinarian notified to examine the animals. Brian Coen of Columbus place, West Newton, was bitten by a dog owned by William Kenney of 1655 Washington st. Domenico Rotondo of Brighton was bitten by a dog owned by George Hanley of 25 Copley st. Newton; James Cahill of 39 Hillside ave. was bitten by a dog owned by Dr. Louis H. Jack of 379 Austin st., West Newton.

Arrests Nigger Pool Writers

Inspectors Burke and King of the Newton police arrested two alleged "nigger pool" writers at Newtonville on Tuesday afternoon after trailing them from place to place where they allegedly made collections. The two were arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with promoting a lottery. The case of Michael L. Lavelley of 26 Clinton street, Newton, was continued to May 22; that of Carl Wyman of 134 Parkmer road, West Newton, was continued to May 29. The police state they found nigger pool slips on both men.

Still in Doubt

Uncertain weather conditions have no charm for me. They might be less unattractive if the inhabitants of Newton could agree on what to wear and when to wear it. In an effort to arrive at a working hypothesis I have before me for study the following advice:

"Possibly you may not need an overcoat but you'd better keep moving."
"O nobody wears a coat unless there's something wrong with them."
"Be very careful to be warmly dressed. This is just the time of year to catch pneumonia."
"Of course, you don't need to be all bundled up. Don't be silly. This is Spring, isn't it?"
"Only crazy kids go without their hats this time of year. That's a sure way to get sinus trouble for one thing."
"Leave your hat off all you can, Winter and Summer, and you'll never be baldheaded."

What, No More Stamps?

Imagine a country without postage stamps! Yet we may be drifting towards that state. Some say we are. A prominent postal official said to me, "I wouldn't be surprised to see postage stamps done away with, if not entirely then something like that. Metered mail has proved such a success that all kinds of ideas are proposed."

"You mean I shan't be able to buy stamps?" I asked.

"I'm no prophet, but I've an idea that soon you'll go to the postoffice with letters to mail and instead of giving you stamps for your money they'll take letters and put them through a machine. There are machines now, made by the cash register people, which are used for parcel post meter. A firm that sends out a large number of bundles takes the machine to the postoffice where it is 'loaded' with $500 or $5,000 worth of any stated amount of postage. Then, when brought back to the firm's establishment, they weigh a bundle, punch the machine and out comes adhesive tape or paper with the figures showing the postage cost. This goes on the bundle instead of stamps.

"Out in Saskatchewan they've made great progress in this line. Stamps there are fast disappearing. Just the metered mail for letters and packages whenever practicable."

"That means saving money," I observed.

"Certainly," he replied. "The cost of printing and handling postage stamps is enormous. When stamps are sent out the labor of several clerks is involved. The sheets must be counted and checked and a strict accounting made. Putting mail through a machine would save all that."

Continuing, my friend pointed out that it would be possible to facilitate the whole work of a postoffice with machines. With a feeling that this would indeed be a blow to philatelists I remarked that stamp collectors might object.

"O the Government will probably continue to print commemorative stamps," he replied.

Good Grounds for Worry

Having been asked, "Are you going to fly as a regular thing?" I deny such intentions. One little trip now and then does not make an aviator.

While the subject is before us I cannot refrain from telling of the experience of a friend who made the air voyage from Boston to Philadelphia. It was one of those planes, built only for two, in which the pilot sits in front, shall we say, and the passenger directly behind him.

Something of a novice, my friend kept his eye on the pilot. "The cost of the trip was all right," he said, "most enthusiastic could expect. There was no doubt as to the pilot's efficiency and soon my friend was reassured and settled back. As they were floating over Long Island Sound the pilot produced a book and leisurely began to read. The passenger was agast, but helpless. He clung to the life belt with one hand and parachute with the other. Thus he remained until the pilot tossed his book to the floor of the pit and gave full attention to navigating.

Unhappy Truths

The prophecy that repeal of prohibition would mean the return of the old-fashioned bar was sound as far as Massachusetts is concerned.

Post-triangles may be expected to go on strike to regain the right they once possessed to roam at will the highways and other public thoroughfares.

Gangsters, who seem to have little difficulty in conducting a prosperous hold-up every now and then, apparently have their own "brain trust" which is always functioning.

A fixed notion that a remarkable "vote getter" cannot be defeated is often so firm in the public mind that it is difficult to overcome.

Another attraction Massachusetts offers the Summer visitor is a reduction in the amount of penalty imposed on those who transgress the parking laws.

Quick Way Out

If I had not read the morning paper long before the letter carrier arrived I might have been ten cents poorer than I am.

There is some doubt about it, though, for chain letters do not appeal to me. This one, the Prosperity Club's endless rope, came from a friend I should not like to disappoint.

The copying of the letter and the selection of five names, as demanded, constituted a stumbling block, especially as it is required that all be done within three days.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edward H. Powers

At the risk of being accused of vulgarity we can't refrain from commenting on the seeming incongruity of a name given to an abbreviated undergarment which is now the vogue. It is being advertised by leading Boston stores as "jigger pants". Clean persons are supposed to know of jiggers only by reputation, although during World War many unfortunate young soldiers became acquainted with these critters.

Several years ago when the cleaning of water mains in Newton, by a rotating device which is propelled by the pressure in the mains, was first resorted to, this work was done during the late night hours so that residents of Newton would not be deprived of their water supply during the day and early evening hours. The cleaning of water mains in this city by this method has become quite frequent during the past few years. It was done on our street last Tuesday. And the water on the street was turned off from 10 a. m. until 6:30 p. m. There have been criticisms because this work is done during day hours rather than at night from persons who have been discommoded.

The reasons given by the Water Department for doing this work during the daytime instead of at night are that the work can be performed much quicker and more efficiently during daylight hours, householders can be notified when to shut off and turn on the water in their homes, and fire hazard is greatly reduced when daylight is available for the operation of valves in street mains, should any fires occur in an area where the water has been shut off.

The Boston Herald in editorials condemns the proposal to have a State lottery and then runs in its daily editions two full pages of news regarding the horse races at Rockingham and other tracks, giving details of the gambling odds at these places and much other information for those who bet. Consistent isn't it? About as consistent as the opposition to a State lottery of the righteous citizens who are inveterate gamblers at bridge or poker (although they claim these are games of skill), who play the stock market (and have got stung plenty), and who indulge in pari-mutuel betting. In our opinion a lottery is far less a gambling menace than is gambling on horse races which takes men away from their business day after day to lose more and more money, which lures employees away from public and private jobs when they are supposed to be working, and which is even causing women to neglect their household duties when they go to the race tracks to act as modern, female sports.

A number of persons have been bitten by dogs in this city the past week. If this continues it will mean another long period of restraint for Newton dogs. Nearly places have already had such quarantines because of many cases of rabies. Real lovers of dogs, who have their pets licensed, should co-operate to insist on the enforcement of the law so that the hundreds of dogs which are not licensed, and many of which are responsible for the spread of rabies, will be diminished.

Tuesday evening in Connecticut six members of two families riding in an automobile were killed when another car driven by an alleged drunken driver hit the car in which the victims were riding. And despite the carnage and the heart breaks caused by drunken drivers, public officials are paid good salaries to enforce the law, connive with influential citizens to have drunken drivers escape punishment, physicians and even clergymen aid in exculpating drunken drivers whom they may know, and newspaper men are exhorted to refrain from publishing the names of such offenders.

The Boston Herald on Monday had a commendable editorial denouncing the practice of holders of public offices and other real or alleged celebrities being conveyed by a police escort when they travel along our highways; usually such escorts moving at high rates of speed. It is only another evidence of the stupidity, hypocrisy and asininity of American life when public officials arrogate to themselves and their "distinguished" guests the privilege of unnecessarily speeding along public highways, when these same officials are constantly bemoaning the deplorable number of deaths and injuries caused by speeding and reckless operation of automobiles, when "ordinary" citizens are arrested for so driving.

If the prevalence of moth nests in trees at Oak Hill and on the Newton water reservation at Needham is any criterion, there will be more of these destructive tree pests this year than for many years past. Now is the time to attack them. Probably the E. R. A. would be willing to co-operate in an effort to curb the moths and save the trees.

The Boston newspapers on Friday last carried long articles telling of the plans of a Boston department store to erect a number of "model homes" in selected suburbs of Boston for exhibition purposes. The alleged primary object is to show people how they can take advantage of Federal Housing Administration aid, but the articles also stated that representatives of the business concern which will

I had perused contained a dispatch from Washington, stating that the Post Office Department had ruled the "dime chain mail" illegal because it violated the lottery and fraud laws of the Postal Service. Problem solved at once. Congratulate me. I returned the letter, stating that the amount of money promised me was not worth a jail sentence. But I did add that if they raised the figures I might consider it.

build the houses will be on hand in these "model homes" to demonstrate how reasonably such a house can be furnished and equipped with modern devices. It is a great advertising proposition.

A couple of years ago another Boston department store petitioned the Newton Board of Aldermen for a permit to erect a "model home" at Chestnut Hill for demonstration purposes. That petition was promptly and properly refused, the Aldermen deciding that it was a proposal to conduct a business enterprise in a residence zone, and therefore a violation of the zoning ordinance. We predict that should any other business concern attempt to use a residence zone as the locus of an advertising project, the Newton Board of Aldermen will again have to prohibit such a violation of our zoning ordinance.

If you want to prove that your new car with its action like knees will take bumps and holes with the greatest of ease drive down Bellevue street, Newton, from its summit to Centre street; over Crafts street going westerly from California street to Albemarle road or along Watertown street between Adams and Crafts streets.

We have been asked to comment on the practice of some doting parents in the Newtons of permitting their automobiles to be operated by sons and daughters under 16 years of age. Even though a parent or other licensed driver accompanies a girl or boy under 16 who is operating a car, the person so doing and the juvenile are both violating the law, can be and should be prosecuted.

An Automobile Repair Shop of Proved Merit

One of the chief problems of automobile owners is to find a garage repair shop where their cars will be serviced and repaired promptly and satisfactorily. This desired combination is obtainable at the NEWTON BUICK COMPANY, 371 Washington street, Newton, corner of Thornton street. The Newton Buick Company and its affiliate, the Garden City Garage, are two of Newton's oldest automotive concerns and for many years have catered to thousands of satisfied patrons. Owners of all makes of automobiles will find at this address a shop provided with ample tools and equipment to give prompt, satisfactory servicing and repair work. Capable mechanics are employed, men who are specialists in the various branches of automobile repair work.

Refuse Two Liquor Licenses

At the meeting of the Newton License Commission on Monday night two applications for liquor licenses were granted and two were refused. Those granted were for the dispensing of wine and malt liquors at 1185a Walnut st., Newton Highlands, to Lawrence J. Woods and to the Waldorf Restaurant Company at the Norumbega Park restaurant. The applications refused were those of John Recco for a package store license at 2102 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale; and Antonio Magni for a wine and beer dispensing license at 142 Adams st., Nonantum. Magni was granted a common victualler's license. It was stated he might appeal to the A. B. C. State Board. The Newton License Commission contended that there are now six licenses in the Nonantum section and this number is regarded as sufficient.

Lodges

Friday evening, May 10th, Newton Lodge, Waban Lodge, Garden City Encampment and Tennyson Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., celebrated the 117th anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in America. One hundred and thirty-two sat down to a bountiful supper. Former Mayor E. O. Childs, a member of Newton Lodge, Garden City Encampment, and Tennyson Rebekah Lodge gave an address on Oddfellowship. The entertainment was furnished by a minstrel troupe from Hudson Lodge and with their orchestra gave an excellent entertainment. After the stage show the orchestra furnished music for dancing.

MATERIALS WANTED

No citizen of Newton needs to be told that our playgrounds rank among the finest in the country but many of us may not know that our children have the reputation for making excellent handcraft from discarded materials.

Every year a plea is put in the local papers asking housewives to save odds and ends gathered during the year, empty spools, stockings, ribbons, tape, pieces of silk, or cloth, paper dolls, Xmas cards, envelope linings, embroidery materials, wool or articles suitable for prizes. The answer to this plea is always generous and the materials aid in keeping five hundred young children busy and happy during the summer season.

If you have a donation, the playground truck will call for it at your house by appointment if you will call the Playground Department—Centre Newton 4700.

Newton District Nursing Assn. Discusses Projects

At the board meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association, held on April 13th, several important projects were discussed.

Miss Nelson, the executive secretary, reported that there had been a considerable increase in the number of cases served by the district nurses over the number served in the corresponding month of last year. The immunization clinics for small children were particularly well attended, in spite of many of them being held on stormy days.

In connection with Mothers' Day, exhibits were shown in various parts of the city. Charts and graphs showed the number of babies born in Newton in the last three years. It was noticeable that a very large proportion were born in the Newton Hospital.

The board members were glad to welcome Mr. Bruce, the new secretary of the Community Chest, who gave a very illuminating talk about the functions of the Chest, new and old. The fact that only twelve percent of the people of Newton contributed to the Chest last year showed how imperative it is that the fall campaign be organized early and thoroughly.

Announcement was made in regard to the proposed Institute for board members in district nursing associations to be held under the auspices of the Newton association at Brae Burn Country Club next November. Members of all the associations in Metropolitan Boston are to be invited to hear outstanding speakers, and to take part in round table discussions.

The final feature of the meeting was a report by three members of the committee on the study of Communicable Disease. Mrs. John T. Croghan is the chairman. Mrs. Hanson Hart Webster gave a synopsis of what is meant by communicable disease. Mrs. Croghan spoke of the advancement in the methods of treating such diseases. She spoke particularly of the work of the Newton Board of Health. Mrs. Samuel L. Powers concluded with a very illuminating paper on the new methods of treating tuberculosis.

Annual Meetings

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club was held on Friday, May 10th, at the Club House. The luncheon was well attended. Mrs. John F. Capron, Twelfth District director; Mrs. David S. Beyer, and Mrs. Mary Pumphrey were guests at the head-table, with the officers and directors of the Club. Mrs. Capron gave a short talk. During luncheon the E. R. A. Orchestra of Newton gave some very enjoyable music. The business meeting opened at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. David S. Beyer, or Madame Marie Conde, sang several delightful songs, with Mrs. Mary Pumphrey, of West Newton, accompanying, after which reports of officers and committees were read, and the following officers were elected, or re-elected, for the coming year: Mrs. George Willard Smith, (re-elected) president; Mrs. Howard O. Winslow, (re-elected) first vice-president; Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather, second vice-president; Mrs. Fred W. Downer, recording secretary; Mrs. Arley S. Richards, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Fred Shaw, treasurer; Mrs. Eliot B. Shepard, assistant treasurer; Mrs. John W. Duthie, auditor; and Mrs. Carl H. Cummings (re-elected), Mrs. A. Harry Hutchison, Mrs. G. Horace Williams (re-elected), and Mrs. Melville D. Liming, directors.

The Scholarship given each year by the Club to a Newton High School girl was awarded to Miss Jane Heseline, of Beacon st., Newton Centre, who will enter Sargent in the fall.

The Club Philanthropies have been many; among them being the Community Chest, Salvation Army, Christmas Health seals, Children's Hospital, New England Peabody Home, Mother's Rest, and Handicapped children, besides many free rentals and reduced rentals given for community and charity affairs.

Newton Federation

Two hundred and fifty clubwomen of Newton attended the Fortieth Anniversary and Luncheon of the Newton Federation held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Monday, May 6th. Seated at the head table were the officers of the Federation, including the president, Mrs. Charles Carter Willson; Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs, Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, Mrs. George J. Murphy, Mrs. George H. Jackson, Mrs. Sidney B. Thomas, Mrs. George G. Watkins, past presidents, Mrs. C. G. Wetherby, Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, Mrs. S. Harry Mitchell, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, Mrs. Ernest Cobb, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mrs. J. Porter Russell; and honored guests, Mrs. John F. Capron, Marie Sundelius, and Dolores Rodriguez. Mrs. Lane, the toastmistress, recited a poem written for the occasion, elaborating on the verse "At forty this grand Federation is ready as never before, to serve in our Garden City, and better it more and more." Mrs. Raymond Green and Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., responded to Mrs. Lane.

The Community Chest director, Mr. C. L. Bruce, spoke for five minutes, giving figures comparing our previous drives with forty representative cities. The Program chairman, Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg, then introduced Madame Marie Sundelius, Metropolitan Opera Star, and her accompanist, Dolores Rodriguez. Madame Sundelius kept the audience entertained and much amused with accounts of her actual experience for fifteen years as a grand opera artist, which she illustrated with Arias.

Mrs. Capron gave a few words of greeting and good wishes.

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, a past president and popular lecturer, was introduced, and she gave a brief history of the Federation, attributing its birth to a paper read before the Social Science Club by Mrs. George G. Phipps, and its purpose to secure more thorough acquaintance and united action among the clubwomen of Newton. The first interests were mainly educational but quickly grew to include service and improvement of natural beauty, health, child welfare, lectures on clinics, securing a police matron, scholarships, and civic works, down to the Clothing Chest and Christmas Seals being handled by the Federation at the present time.

Mrs. George J. Murphy, recording secretary, gave the combined reports of the various department chairmen, and Mrs. J. Porter Russell gave a detailed outline of the many activities in the various clubs this last year under her committee, International Relations. Mrs. Ernest Cobb, Mo-

Mrs. Carroll Dwight, of Newton, and Mrs. William D. Ireland, of West Newton, were included in the group. The Circus, which is to be presented on Saturday, May 25th, at 2 o'clock, on Tunnel Point, Wellesley College Campus, is to be open to friends and alumnae of the college, as well as to children. It will be held in Alumnae Hall if it rains.

The Big Show, with clowns, animals, trained ponies, etc., is to be from 2 to 3 o'clock, with continuous side shows until 6 o'clock. These will include movies, puppets, pony rides, boat rides, and a magician. There will be refreshments, tea for grownups, and ice cream and lollipops for the children. The proceeds will go to the Student Aid Society. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Murray C. Harvey, of Wellesley Hills, chairman of the Ticket committee, or from the following Newton people on her committee: Mrs. William Fawcett, Newton; Mrs. Robert F. Miller, Newton Centre; Mrs. William Plumer, Waban; and Mrs. Richard Roquemore, of Abundale.

Mrs. Wilson presented the gavel to the new president, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, who very graciously accepted it and presented a large vase filled with flowers to Mrs. Wilson, expressing the hope that in her new home in New York she would have space and time to raise enough flowers to keep the vase filled in memory of her friends in the Newton Federation.

A gay and festive afternoon was greatly enjoyed.

Because of the great interest to all Newton clubwomen in what the clubs affiliated with the Newton Federation have done to assist others during the past year (1934-1935), a resume of Mrs. Herbert F. on through their Clubs in the assistance of those in distress. An account of the Executive Board meeting of the Newton Federation held on Monday, May 13th, will be given in this Column next week.

State Federation

Every person attending the Annual Meeting of the State Federation at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, May 21st, 22nd, and 23rd, before being admitted to the Convention Hall, (with the exception of guest speakers) must pay a Registration Fee of $1.00 for the entire session, or 50 cents for a day or any part of a day. Morning sessions open at 10 o'clock; afternoon sessions at 2, and evening sessions at 8 o'clock.

In order to give all who may desire it an opportunity to meet with Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, a pre-convention gathering will be held on Monday, May 20th, at 3 o'clock, in the Ball Room of the hotel. In the evening, for those who are to be guests at the hotel, there will be the informal dinner, followed by a musical program, and a general get-together of clubwomen assembled, when an opportunity will be afforded to meet old friends and to make new ones.

The regular session will open on Tuesday, May 21st, when Miss Mary Sue Wigley, of Dawson, Alabama, will speak on "Forward Planning". The afternoon session will be addressed by Dr. Howard W. Haggard, Professor of Applied Psychology at Yale University, who will take for his subject "Are You Intelligent?" Tuesday evening will be the gala night, for Mrs. Poole will be the guest of honor, and she will address the assembly. Prior to the formal meeting, however, there will be the Presidents' Processional, in which the Juniors will be featured. In this Processional each District director will head the line of her Senior and Junior presidents. On that same evening the Juniors are having their banquet at 6 o'clock, in the Colonial Room in the hotel.

The Annual Reports of the directors and chairmen will not be read from the platform, but will be printed and distributed to those delegates wishing them, at a Conference on Wednesday morning, May 22nd, from 10 to 11 o'clock, to be held by each director and each chairman at an appointed place to be announced later.

At the Wednesday morning session, Mrs. Margaret Wells Wood, of Summit, N. J., will give her address, and at the afternoon session, J. Frederick Essary, who since 1908 has travelled with every presidential candidate except La Follette, will speak on "The Checkered Course of Politics," and Rev. Albert C. Dieffenbach will speak on "The Public Service of the Newspaper." The closing session on Thursday will be addressed by Herbert Agar, of New York City. Information concerning these speakers was given in this column last week.

The 1935 Annual Meeting will end at 12:30 p. m. on Thursday, May 23rd. Resolutions that will be printed in the official program will come up for action. New clubs will be admitted to the Federation, and other important business will be presided over by the State president, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker.

Through the courtesy of the Ninth District clubwomen, walks through some of the gardens of nearby estates have been arranged for Wednesday at 9:30 a. m., and a drive along the (Continued on Page 9)

Newton Director Accepts Position In Conn. School

H. A. Landry Goes to Hampton
As Principal

Herbert A. Landry, Director of Research and Guidance of the Newton Schools, has resigned his position to accept the principalship of the Hamden, Conn., High School. This school, which is rapidly nearing completion, will open in September, with an expected enrollment of 1300 pupils and a faculty of 55 teachers.

Mr. Landry was appointed by the local school committee two years ago to organize and direct the activities of the new administrative division which was created. During this period, the new division has been engaged in co-ordinating the various existing guidance activities and putting into operation new procedures planned to increase the effectiveness of the guidance program. In addition, a number of research studies have been undertaken to provide a basis for desirable educational changes and adjustments.

The position which Mr. Landry has occupied in the Newton school system will be continued. His successor will probably be elected at the meeting of the Newton School Committee next Monday night.

Newton Schools Closed May 31st

There will be no sessions of the Newton public schools on Friday, May 31st, according to expected action to be taken by the School Committee at its meeting on next Monday evening. The schools will thus be closed Friday as well as Memorial Day. There will be sessions all day Wednesday, May 29.

California Man Made Head of Health Dept.

Dr. H. D. Choche To Be New Health Officer

At the meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night the appointment of Dr. Harold D. Choche of Sacramento, Calif., by Mayor Weeks as Health Officer for this city was announced. The Board went into secret conference with Dr. William G. Smillie of Waban, a member of the Newton Board of Health, Dr. Smillie, who is director of the School of Public Health at Harvard University, has sponsored Dr. Choche and he told the aldermen the qualifications of the latter, as well as the plans for reorganizing the Newton Health Department.

The Aldermen upon resuming their open meeting after the conference, with Dr. Smillie, became so engrossed in the argument over the amendment to the zoning ordinance, passed for the purpose of keeping alcoholic manufacturing or industries out of Newton, that they forgot all about confirming the appointment who will head Newton's Health Department. So, the meeting had adjourned and the members were leaving the chamber when Alderman Floyd remembered about Dr. Choche. He spoke to President Gordon of the Board, the latter hastily shouted to his colleagues to stay their departure, the meeting was quite informally resumed, Alderman Floyd moved for a suspension of the rules, and the Board by ballot confirmed the appointment.

The only alderman to vote in the negative was Guzzi. Alderman Guzzi gave his reasons. He said there has been a tendency in late years to go outside the city for persons to fill important city positions. Guzzi stated that in a city of about 70,000 population, with so many capable and well educated residents, there are plenty of men anxious to fill any positions open and well qualified to do so.

The following information regarding Dr. Choche has been officially given from the Mayor's office:

Dr. Harold Delos Choche of Sacramento, California, was today appointed Health Officer of the City of Newton by Mayor Sinclair Weeks, following the recommendation of the Board of Health and a special committee appointed by the Mayor several months ago to consider reorganization of the City's Health Department.

Dr. Choche will assume his new duties in Newton on June 15. He will succeed Dr. Francis Geo. Curtis who will retire as Chairman of the Board of Health and Health Officer after continuous, faithful and efficient service for 42 years.

A special committee made a thorough study of the entire health question of the city and worked out a model plan. In accordance with the recommendation of the committee the City will have a full time highly qualified Health Officer who will direct the work of the Department. A co-operative arrangement has been made with the Harvard School of Public Health and Simmons College School of Public Health Nursing whereby these Universities will contribute to the budget of the Health Department and in return the Health Officer and his staff will give practical training.

Aldermen Amend Zoning To Prohibit Alcoholic Industries In Newton

Bitter Fight at Meeting Monday Night Over Controversy
Hinged on Martin Mfg. Company Petition

One of the liveliest meetings held by the Newton Board of Aldermen in recent years occurred on Monday night. The cause of much debating, parliamentary rulings by President Gordon of the Board, and sustaining of these rulings by City Solicitor Bartlett was a petition amending Section 560 of the Zoning Ordinance by adding to the list of prohibited industries in manufacturing zones—distilleries, breweries, blending, rectifying, bottling or any other form of manufacturing of alcoholic beverages.

When the order calling for action on this amendment was reached on the docket, Alderman Grebenstein asked that the matter be held over until some subsequent meeting. He said, "There is before the Board an order petition from the Martin Manufacturing Company relative to a permit being granted to allow the blending of alcoholic beverages at its property, 1210 Washington St., West Newton, and if we take action on this other petition tonight, it will prejudice the Martin Manufacturing Company's petition." He moved that the petition be laid on the table. On a voice vote the motion was lost.

Alderman Holden said that the petition was a combination of other petitions. The Beardsley petition would have excluded bottling and blending even of non-alcoholic liquids, and the Fuller petition would have prohibited manufacture of alcohol in all zones. The petition before the Board was submitted by the Planning Board and passed by the City Solicitor. Alderman Akins said he believed the petition should be thrown down and that the Aldermen should display some intestinal fortitude the same as Mayor Weeks has done preceding the last city election when he declared himself in favor of liquor licenses in Newton. Akins asserted that the petition represents the Prohibition element which has destroyed the Republican Party. He argued that the vote of the citizens of Newton at the past two elections convinced him to vote against the petition and he stated that a certain group is trying to railroad this matter through.

Alderman Floyd asked Akins to name the group which was trying to railroad the petition through. Akins replied that they are a group of professional prohibitionists, one of whom had run for Governor on the Prohibition ticket. He said that the Aldermen who favored the petition were not abiding by the vote of the majority of the people of Newton. Alderman Rawson said the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board had unanimously favored the petition, and that it has no connection with the late, noble experiment of prohibition, or with party politics, but is simply a question of zoning. Rawson argued that the Aldermen are the trustees of the city, that they should guard the inheritance they have received and keep Newton in the future the same high type city it has been in the past. He said he voted for the repeal of the 18th Amendment, but this has nothing to do with the keeping of distilleries out of Newton. As an analogy he stated that everyone uses sugar and shoes, but our zoning ordinance prohibits refineries and tanneries in Newton because of their objectionable nature, and the same thing applies to manufacturing of alcohol.

Alderman Hutchinson asked what the vote of the Planning Board was on the petition. City Engineer Morse, a member of the Planning Board, said the vote was unanimous in favor. Hutchinson said that while he did not doubt the veracity of Morse, he did doubt his accuracy. He said the question is one of zoning and that he had presented to him a petition signed by hundreds of West Newton citizens asking that the Martin Mfg. Company be given an opportunity to resume a business activity at its plant. He argued that the last two elections showed the city to be "wet," that package stores for the sale of alcoholic beverages are a far greater threat than would be a rectifying plant, but these stores have been well conducted. He said he is a strong advocate of keeping Newton a residential city, but we have had some manufacturing industries in the city and these must continue to provide employment for Newton residents. Hutchinson said he had heard no arguments against permitting the use of the Martin Mfg. Company's plan for blending except implied moral objections and he asked to have someone give him one sound reason against such use.

Alderman Lyon said he was sorry for the Martin Mfg. Company but that he also would be sorry for the people of Newton should alcoholic manufacturing start in the city. He stated that two public hearings had been held on the petitions regarding the use of the Martin Mfg. Company's building as a rectifying plant and those who came to protest represented various classes of our people. He contended that if another public hearing shall be held, the aldermanic chamber and the corridors at City Hall will not be large enough to hold all who will come to object.

Alderman Cronin said that he agreed with all that Alderman Hutchinson has said. He disagreed with Alderman Lyon regarding the opposition to any alcoholic industry in Newton, and expressed the belief that a majority would vote for it if the question came to a city-wide vote. He argued that the city should become more liberal rather than too conservative and narrowminded, that nothing had been presented to show that a rectifying plant at the Martin building would be a nuisance, and if the petition were passed, it would be a step backward. Alderman McCabe called attention to the fact that even though Newton might vote against liquor licenses in the future, once a distillery or brewery became established here, being under Federal control, it could not be closed by the city.

NEWTON HIGH FAVORED IN STATE MEET HERE

Everett Is Threat to Enoch's Team in Newtonville Games

Given a fine day and a few breaks, the Newton High track team will have a very good chance of winning the State Meet, which takes place on Newton's own Dickinson Stadium track tomorrow afternoon. Nearly thirty schools will be represented in the two classes of this annual Massachusetts H. S. A. A. classic, which has been moved to the Newton High track after more than a decade in the Harvard Stadium.

In Class A, which includes the larger high schools, Newton has been made a slight favorite over Everett High, having the advantage of competing on their own track. Newton's stalwarts are Captain Warren Wittens in the broad jump and the hurdles, Allen Freeman in the 880, Ted Ladd in the 220, and the 880-yard relay, probably a combination of these three and Robert Muther, Nat Heard and Mel Swig in the shot, and Joe Blair in the high jump may help the Newton cause tremendously with an odd point or two.

Everett and Brookline Powerful

Two traditional rivals, Everett and Brookline, will be high in the scoring, but the real battle in Class A will be between Newton and Everett, and either may win with twenty points or less. In the 220, where Ladd of Newton and Tabb of Everett are the leaders, much of the battle will rest, and also in the 880, where Freeman of Newton matches strides with Paulding of Everett. These two events, along with the relays which follow, will provide the meet a truly thrilling finish. Besides Tabb and Paulding, who won their respective races in the recent Harvard Interscholastics, Everett has Frank Mascianica, crack quarter-miler, Richie Underwood, who will run the 220, and two good century sprinters in Ventura and Romboli. Brookline will depend on Hartmann in the hurdles and the high jump, Kerins in the shot, and Gutierrez in the hurdles and the broad jump.

Records Will Fall

If the weather is seasonable, several records are likely to fall. Warren Wittens, Newton's white hope, has been undefeated in the broad jump and the low hurdles all season, and only last week bettered the state record in the 120-yard low hurdles, going the distance in 14 1-5 seconds against Brookline. The accepted state record is 14 3-5, made by Eugene Record of Brookline in 1928. Wittens should also lead the broad jump entries, but will probably not touch the 12-year old mark of 22 ft. 2 1-2 in. made by H. Moore of Medford.

Another record, that of 10 2-5 in the 100-yard dash, should fall under the spikes of Frank Ziemetz of Boston English High, the most capable sprinter in late years. Adolph Kelley of Brockton and Frank Mascianica of Everett will probably carry on their 440 duel in separate heats, but one of the two might reach 51 seconds, which is the record set by Smith of Brookline in 1926. Kerins of Brookline and Harry Feinman of Boston Latin are both capable of beating the state shotput mark of 49 ft. 9 1-2 in. made in 1927 by Marshall of Medford. Robin Hartman, who cleared six feet in the high jump in his first meet of the indoor season, can have the state record if he repeats at that height, for the present mark is at 5 ft. 10 1-2 inches.

Relays May Decide

With the meet such a tight race as it appears to be, the final outcome may well depend on the final event, the 880-yard relay. Newton against Brookline and Everett against Everett are the last two team races, pairings having been made according to traditional rivalries. Everett will have a very strong team, and is liable to pull down the state title in this final event of the day.

In Class B, Watertown High appears to have the powerful team, and will probably repeat their victory of the Harvard Interscholastic meet. The meet begins at 1:30, with trials in the shotput and the broad jump.

Newton Girls Score in Lasell Field Day

Miss Dorothy Ell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Ell, of 21 Beaumont ave., Newtonville, took second place among the high scorers, gaining nine points during the Field Day events held recently at Lasell Junior College. Miss Ell ranked first in the broad jump, tied for second in the 50-yd. dash, and tied for fourth in the 50-yd. dash.

Miss Barbara Heath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville F. Heath, of 75 Dartmouth st., West Newton, a Lasell senior, tied with another as third high scorer, gaining seven points. She stood second in the javelin throw, third in the basketball throw, and tied for third with two others in the high jump.

Miss Edythe Cummings, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Cummings of 830 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, came in second in the 50-yd. dash, and stood second in the broad jump. Miss Marjorie K. James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. James of 629 Walnut st., Newtonville, and Miss Hope Reynolds, daughter of Mrs. Deane Reynolds, of 11 Ware rd., Auburndale, tied for first in the hurdles.

Miss Barbara Huntington Ordway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ordway of 21 Fern st., Auburndale, also a senior delivers the prophecy for Class Night, June the eighth at Lasell. Miss Priscilla Winslow, daughter of President and Mrs. Guy M. Winslow, of Woodland rd., Auburndale, another Lasell senior, is one of the outstanding veterans left from last year on the tennis team of the college.

HIGH SCHOOL TENNIS TEAMS UNDEFEATED

The Newton High tennis team undefeated in interscholastic dual competition this year, has only Brookline High to defeat next Wednesday to keep the state clean. The boys led all local schools in the state interscholastics played last Saturday, placing third behind the two Worcester entries. Since then they have met and defeated Quincy 4-3, Malden 8-1 and Arlington 9-0.

Against Quincy, Newton lost the first two singles matches and the first doubles match. Paul Hurley defeated Paul Rich in the Number 1 match, Rich being no match for the newly crowned state champion, while Tom Slattery lost to Fitzgerald of Quincy. Number 2, Newton players won the other singles matches, Clayton Mosher from Elden Morton, Gardner Stratton from James Walsh in three sets, and Ken Chase from his opponent with the loss of a single game. Mosher and Brew Williams won their Number 2 doubles easily, but the Number 1 team lost to Hurley and Fitzgerald.

The second team has beaten Arlington 9-0, Needham 4-2 and Dorchester 9-0 in recent tests. The Arlington match was scheduled for the first team, but the seconds were sent instead. Gardner Stratton played Edmund Rittner, former state junior finalist, in the Dorchester match, and defeated him handily. In the varsity match yesterday, the Malden Number 1 doubles team won their only point from the Newton combination of Tom Slattery and Charlie Parkin.

Newton Highlights

Newton High has a real "dark horse" entry in Burleigh Fernald. After the indoor season, Burleigh dropped track in favor of tennis, largely because some throat irritation was aggravated by his running. He has now come back to the track team and will run the half-mile tomorrow at the stadium track in Newtonville. He ran a fast 44 time trial this week in practice, indicating that tennis has increased his speed.

One of the records least in danger in the State Meet tomorrow is Tommy Clausen's half-mile figure of 2m 1 1-5 seconds, made in 1921, the only mark in the list held by a Newton man. But Gene Record's hurdle mark of 14 3-5 is almost certain to be pared by Warren Wittens in one of his three attempts, although he will have the broad jump trials on his hands early in the meet as well.

Walter M. Taylor, coach of tennis at the high school, is arranging the annual tennis tournament for junior high school boys, and has called the event for a week from Wednesday, June 5. Bob Dicker of Warren will not be here to defend his title this year, but the runner-up, Sonny Everts of F. A. Day, is on hand.

In the tennis match won by the Newton Seconds from the Arlington varsity last Monday, Walter Michael of Newton defeated Robert Bixby in a marathon match that lasted two hours and twenty minutes, Michael winning 2-6, 7-5, 14-12.

Elena Ciccone, Newton High junior, reached the round of eight in the women's state tennis singles at The Country Club, losing yesterday to Virginia Ellis, a former champion, by 6-2, 8-6.

Newton High will have Memorial Day holiday as usual, and the Friday following as well, which is very unusual. So Jeff Jones is trying to have the Brookline ball game moved to a more favorable spot. Tom Gilligan of Newtonville hit a double and a home run as the Harvard Grads beat the varsity the other day. Bob Ashley of Bowdoin and Waban won the singles and doubles championships in the Maine intercollegiate tennis matches this week.

Newton High is due for a new javelin record when Mel Swig lets fly in the Amherst Interscholastics a week from tomorrow. Len Clark's record is around 148 feet. Newton High girls' lacrosse team goes to Lexington Monday for a fling at the Lexington High girls. Burleigh Fernald's time in that 440 time trial, in case you have followed me this far, is said to have been 52 3-5s, which is considered good. Bullet Byrne will enroll at Bridgton Academy in the fall. Warren Huston figured in two double plays and scored three runs for Springfield as they defeated Tufts 12-0 yesterday.

With another week of half-and-half baseball behind them, the Newton High nine plays host this afternoon to a heavy-hitting Rindge Tech crew, the same that beat them 20-4 three weeks ago today. Chances are that Jim Tornabene, who worked so well in the Brookline and Cambridge games, will get the call to pitch to the Tech swatters.

Newton will take the field without Carl Bosworth, long-hitting center fielder, who was injured Wednesday in the faculty game when he collided with Milton "Nipper" Jones as both were chasing a fly ball. But with Tornabene pitching his usual steady ball, Rindge will have no such party as took place earlier in the season.

Club Splits With Waltham, Cambridge

Captain Bill Spillman's cohorts won their Suburban League game last Friday, turning back Cambridge Lat in 13-3, lost 7-2 at Waltham on Tuesday, and nosed out the faculty ball team 14-10 on Wednesday. Tornabene struck out seven of the Cambridge batters, while Spillman hit three out of three, and Simon got two out of three and scored four runs. Pete Morrison came to bat in the sixth inning with two men on bases and placed a line drive home run out within a few yards of the tennis courts.

Dog Bites Woman At West Newton

Mrs. Dorothy Taylor of 32 Southgate park, West Newton, was severely bitten on the right arm Sunday afternoon outside the Odd Fellows building by a dog, owner unknown, which was apparently mad. The dog then attacked some children, but a man drove him away. The man tied the animal to a nearby hydrant and Patrolman Duncan came in response to a call to police headquarters. Duncan tried to get the dog into a police car, but the animal attacked him. The policeman then shot the dog. Its head was sent to Harvard to ascertain if it had rabies.

Kiwanians Hear School Guidance Work Explained

Explanation of the research and guidance work of the Newton schools was given by Mr. Herbert A. Landry, director of that division, in an interesting address delivered on Tuesday at the noon-day luncheon of the Kiwanis Club. Most young persons, he explained, are hazy about what they want to do for their life work and educational systems, which have instituted guidance work, are aiding the boys and girls in making intelligent decisions relative to the selection of the tasks upon which their future comfort and happiness depends.

"Education without guidance is like a rudderless ship," Mr. Landry pointed out. "Several factors lead young persons to select their careers. Chance plays a prominent part for in normal times a card inscribed 'Boy Wanted' and placed in a window has made a plumber or a clerk out of the youth who saw the card and got the job. Inheritance too is a factor for often the son is expected to follow in the footsteps of the father when he was not fitted to do so successfully. Because the father had business acumen is no reason for thinking the son inherited it."

"Influence of parents is another factor. It is natural for a father, for instance, to want to give to his son the opportunities he did not have. He wanted to be a doctor and for some reason couldn't be so he wants his son to be a doctor. Moreover, there is the consideration of the social significance of occupations which prompts parents to make the career decisions for their children which should be made by the children themselves. We should consider what the boy is, what his potentialities are, what his desires are."

"Then too, there is the factor of propinquity which often leads to the selection of a career. In a city like Lynn with its great General Electric plant many boys leaving school in that vicinity are enrolled in that business while in Haverhill and other shoe manufacturing centres youths are likely to take up the shoe trade because it is nearby and naturally influences their decision."

The speaker stated that in Newton the plan is to help young people to arrive at the proper decision in accordance with the measure of their kind of ability. Decisions are not made for them, but facts are pointed out to them that will enable the child to make his own decision. Tests and devices used in measuring the type of abilities were displayed and explained by Mr. Landry.

Pseudo-scientists such as palmists, phrenologists and fortune tellers who advise persons as to the choice of a career were denounced by Mr. Landry. He stated that $125,000,000 is spent annually in the United States in this direction creating false hopes, leading persons astray and sometimes to difficulties.

Members of the newly-formed Roslindale-Weymouth Kiwanis Club were guests at the meeting. Mr. Landry was introduced to the gathering by Immediate Past-President James Forbes and plans were discussed for a country club outing during the week of June 4th.

Final Concert Closes 24th Season Of Music School

One of the largest audiences of the All Newton Music School's existence filled the auditorium of the Newton High School for the final concert of the season on Monday evening. In the first half of the program, the solo work, piano, clarinet and cello showed talent and much careful training. Of special interest was the piano solo of Evelyn Karol in the Wedding Cake Caprice by St. Saens, accompanied by the Faculty String Quartette.

The second part of the program consisted of selections from Bach and Handel to do honor to the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of these composers which is being widely commemorated this year. The Music School's orchestra of over sixty young people under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Fyffe, Director of the School, did a remarkable piece of work in the exacting Bach and Handel numbers.

At the concert, Miss Fyffe spoke briefly of former pupils who have gone away from home for study and have made good use of the training received in the Music School. She then introduced Miss Mabel Eager, President of the Board of Trustees, who called to the attention of the audience that next fall the school will start its twenty-fifth year. She also paid warm tribute to Miss Fyffe, its founder and director, explaining that the growth, development, high standard and ideals of the Music School were due to the vision and untiring devotion of the founder.

At Miss Fyffe's request, Mr. William Lester Bates, Vice-President of the Board of Trustees and Organist and Choir Master of the Second Church, West Newton, came to the stage to speak to the pupils. He was enthusiastic in praising the faculty and pupils for the splendid rendering of such a comprehensive and exacting program, congratulating them on their work and on the opportunity they had for music-study through so fine a school.

Miss Eager read and explained the Honor Awards and Certificates given to pupils this year. Highest Honors were awarded to Marcia Jackson, Dorothy Kovitz and Evelyn Karol in piano; to Aida Pucciarelli in violin; to Norma Olsen in cello. High Honor was given to Hope Beach, Philip Cook, Paul Harriman, Gladys House, James McLean, Eleanor Millard, Priscilla Rogers and Jean Worth in piano; to Elizabeth Duthie, Betty Ferguson, Pearl Foss, Gloria Finelli, Elsie Holnisch, Virginia Johnson, Jean Kenway, Virginia Kyle, Jean Melcher, Marjorie Ogilvie, Mary Ruggles, Phyllis Sweetser in violin; to Daphne Kenway in cello; to John McCarty in clarinet. Thirty Million Miles of Ford Economy

MORE MILES. Faster miles. Greater economy . . . that is the story of the Ford V-8. There are conclusive figures from owners to show that it is the most economical Ford car ever built.

A particularly interesting and complete report of costs comes from a national fleet owner who has owned 854 Ford cars which have run more than thirty million miles in business use.

175 were Model T Fords which were run 5,017,075 miles. 599 were Model A Ford cars which were run 24,041,632 miles. 80 are Ford V-8 cars which have been run 2,982,886 miles.

This owner's cost records show that Ford V-8 cars cost 12% less to operate than the Model A Fords and 31% less than the Model T Fords. And they covered more miles per month! The monthly average for the Model T Fords was 1509 miles. . . . For the Model A Fords, 1866 miles. . . . And 2571 miles for the Ford V-8.

Each year the Ford car gives you more in value and performance and costs you less to operate.

This year the following received these certificates: Piano—Irma Bryson, Doris Coan, Joan Clare, Violin—Elizabeth Duthie, Jean Kenway, Phyllis Sweetser; Cello—Eleanor Lord, Frances Guion, Mary Pucciarelli. Clarinet—John McCarty.

The second part of the program consisted of selections from Bach and Handel to do honor to the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of these composers which is being widely commemorated this year. The Music School's orchestra of over sixty young people under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Fyffe, Director of the School, did a remarkable piece of work in the exacting Bach and Handel numbers.

At the concert, Miss Fyffe spoke briefly of former pupils who have gone away from home for study and have made good use of the training received in the Music School. She then introduced Miss Mabel Eager, President of the Board of Trustees, who called to the attention of the audience that next fall the school will start its twenty-fifth year. She also paid warm tribute to Miss Fyffe, its founder and director, explaining that the growth, development, high standard and ideals of the Music School were due to the vision and untiring devotion of the founder.

At Miss Fyffe's request, Mr. William Lester Bates, Vice-President of the Board of Trustees and Organist and Choir Master of the Second Church, West Newton, came to the stage to speak to the pupils. He was enthusiastic in praising the faculty and pupils for the splendid rendering of such a comprehensive and exacting program, congratulating them on their work and on the opportunity they had for music-study through so fine a school.

Miss Eager read and explained the Honor Awards and Certificates given to pupils this year. Highest Honors were awarded to Marcia Jackson, Dorothy Kovitz and Evelyn Karol in piano; to Aida Pucciarelli in violin; to Norma Olsen in cello. High Honor was given to Hope Beach, Philip Cook, Paul Harriman, Gladys House, James McLean, Eleanor Millard, Priscilla Rogers and Jean Worth in piano; to Elizabeth Duthie, Betty Ferguson, Pearl Foss, Gloria Finelli, Elsie Holnisch, Virginia Johnson, Jean Kenway, Virginia Kyle, Jean Melcher, Marjorie Ogilvie, Mary Ruggles, Phyllis Sweetser in violin; to Daphne Kenway in cello; to John McCarty in clarinet. A diploma for Normal Training

At a joint meeting of the Board of Directors of the West Newton Community Centre and the Stearns School Centre held in the recreational room of the Stearns School Centre, Mr. Lyscom Bruce, Executive Secretary of the Community Chest, gave a very interesting talk about the all-year-round program of the Chest. Information regarding campaign plans and publicity proved to be helpful. Mr. Bruce pointed out that those interested in welfare organizations could easily assist the Chest throughout the year.

A report of the Executive Committee meeting was read which included recommendations for re-appointments of group committees. Members of the board serve on Publicity, Relationship, and Club Program Committees, following out suggestions brought to them by the director of community work in this settlement and other nearby community centres. Mrs. Walter W. Jamison and Miss Ann Rae were elected to membership on the Board of Directors.

Miss Helen Sandstrom, Director, announced the dates of an opera and a playlet to be given by two dramatic groups who have been coached by volunteers. She told about the Mothers' Club banquet on Monday the 13th at which a group of musicians from the All-Newton Music School rendered an attractive program of piano, violin, cello and clarinet selections. Miss Sandstrom will attend the National Federation of Settlements Conference to be held in Montreal early in June. A Canadian committee for the conference has been organized which will co-operate with other committees to work out programs on recreation and group activities.

Fourteen enrolled and the following nine received Red Cross certificates: Mildred Bianchi, Anna Corsetti, Josephine Cedrone, Loretta Gentile, Edna Langill, Genevieve Cupoli, Madeline Sullivan, Annie Tocci, Florence Visco.

The Girl Scouts of Newton Upper Falls have also completed a course which was held evenings at Twombly House. Both of the above courses were conducted by the Chapter Instructor of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, Miss H. M. Norcross.

Community Chest Executive Speaks at Joint Meeting

At a joint meeting of the Board of Directors of the West Newton Community Centre and the Stearns School Centre held in the recreational room of the Stearns School Centre, Mr. Lyscom Bruce, Executive Secretary of the Community Chest, gave a very interesting talk about the all-year-round program of the Chest. WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Request for Yarn And Toys

The Christmas Party committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club has already made many little dresses and other garments in anticipation of the Annual Party and is devoting considerable time at present to knitting. The chairman, Mrs. Henry E. Johnson, New. Nor. 3861-M, would appreciate contributions of bright-colored yarn for use in making the children's mittens more colorful. The committee also asks members and friends of the Club to save toys which may be reconditioned for use at Christmas. Mrs. Johnson would be glad to make arrangements for collecting toys now in the event of the donors not being able to store them this fall.

Take Trip To Marblehead

On Tuesday, May 14th, thirty-two members of the Auburndale Review Club accepted the invitation of their president, Mrs. William P. DeWitt, to a picnic at her summer cottage in Marblehead. Transportation was furnished by members who drove their own cars, each car being marked "Review Club." The ride was greatly enjoyed and a cordial welcome awaited the group on their arrival at the cottage.

Plans Outlined at Board Meeting

A special meeting of the Executive Board of the Newton Federation, called by the new president, Mrs. J. Earle Parker, was held on Monday, the 13th, at 10 a. m., in the Newton Library. Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken, recording secretary, read a report of the meeting of the chairman of committees held at the home of Mrs. Parker on April 26th. Mrs. Ernest F. Drew, corresponding secretary, made a plea in behalf of State Federation "Topics," citing its value to all clubwomen, and asking all members of the Executive Board to subscribe for it for the coming year. Mrs. Drew also read a letter from the Mayor's Relief Committee, stating the great need for clothing among citizens of Newton, and requesting the Newton Federation to consider the advisability of recommending to its members that they assist the Relief Committee during 1935-1936 by arranging sewing meetings, the Relief Committee to furnish the material for garments to be made. The report of the treasurer, Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett, was read and approved. Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Finance chairman, gave the budget for the coming year.

Mrs. Edwin H. Dyer, chairman of the Conservation committee, stated that all land owned by the City of Newton will be cleared of rag weed. Mrs. Fred G. Sandford, Program chairman, advised that the Round Table held for Program chairmen the last few years will be combined the coming season with the Twelfth District Conference, to be held on November 13th, at Newton Centre.

Progress in the formation of a Federation Art committee was reported by Mrs. Edward D. Wallace, chairman.

Mrs. Parker spoke of the Woman's Crusade in connection with the Community Chest drive and suggested that the Churches and all organizations in Newton be advised of the dates, October 28th and 29th, so they may respect this Crusade and have no activities.

For the information of all Newton clubwomen the amendments to the Constitution of the Newton Federation as adopted at the Annual Meeting on May 6th are given herewith.

Article 4, Section 1. In the third sentence, insert "and delegates" after the "chairman of the nominating committee" so it shall read: "This Executive Committee together with the president of each club, or her appointee, the president of every associate organization or her appointee, the chairman of standing committees and the chairman of the nominating committee and delegates shall constitute the Executive Board."

Article 5, Section 3. Insert in place thereof: "All club members shall be entitled to vote at the Fall, Mid-year, and Annual Meetings of the Newton Federation."

The following proposed amendment was defeated:

Article 5, Section 1. In the second sentence, strike out the word "fifty" and insert therein "one hundred" so it shall read: "Each club shall have one additional delegate for every additional one hundred members or fraction thereof."

Clubwomen will be interested to know also that the following are chairman of committees for next year: American Home, Mrs. Clarence H.

Spike; Civics, Mrs. Robert Bonner; vice-chairman, Mrs. Joseph C. McCarron; Conservation, Mrs. Edwin H. Dyer; vice-chairman, Mrs. G. W. Armstrong; Education, Mrs. Raymond Green; Finance, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay; Legislative, Mrs. Wallace H. Jose; Press and Publicity, Mrs. George R. Loud; Program, Mrs. Fred G. Sandford; vice-chairman, Mrs. Alexander I. Peckham; Public Health, Mrs. A. H. Shannon; Social, Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller; Christmas Health Seals, Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett; vice-chairman, Mrs. Charles A. Riley; International Relations, Mrs. J. Porter Russell; Motion Pictures, Mrs. Ernest Cobb; and Art committee, Mrs. Edward D. Wallace.

Triennial at Detroit June 4th to 12th

TRIENNIAL CONVENTION. That Massachusetts clubwomen are much interested in the Triennial Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to be held early in June—4th to 12th—at Detroit, is evidenced by the large number of reservations made with Mr. Walter H. Woods, to go by train. State officers who are going include the president, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, of Whitinsville; Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, second vice-president; Mrs. Herbert F. French, fourth vice-president; Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, of Cliftondale, State director in the General Federation and former State president; and Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, of Belmont, who has the colossal task of being chairman of Program for this big event. Of a list of about seventy names already announced as signed up for the trip, the Newtons can claim the following: Mrs. C. E. Valentine, Mrs. S. F. Tuttle, and Mrs. Edward B. Gray, all of Auburndale; Miss Nellie M. Osborne and Miss Florence M. Osborne, of Newton Upper Falls; and Mrs. Corabelle Francis, of Newton. Other names of interest to Newton clubwomen, as well-known among them because of positions held in the State Federation or in the Twelfth District, include Mrs. Norman H. Hastings, of Roslindale; Mrs. George A. Mellen, of Lawrence; Mrs. Selden E. James, of Wellesley Hills; Mrs. Carl S. Floyd, of Winthrop; Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, of Boston; and Mrs. Walter H. Woods, of Chestnut Hill.

The Juniors are interested in this big event, because of the many plans made for their entertainment among the gala festivities. An announcement that was eagerly awaited was the name of the winner of the Junior Traveling Scholarship, an award of all expenses paid for the Junior who is chosen delegate to the meeting of the General Federation, by funds especially raised therefor in the State Federation. Miss Sylvia E. Koose, president of the Wollaston Junior Woman's Club, is the lucky girl. To a Newton girl, Miss Martha Wight, of Newton Centre, this honor fell not long in the past. Miss Koose is a student at the Portia Law School.

The Detroit Juniors, headed by Miss Hazel Pierce, president of the Michigan Council of Juniors, and other officers of this Council, have collaborated with Mrs. Edward M. Land, chairman of the department of Juniors in the General Federation, to produce a program that will have an important place in the Triennial sessions and activities.

Miss Ruth Minard Lothrop, of Quincy, winner of last year's Traveling Scholarship for Massachusetts, will be one of the speakers.

Headquarters for the Juniors will be at the Book-Cadillac Hotel, where all meetings will be held, the program opening with a Breakfast on Wednesday, June 5th. Forums will be held on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. At a Luncheon on Thursday, a theme entitled "The Apple Tree" will be developed through roots, trunk, and finally the fruit.

Another appealing program announced there to be presented by the Junior Literary Society, of Point Huron, Michigan, on "Junior Night," when "The Winged Way" will be staged by them.

Every afternoon there will be Tea—Tea, Polish; Tea, English; Tea, Russian, which proves that all tastes will be pleased.

The delightful "Frolie" is scheduled for Friday evening; and "Play Day" will be shared with the senior clubwomen.

The Life and Drum Corps, of La Moure, North Dakota, will give gallant entertainment, also, to the Juniors.

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

Twenty-three members of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. met at the Peabody Tea Room at Oak Hill for the Luncheon and Annual Meeting on Monday, May 13th. Mrs. Helen A. Ward, the president, was in the chair. A witty and able report of the work of the past year was read by the secretary, Miss Adelaide R. Webster. The Luncheon was in charge of the chairman of the Work committee for the current year, Miss Marion B. Morse. Those who planned the program for next year was given by Miss Mary E. Hyde, the chairman, assisted by Miss Anna S. Thompson, co-chairman. The following officers were elected for the year 1935-1936: President, Mrs. (Continued on Page 8)

The Newton Garden Club, of which Mrs. Fred H. Loveland is president, held its Annual Flower Show in the spacious barn on the estate of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., at 170 Sargent street, on Wednesday and Thursday, May 15th and 16th, and by popular demand the time was extended to include Friday, the 17th. Never has the Garden Club staged so successful a Show, both in point of numbers of visitors, 1,449 being the recorded attendance, and in the variety of exhibits. Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., as General chairman, had the big task of overseeing personally all arrangements.

There were eight Classes entered, each under the supervision of a chairman. Besides these special classes of exhibits there was one unexpected entry which was most attractive. This was a Woodland Trail, with a tinkling waterfall, a pool which contained live trout, and a bridge of four birch logs spanning this pool which (Continued on Page 8)

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled
Christian Science: The Science of Self-Expression

by
Dr. John M. Tutt, C.S.B. of Kansas City Missouri

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

Dr. John M. Tutt of Kansas City, Missouri, on Monday evening, May 20th gave a free lecture on Christian Science to an audience that filled the church auditorium and Sunday School rooms of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton. In introducing the lecturer, Mr. Wm. E. McKee, First Reader, spoke as follows:

Friends:

On behalf of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, Massachusetts, I am pleased to bid you welcome to this lecture on Christian Science which is to be given by a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Christian Scientists use their religion every day of the week, for it is a practical religion, applicable to all our human needs. Those who endeavor to live by its principles are healed of their sicknesses, their sins, of fear, hatred, lack, unemployment, or of any other inharmonious.

Jesus proved in his time, and for all time to come, that the healing from sickness and sin was immediately available to all who sought him. The principle by which Jesus healed has been revealed to us in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. The Truth which makes man free is thus found to be instantly available to us wherever we are.

While reading the account in the Bible where Jesus healed the man "sick of the palsy," Mrs. Eddy was instantaneously healed of a severe injury resulting from an accident. Afterward she healed many others instantaneously of so-called incurable diseases and of sin. Her students and followers have also healed themselves and others of sickness and sin. Many have been healed while reading the Christian Science textbook.

I have proved the instant availability of this power of Truth many times in my own experience, and I know there are many in this audience tonight who have done likewise.

This Science of being is instantly available to all who seek it. We read in Proverbs: "Those that seek me early shall find me."

The subject of our lecture this evening is: "Christian Science: The Science of Self-Expression."

Our lecturer is well qualified by experience and practice to speak to you with authority on this interesting and practical subject.

I now have the pleasure of presenting Dr. John M. Tutt of Kansas City, Missouri.

Dr. Tutt.

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

In Christian Science one learns that the substance of anything is the meaning of it; what that thing is in mind. The substance of a thought, a purpose, an act, a thing is to be sought and found. There could be no higher incentive to that search than the example afforded by the Discoverer, Founder, and Leader of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy; for it was her lifelong delving into the Bible for its substance, its divinely mental import, that enabled this spiritually-minded woman to discover the real, the spiritual meanings of the Scriptures, and to reduce divine Science, or knowledge of God and His creation, man and the universe, to human apprehension and utilization. Her discovery, and its application to human needs, Mrs. Eddy set forth in her textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Of this volume she declares: "It is a book of self-expression, the highest meaning of this book since writing it" (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 114). Again, of herself, she writes, in the Boston Herald for May 8, 1900, under the caption "A Word in Defence": "I even hope that those who are kind enough to speak well of me may do so honestly and not too earnestly, and this seldom until mankind learn more of my meaning and can speak justly of my living" (Miscellany, p. 264). Of truer and well-wisher alike, this oft-times misunderstood woman asked only to be understood. The facts of her life are to be found in authentic and authorized biographies obtainable at Christian Science Reading Rooms. They are also told by individuals yet living, who knew and loved her. But Mrs. Eddy has cited the searcher to look for her especially in her writings. Through these sources of reliable information one reaches the inevitable conclusion that only a divinely inspired thinker could have written "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures"; that only a true and courageous character could have lived her life of selflessness and devotion to mankind. As the meaning of Christian Science dawns upon one's consciousness there comes also the understanding of Mrs. Eddy's life-purpose and ceaseless toil, that the gospel of the kingdom might be brought to every dweller on the earth. To know the meaning of Christian Science is to know Mrs. Eddy's meaning, for Christian Science and Mrs. Eddy are inseparable. That deeply spiritual meaning is illustrated in these words from the book of Job: "When men are cast down, then thou shalt say, There is lifting up; and he shall save the humble person; He shall deliver the island of the innocent; and it is delivered by the pureness of thine hands."

A Story and an Allegory

And now, to introduce the theme of my discourse, may I tell you a story, symbolical of the meaning of Christian Science, what it is, and how, through the power of its Christly qualities, it operates to heal and to save human kind.

This is a story of the great African diamond fields—a simple tale soon related, but not to be lightly considered nor idly put aside; for if I can convey to you some of the valuable lessons this incident taught me, we should have a memorable hour together.

It was my privilege while at Kimberley to visit one of the mines where I followed the day's run of some sixty thousand tons of diamond-bearing rock and earth through the many stages of reduction to but a few pounds of concentrates. I watched the containers dump these concentrates on the pulsators. These pulsators are long, shallow inclined troughs, partly filled with petroleum jelly and constantly agitated by machinery. Down the pulsators there flows a stream of water which carries with it the mixture of soil, small stones, and the coveted diamonds, comprising the concentrates. Because of an affinity for the grease the diamonds adhere to the petroleum jelly, while the remaining mass rushes down the incline to be swept away at the bottom.

As I stood watching the virgin stones clinging to their soft bed an operator touched my shoulder and asked, "Would you care to see the most unusual stone that ever came off that pulsator?" I had visions of another Kohinoor, but, to my surprise, he placed in my hand a pebble about two inches in diameter, flat on one side, convex on the other—just a common bit of rock, worn smooth by ages of buffeting, the action probably of glacial ice and water. I said: "This stone does not appear extraordinary. I have seen many similar ones." "True," said he, "but just place the pebble on its convex side, near the bottom of the pulsator, and you will see how different this stone is." I followed his directions, and to my amazement the little stone was suddenly galvanized into activity. It began to rock with the pulsator, and then to move—not downward, but actually upward, through the mass of rocks and soil and water flowing down the trough. Stones larger, and masses of earth, kept colliding with the little pebble, at times fairly submerging it, but only for an instant; then it would shake itself free and go on mounting steadily, without deflection, keeping a straight course, until at last it rested poised and serene at the top. Again and again I placed the stone at various points on the pulsator, and invariably it exhibited the same behavior: always it climbed—not to be denied—eagerly, to the top. And as I watched with marveling eyes, I said: "Little humble stone of no intrinsic value, you are far more precious than all the diamonds ever taken from this mine! What is it your vibrant being is teaching me? Not suppression but self-expression!"

The Qualities of Christ

To cognize a thing we examine its qualities; so that we might say it is the qualities of a thing which make it what it really is. Let me repeat: we cannot know a thing, a book, a person until we grasp the purpose, the meaning thereof. Then in paraphrase of Scripture we may ask: What mean ye by this stone? And, though I may not be that in the light of Christian Science I can undertake to catch the meanings of the qualities illustrated by the conduct of this pebble and to construe them to a world desperately in need of awakening from the downward motion and confusion of mass mesmerism, as typified by the concentrates on the pulsator.

No doubt the physicist, seeking the explanation of the pebble's apparent defiance of gravitation, might find satisfaction in certain laws of mechanics and mathematics. In Christian Science, we may look beyond the physics involved and arrive at the very "substance of things hoped for." We may arrive at the healing and saving Christ, the idea of Truth which Christian Science reveals, which Christ Jesus exemplified, and which St. Paul indicated would be, in each of us, "the hope of glory." And if we seek for and find the qualities of Christ we shall find healing and saving grace for all today's and every day's problems. We shall know how we also may climb all heights, stem all floods, breast the currents of wrong thinking, even the whole of the world's thought and action running against good, against well-being, and well-doing.

Whatever is a quality of God, a good quality, is also a friend of mortal man, performing the office of Christ, healing and preserving mankind from evil, sin, sickness, lack, limitation, woe—all error—and bringing the kingdom of God on earth.

The Science of Individualism

Consider, then, our theme, namely, that Christian Science is the Science of individualism or self-expression. Consider that the qualities of Christ, each and severally, unfold the divine allness of good, of God, of Truth; and that, imbued with these spiritual qualities, the individual can deny erroneous common consent; act, when necessary, contrary to the mass; and expose the impotence of evil to obstruct or prevent the unfoldment and fulfillment of a right idea. This Science of individualism, this monopoly of "one with God," good, was illustrated by Christ Jesus who, one among many, became the Saviour of all. Again was the Science of individualism illustrated when Mrs. Eddy lifted her lone voice, and being against the mass error of a world crashing headlong in materialism. She, even as did Jesus, manifested the saving and healing qualities of Christ, by which only can the individual successfully go against a world of people, things, and thoughts downward bent. Jesus' life-work and that of Mrs. Eddy combine to cry, in the words of that other great individualist, Paul, "come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing."

deprive it, I say, of both cause and effect; and cause and effect being inseparable, the destruction of either in human consciousness obliterates both from mind and body.

"Alone With Thee"

Do you recall in a certain beautiful hymn, the words "Alone With Thee"? How many aspects and degrees of loneliness may assume! There is the loneliness of separation from loved ones, familiar faces and scenes. Doctors send patients away sometimes to other climates for the cure of disease, but they find all too often that the patients grow worse from homesickness or loneliness, and that they have only added one illness to another; and so doctors grow wiser.

When I first found Christian Science I was comforted with the thought of God's nearness, the divine immanence. To one that had felt so far removed from good in all its infinite aspects, the sense of God drawing high or of drawing nearer to Him was the breaking of the fast of spiritual hunger, the lifting of the awfulness of loneliness.

Exterior view of The Mother Church.

God's power. Individuality and identity indicate the difference between ideas, no two of which—even as it is with the blades of grass beneath our feet, the leaves of the trees, the grains of sand on the seashore—can ever be exactly alike. This is the Science of Christianity, in agreement with Jesus' teaching, "The very hairs of your head are all numbered." Here, then, may you proclaim in your true being: I am an individual expression of intelligence; and I shape my course wisely against ignorant mass motion! Christian Science teaches one God, the intelligent creator, and hence infinite, divine Mind; one Christ, the ideal man, illustrated by Christ Jesus; Christ, the spiritual quality of Truth, opposed to all error; Christ, the idea of God's healing and saving activity; one man, the creation, manifestation, unfoldment, development, evolution, idea of Mind, of good, of God; God, Christ, man—inseparable in oneness, in unity of being and acting, indivisible, complete, containing beings; yet distinct as cause and effect, Father-Mother Love, and off-spring, Mind and idea, essence and quality.

The True and False Individuality

God's infinite variety, comprised in the infinitude of ideas, cannot be stated adequately in finite terminology. There can be no plurality of being. Yet the plural of idea is permissible, as conveying to human consciousness the thought of individuality; that is, of God's infinite variety. The glorious effect on mankind of the Science of individuality is witnessed in Jesus' proclamation, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." When into the individual human consciousness there comes a gleam of recognition of the individual ego, there begins the influx of truth and efflux of error, and the ascent to consciousness of perfect being is under way. Such an one learns to say in all humility and pride: I am an individualized manifestation of Mind. I am myself! Self-expression is God-expression, for each individual is God's expression of Himself; and the embodiment of God is the expression of good. The self-expression of good, of God, is man—which means all men and each man. Now, since evil is the opposite of good, and good is Truth, evil must be the self-assertion of a lie. That supposed opposite of divine Mind or intelligent being, that opposite which Paul termed the carnal mind and Mrs. Eddy called—for want of a better term—mortal mind, in what seems to be consistent opposition to Spirit, God, expresses itself in a counterfeit presentment called mortal, or material man, which means all mankind and each mortal, and includes all error, or the supposed opposite of good. Thus the one evil, the evil one, puts forth a false claim to individuality, called material person. Now, if we concede an effect from a cause, we give power to the cause and reality to the effect. We must therefore deny error, whether it be material personal sense, sin, sickness, or other manifestations of mortality—ness, of the belief of separation from good. Then, as study and experience brought progress in Truth and glimpses into the deeper things of God, I learned to feel His very presence. That sense of presence was many leagues farther on the Science of Christianity, in agreement with Jesus' teaching, "The very hairs of your head are all numbered." Here, then, may you proclaim in your true being: I am an individual expression of intelligence; and I shape my course wisely against ignorant mass motion! Christian Science teaches one God, the intelligent creator, and hence infinite, divine Mind; one Christ, the ideal man, illustrated by Christ Jesus; Christ, the spiritual quality of Truth, opposed to all error; Christ, the idea of God's healing and saving activity; one man, the creation, manifestation, unfoldment, development, evolution, idea of Mind, of good, of God; God, Christ, man—inseparable in oneness, in unity of being and acting, indivisible, complete, containing beings; yet distinct as cause and effect, Father-Mother Love, and off-spring, Mind and idea, essence and quality.

The More Abundant Life

Christ Jesus, the incomparable individualist, said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." In Christian Science, the right sense of "I," expressed in individual thought and conduct, comes to solve both individual and mass problems. The corrective power of a right example affects one and all. That example, as Jesus gave it, means not waiting on another to act or think, but it means a leading of the way. Self-expression is the way of the more abundant life; Christ, the idea of Truth, in each of us, triumphing over error, even as it brings to light the eternal facts of real selfhood. Mrs. Eddy writes (Science wish to know the spiritual fact, you can discover it by reversing the material fable, be the fable pro or con." Let us perform the seemingly impossible by reversing the fables—turning them and turning from them; more, let us, through the Christ-qualities of thought and conduct even utilize the unseen laws, and thus turn defeat into victory. By reversal, these so-called laws of matter lend their aid to a positive spiritual activity, and although the stars in their courses fought against Sisera in his error, all things work together for good to those that are spiritually-minded. Science and Health tells us (p. 447): "The recuperative action of the system, when mentally sustained by Truth, goes on naturally." It is natural for the body to be well. When the pressure and distortion of wrong thinking is removed, it is natural for the body to get well. We must work positively, within our God-given abilities and capacities, and so we shall deal with the mass error all about us effectively. Our denials of the seeming power of error will be actual achievements, evidenced by our forward motion against all claims contrariwise. Denials, without the power and possession of spiritual understanding, are without force or meaning. Effective mental work is not in mere words, but rather in the deeper meanings which take form in action. Indeed, the words of Truth without right action become vain repetitions, such as the heathen use. We must stem the tide of general mortal thought, and prove—each for himself—the way against mass mesmerism. Thus separated from the current running against good, we progress inevitably.

Interdependence and Interdependence

The Science of individualism does not induce selfishness. It means not only self-care, but care also of others. It inculcates Jesus' precept, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Man exists individually, but also collectively, and all ideas are mutually interdependent in the allness and oneness of Mind. Man's relation to God involves man's relation to man, and the Golden Rule practiced illustrates the Christianly scientific unity. Yet man's action is individual, even though at times seemingly merged with that of the whole. However, both the interdependence and the interdependence of ideas always work for good, never for error, for health, never for disease, for abundance, never for lack. Man is not dependent on evil in any way, but is always independent of it, whether evil falsely claims to be persons, or things, or thoughts.

The Way of Affirmation

The qualities of Christ, we note most importantly, enable us to take the positive position in moments of gravest need, to take the way of affirmation of good. In supreme optimism, we may dissent from the wrong course of the whole world even though the prospect may not look favorable to such a procedure—every apparent fact arguing against success. My friend, does your whole world seem negative? Christian Science comes to you to bring joy, usefulness, health, and achievement right where it finds you. It is a touch of false theology that holds out only a vague promise of future welfare and happiness. "Now is the day of salvation," cried Paul. Two quotations from Mrs. Eddy's pen are pertinent and helpful here. Once she wrote to a branch church (Miscellany, p. 202): "The way is narrow at first, but it expands as we walk in it." Again, she wrote of feeble followers and students (Miscellany for 1901, p. 29): "If adverse winds are blowing, this is no excuse for waiting till the wind shifts. They should remember that mother worked and won for them by facing the wind." And so, my friends, like this brave woman, we must keep on the positive side and make, relying on intelligence, for intelligence always prevails over ignorance. The way will never fail to open to eager, expectant feet.

Leaners and Doers

The diamonds seeking their rest in the petroleum jelly, and the common little pebble wrestling its way upward there on the pulsator, furnished a vivid illustration. The diamonds correspond to those individuals whose native goodness renders them readily amenable to good. They display such natural affinity for Truth as to gravitate promptly to the healing and saving sanctuary. These are the leaners. But they take the first line in the textbook much too exclusively literally. They learn "on the sustaining infinite" (Science and Health, Pref., p. vii), yet they are prone to disregard that other line, "The time for thinkers has come." Such students are faithful in reliance on Christian Science. They may not resort to drug medication or make other foolish compromises with error. They may be faithful in attendance at church services. They may go over the Lesson-Sermon daily. But if they make scant progress, why is it? They rarely truly are vibrant with Christ. It is hard to find fault with a diamond, even if in the rough, but the strength of a cause is not in the number of diamonds clinging to their soft beds; rather in those rarer and far more precious stones, which go forward because they are never satisfied with less than perfection nor content with "well enough." These are the doers—alert, vital, dynamic! Mrs. Eddy tells us in Science and Health (p. 195): "Observation, invention, study, and original thought are expansive and should prosper the growth of mortal mind out of itself, out of all that is mortal." Consider the individual that observes, invents, studies, and thinks originally. He it is that illustrates man's function in creation. He works and does. His heart is warm towards humanity. His exemplification of service is not, "Serve I see!" Such individuals illustrate Mrs. Eddy's words (Miscellany, p. 160): "To live so as to keep human consciousness in constant relation with the divine, the spiritual, and the eternal, is to individualize infinite power; and this is Christian Science." My friends, if we are to accept Jesus' admonition, "If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them," should not consider each within his own peculiar knowledge of himself, to which class we belong—the leaners or the doers? And unless we find ourselves in the latter class, may we not properly make shift to shift into more favorable position? For the qualities of Christ, spiritual and dynamic, may, yea, must, eventually be ours. Indeed, these qualities are now ours. We may draw without measure on the divine intelligence for wisdom and power to know and do all good.

No Deterrent Attributes

There is no mystery about the achievement of the spiritually-minded man, amazing as it may seem to the casual eye. But let it be noted: no deterrent attributes, no negative qualities can be allowed to interfere with accomplishment. All the spiritual lines of force are yea, yea, to good, and nay, nay, to error. The downward tendency of a wrong motive or a negative quality of thought, enter the mind instead of being destroyed, is the Achilles' heel which renders man a person vulnerable! In Africa there is a snake called the mamba. One variety lives in trees, and its vivid green is a perfect camouflage with the tropical foliage. Unlike the rattlesnake the mamba gives no warning of its deadly strike. Resentment is the mamba of mortal mind, which, if indulged, spreads its virus through mind and body. Do you ask, Can resentment be the cause of a physical or other ailment? Yes, and no. Bad qualities of mortal mind, such as resentment, are never wholesome, so they should never be indulged nor allowed to remain in conscious or tacit thought. Tacit wrong thought—that is, thought acquiescent in evil—is also plastic thought. Liable to mortal mind's molding into shapes of sin, disease, and discord, want and woe. All bad qualities tend to weaken one's morale. But in themselves, even moral faults have no specific power to produce special diseases. To become causative they must be powered by the individual's mental consent, or by the plasticity of his tacit acquiescence. Even then they are mere incense, for it is always a false state of belief on the individual's part that empowers error to produce an untoward result on his body. It is not the venom of the mamba, but the victim's belief in its deadliness that would kill. To emulate our Master, Christ Jesus, one's life must be set against error; all one's conscious and unconscious effort to be and embody good must be in unremitting employment. Then when error obtrudes itself specifically, or is found lurking in ominous camouflage, we shall have disempowered it already, and triumph over the false claims will follow. Affirmation of good in word and life is denial of evil, and denial of evil may be affirmation of good. If our heart denies evil, its nothingness appears in the exclusive presence of good, of health and wealth, harmony and achievement. Let our denial of error be not only in words, but also within the intent of our hearts and the content of our lives.

The Science and Art of Salvation

The Science and art of individualism will enable us to triumph over mental intoxication and mass mesmerism. The individual mortal does not originate sin and sickness, depression and lack, but he may express them; or else he may turn from error or turn it, reverse its false claims, and thus free himself from it. So, as the Scriptures have it, even as through one individual mortal, Adam, sin entered the world, and by sin, death, so by one man, Christ Jesus, including each of his followers, come righteousness, life, and salvation. Salvation is both the Science of the perfection of the real man and, as applied to mortals, the art of individual practice of that Science, the application of the facts of perfect being to the individual life of mortality. Sin, and disease, as a false supposition, are universal; as a practice, they are individual. The sinner does not originate sin, nor does the sick man make disease, but the false claim both of sin and of sickness must be destroyed in individual consciousness, for there alone does it seem to exist. The individual may not be guilty of the bad conditions into which he has fallen. He may, indeed, be the innocent victim of circumstances he could not control. But he must also be innocent of any thought or conduct that would increase or continue the unhappy predicament. He must assume the responsibility of disagreement with bad surroundings, and, in his action against the error, overcome the lies claiming to hold him in helpless acquiescence in the tragic circumstances and prospect. If we keep thought above the mass thinking all about us, keep our thought individualized in line with positive expression of good, we shall triumph over sin and disease, straightened circumstances, all discord; we shall rest serene at the top.

Receptivity

The way of salvation is indeed through the qualities of Christ. Let us consider some of the most important of these qualities, that our theology and our medicine may be healthful; that ourselves may be Christian, our work scientific. Paul tells us, "The just shall live by faith"—and faith means both the belief in good, the understanding of it, and the unbelief, or disbelief in evil, the understanding of its nothingness. Jesus did not discuss diseased conditions of mind or body. Instead he inquired as to the patient's belief in God's power to heal through Christ; and on receptivity he based both his acceptance of a case and the issue of his work to heal and to save. Let us consider, then, that we must be receptive—receptive of good—and if I may be allowed the word, rejective of evil. There is a close analogy between faith and receptivity. Jesus tells us, "Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." The little child's natural receptivity to good is proverbial, and that quality bases the way of salvation. It is the childlike faith in good that provides the open door of expectation through which Christ, the consciousness of Truth, enters into one's experience. It is unexpectancy, hardness of heart and stiffness of neck; it is lack of belief; it is membership in the skeptics' society that fundamentally excludes one from health, abundance, harmony, achievement. Jesus voiced the acme of effectual prayer when he said, "What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them." What, then, is the measure and the assurance of faith to receive? It is the reception of good asked for, and no other sign shall be given. "Blessed is the man that trusteth in thee;" "No good thing will be withheld from them that walk uprightly."

Self-Knowledge

Another important attribute of Christ is self-knowledge. One of Jesus' prominent characteristics was his supreme confidence in himself. He knew his origin, his mission, and his infinite ability to fulfill the program before him. Self-expression is the setting forth of the mind, the manifestation of conscious being. It is divine Mind's knowledge or conception of itself. You and I must fulfill our destiny as God's expression of Himself, and we must do it through self-knowledge. Ignorance of self induces in mortals paralysis of clear thought and right action, out of which functions achievement must come. Ignorance of self is the utter darkness and vacuity of non-expression; an impossibility in truth, but the quintessence of mortal belief. Self-knowledge is the lifting of the "I" up from the earth. It is the identification of one's self with the central intelligence. We can, through self-knowledge, manifest the wisdom to do the things necessary to success. That self-knowledge is not intellect; it is intelligence, which is all-powerful, supreme over all. We must seek it. We must possess it. Said Christ Jesus: "Ye believe in God, believe also in me." Believe in the son. Believe in your real self—that is, know yourself! For in self-knowledge is power for good and power over error.

Self-Control

Self-knowledge is no more fundamental and no more important than self-control. This quality is the outstanding mark of a great man. It means balance, equilibrium, poise, a sense of values. Self-control is dominion over all, over the compound of lesser ideas which comprise man—dominion, that is, over one's self. Self-knowledge enables one to feel the sense of surety and security which comes from a right understanding of

THE STATE LOTTERY DEFEATED

The possibility of the establishment of a state lottery was averted this week when the House of Representatives killed the measure which had been before it for the previous ten days. As we see it there can be no justification for such a method of raising revenue. Fundamentally a lottery is unsound. It has for its base the element of chance without the steady influence of skill, value, or any other attribute. We have frequently heard that the lottery is no worse than the stock market, the playing of cards, or other "speculations." There is the purchase of something of value in dealing in the stock market, and there is a great element of skill in playing cards. True it is that the lottery may not be any worse than the "nigger pool" or other such rackets. The state lottery would be a legalized form of gambling. In buying a lottery ticket or "playing numbers" the element of value or skill is entirely lacking. Another expression often heard is that life is a gamble. Here also are the elements of ability, environment, opportunity and the progress of civilization. We have yet to find the argument in favor of a state lottery that cannot be refuted.

DISTILLERIES ARE PROHIBITED

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen the other night a change in the zoning ordinance was made by which distilleries and rectifying plants for alcoholic beverages are prohibited from being established in Newton. We believe that the city fathers have taken a wise step. It was not entirely a question of license or no-license. The voters of Newton have expressed their preference for licensed sale of alcoholic beverages and regardless of whether or not license continues the sale of beverages is far different than the manufacture or blending of liquors. The important question, as we see it, and have previously stated, is the question of control over the situation by local authorities. A distillery or blending plant operates under a Federal license and once granted the city has little control. Furthermore if Newton voters at some later time vote to prohibit licenses for sale of alcoholic liquors such a vote would not prevent the operation of distilleries that might be in operation.

MEMORIAL DAY APPROACHES

With Memorial Day at hand the thought of those who fought to preserve the Union naturally comes to mind. While the numbers of those who took part in that historic struggle are rapidly diminishing their deeds live on. In the past twenty years we have come also to honor those who took part in the world war. The day has become one in which we pay homage to those who participated in each war in the history of the nation. In honoring those who have upheld the honor of the country in times past let us not forget the debt of gratitude that we owe them. Many of them fought and died for their country. Many of them fought but lived on, crippled in mind and body, suffering until they were called to the Great Beyond. Let us give our all to the end that there may be everlasting peace and good will on earth.

Lights Match Over Gas Tank

James Janis of Wolcott street, Malden had a bright thing at 12:39 a. m. Monday morning and much brightness followed. James lighted a match over the opening on the gasoline tank of his car to see if there was any gas in the tank. There was—enough to cause an explosion and fire. Before the firemen managed to extinguish the blaze, the car had been badly damaged. James escaped injury.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edward H. Powers

There is an old fable about some foolish fellows who killed a goose that laid golden eggs. We would recommend this fable to those dispensers of alcoholic beverages in Newton who this week petitioned the Newton License Commission that music be permitted in their places until eleven o'clock nights. At present the rule is that music, or alleged music in these places, must cease at 9:30 p. m. There is one liquor dispensing place in the city which has been accorded special privileges and has been permitted to provide music and singing for its patrons until 11 o'clock nights. Undoubtedly, owners of other liquor places have been influenced by this discrimination to seek the same unwarranted privilege. Some months ago a widow who owns a two-family house near the liquor place which has been allowed to have music until late at night, asked the writer what she could do to obtain relief from the noise which kept her up until near midnight and caused tenants in her house to leave. We suggested that she protest to the License Commission. There is no good reason why one liquor place should be given a special privilege denied to all the other liquor dispensing establishments.

We would remind those engaged in the liquor business in this city that there is apt to be much stronger opposition to license when this question is again before the people in this city. This will be the result of the bitter controversy over the matter of granting a permit for a liquor blending establishment in this city. As one who voted for license in Newton, we would suggest to those who signed the petition to which we refer, that they leave well enough alone, unless they desire to add to the number of those who will vote against granting liquor licenses in this city.

This afternoon all that remains mortal of John Snider will be laid to rest in Newton Cemetery. The courteous little gentleman who served the people of Newton the past five years as manager of the Paramount Theatre bravely carried on his duties while struggling against the illness from which he died. During these five years John Snider endeavored to love Newton and its people and it is fitting that he should rest in this city's beautiful burial place.

We agree with Alderman Guzzi relative to the appointment of outsiders to public offices in Newton. This city prides itself on its outstanding schools, the unusually high standard of intelligence of its residents; yet, in recent years when a public office is to be filled, the position has been given to someone from outside the city. And all sorts of schemes have been devised the past few years to give our unemployed white-collar workers some relief. The health of Newton has been far above that of the average city in past years, and Newton's Health Department has been the recipient of much praise. It was not necessary to go to California for a man to head our Health Department, even though by so doing students from the Harvard School of Public Health will assist—and be assisted.

One of the meanest acts of vandalism perpetrated in Newton in recent years was performed at the estate of Dr. W. Duncan Reid, 36 Hyde avenue, Newton, last Sunday afternoon. During the absence of the family some onery human went into Dr. Reid's yard and systematically destroyed every flower bed there except one in front of the house where the contemptible work of the vandal might have been observed by neighbors. Over 100 tulips and 40 ferns were torn up and a rock garden destroyed. There are some queer persons in this world.

One of the most attractive lawns in this city is that of George F. Malcolm at 587 Walnut street, Newtonville. It reflects credit on Mr. Malcolm and his gardener.

A special bus in charge of John J. Pendergast of the American Legion will carry delegations of the various veteran organizations to the Newton Cemetery on Memorial Day morning to decorate graves. Another delegation will decorate graves at Evergreen Cemetery, Brighton. Exercises will be held as usual at St. Mary's Cemetery, Lower Falls, at the bank of the Charles River in that village, and graves will be decorated at Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. Contributions of flowers are asked from Newton residents. They may be left on the afternoon or evening of May 29 at the various fire stations throughout the city and at Rhodes drug store, Waban. A memorial service will be held on Sunday at 11 a. m. at the Second Baptist Church, Upper Falls; Rev. James A. Whitten will officiate.

There are only six members of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R., now surviving. These are Commander Leonard Boyd, Curtis Abbott, William Ayres and Otis Gray of Newton; Joseph Rossiter of East Boston and C. Patten of Springfield. It is probable that only a couple of these old veterans can attend. For the first time since Memorial Day was established, no G. A. R. man will be on the staff of the Chief Marshal.

Aldermen Change Zoning To Bar Distilleries

Alderman Melcher said Newton has the reputation of being a city of homes, its buildings have a higher assessed value than those of any other cities in the State except Boston, Cambridge, Worcester and Springfield, and to allow alcoholic manufactures in the city would lessen its attractiveness and lower values.

Alderman Guzzi said he represents Ward 3 where the Martin Mfg. Company's building is located and that he has received only two written protests and one telephone protest against allowing it to be used as a rectifying plant. He stated that hundreds of Ward 3 residents had asked him to vote in favor of such a use of the building, including all nearby residents. Guzzi said if such is allowed it will give employment to 150 persons and relieve the welfare burden of the city. Alderman Rawson said he had talked with an expert on the manufacturing of alcohol and had been told that the largest rectifying plant in this State only employs 75 persons. The expert told Rawson that a plant in a building the size of the Martin factory would probably employ about 15 men and several girls in the office.

Alderman Hutchinson said the doors of Newton have been wide open for breweries and distilleries to come into its manufacturing zones, but none have come because there are not proper railroad facilities. He commented that Newton would not run down hill if the proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance was not passed. Alderman Walker said the proposed amendment was not directed at the Martin Mfg. Company, but against any manufacturing of alcoholic liquors in Newton. He said the sentiment at the public hearings was overwhelmingly against any such industry in the city. Alderman Hutchinson questioned the accuracy of the inference drawn from the strength shown by an organized opposition at public hearings. He said the grounds about city hall could be filled with an organized crowd of citizens in favor, and the vote at the polls is the only way to get the sentiment of the city as a whole.

Alderman Atkins said that a survey of Newton had been made by experts and they could find no places suitable for breweries or distilleries here. He reiterated that the crowd behind the petition are those who were repudiated at the National, State and city elections.

Alderman Colby said the large majority of citizens of Newton would favor the petition. He said there never has been such a type of business in this city. A roll call vote was then taken on the petition and the members seemed to vie with each other in answering "Yes" or "No" in loud tones. Those voting in the affirmative were—Barwise, McCabe, Hill, Lyon, Bowen, Floyd, McKay, Walker, Holden, Goddard, Inches, Colby, Melcher, Rawson. Those voting in the negative were—Atkins, Grehenstein, Guzzi, Hutchinson, Cronin, Gordon. President Gordon declared the petition had failed to pass, as three-quarters of the members had not voted in favor of it.

The Board then took a recess and when the meeting was resumed President Gordon announced that he had been informed by the City Solicitor that a three-quarter vote was not necessary as a written protest against the petition had not been filed by anyone owning property in a manufacturing zone. The protest filed was from the Martin Mfg. Company whose property is in a business zone; therefore the petition had been passed. Alderman Cronin questioned the ruling and asked City Solicitor Bartlett to read the State statutes. Cronin contended that according to Newton's zoning ordinance, any citizen owning property has a right to protest. Bartlett stated that the law provides that anyone owning real estate effected by the zoning ordinance may protest. Cronin replied that the Newton ordinance does not state that one must be an owner of property in any particular zone to protest, and that Gordon's ruling was in violation of the statutory law. City Solicitor Bartlett said he would look at the latest court rulings, and the Board took a recess while he did so.

When the City Solicitor returned he gave the information that Chapter 269 of the Acts of 1933 provide that prior to a first hearing on any petition for change of zone, a protest must be made by 20% of the owners in the zone or zones affected, or by 20% of the area in question. He said that because of this change in the State law, the Newton zoning ordinance would have to be amended to comply. Cronin moved reconsideration of the vote on the zoning change and President Gordon ruled that as Cronin had voted with the minority he was not eligible to make such a motion. Alderman Holden said that to be fair with the minority he would move for reconsideration, but no one seconded his motion. Alderman Cronin asked the City Solicitor if petitions he had received containing hundreds of names in favor of allowing the Martin Mfg. Company to operate a rectifying plant would qualify as protests from 20%, and Bartlett ruled "No." Alderman Atkins raised the point that there had been no public hearing on the revised petition which the Board had passed. The City Solicitor ruled that the hearing advertised and held was on this petition. Alderman Floyd stated that Chairman Holden of the Claims and Rules Committee had specified at the hearing that the amended petition was being introduced.

And so, the Zoning Ordinance of Newton now prohibits in this city breweries, distilleries, rectifying, bottling of any plants connected with the manufacture of alcoholic beverages. Despite the action of the Aldermen it is not certain yet that the amendment to the ordinance will become effective.

Dr. Choche has been selected to carry out the details of the plan of the Special Committee and his appointment is subject to the approval of the Board of Aldermen at tonight's meeting.

Dr. Choche was graduated from Stanford University Medical School, Palo Alto, California in 1931. He was instructor in preventive medicine in Stanford for two years. He received a Fellowship at Harvard School of Public Health in 1932 and was a resident of Newton during the period of his Fellowship. After a brilliant record in Harvard University, he went to St. Louis, Mo., as Epidemiologist and made a striking success of his work in the Epidemic of Encephalitis that occurred in that city, receiving special commendation from Officers of the U. S. Public Health Service for his work.

He then went to California as State Epidemiologist and almost at once encountered an epidemic of poliomyelitis which ravaged the environs of Los Angeles. Here again he received high praise for his efficient work.

ONE THING.... AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Chain Letter Nightmare
"Don't break the chain," the letter begged.

And so I sent the dime.
Another note and same old plea,
Ten cents again this time.

"Don't break the chain, but send the coin,"
Same story o'er and o'er,
No let-up, but a steady stream,
Still paying, more and more.

"Don't break the chain," the cry is heard
From vale to mountain top,
No one with sporting blood at all
Would think of crying, "Stop."

"Don't break the chain." O have no fear;
It has me weighted down,
I'm sinking in a sea of dimes,
'Neath silvery waves I'll drown.

"Welcome to Our City"

It has been my privilege to observe the arrival at our State capital of many a distinguished visitor. Appreciating the honor of having someone from far-off land or one of our own native-born celebrities in our midst, I have also had a feeling of sympathy for the great one.

Usually accompanied by a committee, the members of which show plainly their eagerness to bask in reflected glory, the guest of the occasion is rushed into the building and, after a climbing of a stiff flight of stairs, is breathlessly ushered into the official chamber of his host.

There is always somebody in the party who keeps a time schedule. Very often, if not always, the whole thing is a trifle behind hand. The schedule-keeper's chief duty appears to be that of frequently reminding the honored visitor that time is fleeting and that several other stops must be made within a limited period.

At this point my heart has never failed to go out to him or her who must "take in" everything on the program. Often they appear extremely tired. If they are bored they manage to conceal it. Invariably their plans are extensive and their day is spread from sunrise to midnight. If it isn't a wearying experience to be thus honored in city after city then I'm way off in my guessing.

Proud of His Trouble

Many a Newton household in which there are children has of late been

ment to the ordinance will become effective. Mayor Weeks has not approved the amendment, and may not do so. He has called a conference between leaders in the attempt to accord the permit for a blending plant at the Martin's building and the leaders of those who have opposed such action. This conference will be held tomorrow night. Should the Mayor veto the vote taken by the Aldermen, it will require a vote of two-thirds of that body to pass the order over the veto. If the Mayor does not veto the order, it will become effective without his signature.

to students from these Universities, an arrangement similar to the one that has been carried out in Baltimore with Johns Hopkins School of Public Health with great benefit to that city.

A special committee was composed of Dr. W. G. Smillie of Waban, Director of the School of Public Health of Harvard University; Dr. Henry D. Chadwick of Newton Centre, State Health Commissioner; John C. Madden of Newton, member of the Newton Board of Health; James Dempsey, of Newton Centre; A. S. Boynton of Auburndale; J. Earle Parker of Waban.

The Savings Bank Life Insurance Plan

An increasing number of thoughtful Newton men and women are coming to the Newton Savings Bank for life insurance and annuity contracts.

Security and stability . . . with low net cost . . . make the Savings Bank Life Insurance plan especially inviting.

Those who come to this bank pay no agent's commission . . . and substantial savings are possible.

Why not apply for this insurance NOW?

upset by the sudden descent of measles, chicken pox, mumps or worse. This very fact was communicated to a young patient in the hope that it would soothe him to know others were as badly off as he. "You're not the only boy, Sonny," he was told, "who must stay in bed these Spring days."

"Yes, but I'll bet I'm one of the sickest," Sonny boastfully replied.

Common Sense Needed
Unfortunately reforms are often brought about after some great sacrifice, like loss of a life. It looks now as if we were to have less fuss and danger when some distinguished person is escorted by the police. Racing motorcycles and screaming sirens will "pipe down" in all probability.

The thing should not end there. Diversion of traffic because of an inconsequential parade or street gathering is another nuisance. The orders given policemen to keep all vehicles off a certain street because "something important" is going on should be modified.

The member of a politician's family was being married and traffic in the vicinity of the church was forbidden.

A physician, called in an emergency to attend a child on that very street was told he could not drive on the thoroughfare. He asked the policeman's name and the latter said, "What do you want to know for?"

"So that the family may know why I couldn't get there in time to save the baby's life," the doctor replied.

Of course the doctor was allowed to proceed, but they shouldn't order the police to do such fool things. A country that brags of its spirit of democracy permits goings-on that wouldn't be tolerated in an absolute monarchy.

He Could Tell 'em
This week's suggestion is that you must take erudition where you find it. It appears that a Newton woman and her daughter went shopping in Boston the other day. The family auto was in the repair shop so they traveled to town by trolley.

Coming out they found an accumulation of bundles so burdensome they decided to engage a taxicab. On the way out they talked of Spring and associated thoughts and finally the mother said, "There's been a verse running in my head but I can't seem to remember all of it. As I recall it begins:

When all the world is young, lad,
And all the trees are green,
And every goose a swan, lad,
And every lass a queen.

There was a pause. Mother looked at daughter, who disclaimed any knowledge.

From the front seat came the voice of the taxicabman:

Then hey for boot and saddle, lad,
And round the world away,
Young blood must have its course, lad,
And every dog his day.

The passengers were transfixed. A moment later the driver added, "That was written by Charles Kingsley. You must remember his story, 'Water Babies,' that you read in school."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 26.

The Golden Text is: "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God" (Psalms 84:2).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that he bowed down. The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing" (Psalms 145:14-16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We cannot deny that Life is self-sustained, and we should never deny the everlasting harmony of Soul, simply because, to the mortal senses, there is seeming discord. It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony. Truth will at length compel us all to exchange the pleasures and pains of sense for the joys of Soul" (p. 399).

STATE FEDERATION

In the announcement from the Executive Board of the State Federation of chairmen of departments to serve for the coming year Newton clubwomen will find it interesting that two new chairmen are recent presidents of Newton clubs. Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, of West Newton, who has just completed her term as president of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, is to be State chairman of Social Welfare. She has been vice-chairman of this division the past year.

Mrs. Herbert Blair, of Newtonville, a former president of the Newtonville Woman's Club, has been appointed chairman of Education. Mrs. Blair is now a vice-president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. She is the wife of Prof. Herbert Blair of Boston University.

Other chairmen appointed are Mrs. J. Verity Smith, of West Roxbury, Child Welfare; Mrs. Harold Scheibe, of Belmont, Literature; Mrs. John A. Jennings, of Brookline, Club Institutes; Miss Ruth Lothrop, of Quincy, Junior Membership; and Mrs. Charles R. Storey, of Brockton, Meetings. Perhaps the best known of these are Mrs. Jennings who has served as chairman of Meetings, and who has made many friends among the clubwomen of the State, not only for her efficiency in this service but for her courtesy and efforts for their comfort and real peace of mind; and Miss Lothrop, a former president of the Quincy Juniors, editor of the Junior Page of the General Federation's official magazine, The Clubwoman, and the winner last year of the Traveling Scholarship to attend the spring meeting of this organization. Mrs. Storey, although not so generally known, has served on the Meetings committee with Mrs. Jennings for three years, and is locally known in the vicinity of Brockton, where she served as president of this club of a thousand members.

Another announcement of interest is that Miss Anne Bourque of Weymouth is the winner of the Bishop-Lee Scholarship; and Mrs. Genevieve L. Hutchinson, of Amherst, won the first prize in the Poetry contest, for her poem entitled "Designs," and Mrs. Jean Gorely, of Wellesley Hills, won second prize for her poem "Aviator." Members of thirty women's clubs sent in 140 poems in this contest.

Other Events

Newton Junior Community Club

On Tuesday evening, May 7th, at the Eliot Church, the Newton Junior Community Club met for its last meeting of the year. This year the members gave a Mothers-and-Daughters Banquet, with the mothers of the girls attending as guests. The dinner was under the supervision of Mrs. Rose Costello, and much of its success came from her work and that of her co-workers. Immediately after the last course, of ice cream and cake, the president, Miss Marjorie Clapp, introduced Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, who after a word of greeting, led the group in community singing.

A brief business meeting was necessary as this was the final meeting, and Mrs. Mansfield explained the new plans for the Club for next year. It has been felt that High School girls are unable to do a great deal outside of school, and so it has been decided to form the girls of High School age into a group to be ready to assist the Senior Club when called upon. There will be no more monthly meetings. Eventually the older girls will enter the Senior organization. Mrs. Mansfield appointed Mary Brennan as chairman of the committee to prepare a list of the girls available for next year.

The entertainment for the evening was in charge of Miss Dorothy Perrin, Pianist; Miss Lucy Bradshaw, Vocalist; and Miss Betty Tobey, who gave a dramatic selection. Miss Perrin first played the "Prelude in C Minor" by Chopin, followed by Miss Lucy Bradshaw, singing by Miss Lucy Bradshaw, Miss Betty Tobey then recited "The Highwayman," by Alfred Noyes. In conclusion Miss Perrin played an "Impromptu in D Major," by Adams.

led to a forest depicted invitingly beyond. Trilliums, lady's slippers, and violets bloomed among the ferns, pine, cedar, and spruce. Edging the space allotted for this exhibit was a border of grass in which grew iris, and given height by cedars.

In Class II, Decorative Sprays or Branches, first prize was won by Mrs. Ralph N. Hall; second by Mrs. Ralph Emery; and third by Mrs. Edward Sayer. The containers for these sprays were unusual in adding to the beauty of the exhibit.

No first prize was awarded in Class III, Still Life Composition in Shadow Boxes; second prize was awarded to Mrs. Joseph Gerrity; and third to Mrs. Everett E. Kent.

Class IV, Arrangement of Flowers for Living-Room. There were two divisions in this Class; A, for entrants who had never received an award in a public show; and B, for entries by prize winners only. In the former division, Mrs. Donald Baker won first prize, Mrs. Arnold Barker second, and Mrs. Harry Stebbins third. In B division, Mrs. Fred H. Loveland won first prize, Mrs. Clinton Brown second, and Miss Jeanne Hendricks third. In this class also a special award went to Mrs. Philip Nichols, and special mention went to Donald Cutter, aged twelve.

Class V, Garden Nooks. A, "Wild" and B, "Cultivated." Neighboring Garden Clubs co-operated in making this class of exhibits of outstanding interest. In division A, first prize was awarded to the Newton Centre Garden Club, second prize to the Newton Highlands Garden Club, and third prize to the Wellesley Garden Club.

In division B, first prize was awarded to the Auburndale Garden Club, second to the West Newton Garden Club, and third to the Waban Garden Club and honorable mention to the Newtonville Garden Club. In this group a never-ending source of interest was the exhibit of the Waltham Garden Club's rock garden, with a miniature water-wheel in operation, and five-day-old ducklings swimming in the small pool.

In Class VII, Junior Class. For Wild Flowers. The first prize for exhibits by children under twelve years of age was awarded to Robert Dyer, and the second to Burton Thorndyke; and for exhibits by children from twelve to sixteen years of age, the first was awarded to Clinton Brown, Jr., and the second to William Baker.

In Class VIII, A Bouquet of Flowers on a Window Sill, flowers to be grown by the exhibitor, first prize was awarded to Mrs. Clinton Brown, second to Mrs. Joseph Gerrity, and third to Mrs. Fred H. Loveland.

In Class VIII, Specimen Class, "the best in your garden," the first prize was awarded to Mrs. Everett E. Kent; second to Mrs. Loveland, and third also to Mrs. Loveland.

General chairmen, others in charge were Mrs. Carlos Pierce, Tea chairman; Mrs. Gerrity, House chairman; Mrs. Frank Scofield, Hostess chairman; Mrs. Fred Loveland, Publicity chairman, and those in charge of the eight classes were: Class I, Mrs. Garret Schnecko; II, Mrs. Ralph Emery; III, Mrs. Ralph Hall; IV, Mrs. Ralph Emery; V, Mrs. Herbert Fraser; VI, Mrs. Clinton Brown; VII, Mrs. Philip Nichols; and Class VIII, Mrs. Charles Fredy.

Christian Science Lecture

adequacy—sufficiency for all these things. We may be certain that no condition can face us wherein we cannot make use of the power of good to overcome evil; for, literally, all things do work together for good to them that are so minded. The man that knows and controls himself will turn defeat into victory. If the wolf is at the door, such a man will emerge from the encounter with a fur coat to protect himself against the wintry blast. Such a man knows he is bigger than anything that can happen to him. He knows he is shaped for big things by God's all-wise and almighty hand.

Singleness of Eye

Perhaps no meaning of Christ is more important to us than singleness of purpose. Intent to climb, and to do it despite all "oppositions of science falsely so called," assures success, and points, conversely, to the possible failures of individuals to demonstrate Christian Science in their lives. We must make "no reservation," to quote Science and Health (p. 183), "for any lesser loyalty." Consistency to Christ must be complete. Writing to the Board of Lecturers, Mrs. Eddy admonished (Miscellany, p. 248), "No fatal circumstance of idolatry can fold or falter your wings." Any primary interest other than Christian Science, and what it unfolds and unfolds, may be called a fatal circumstance of idolatry, the worship of a false god. The belief that matter has power for either pleasure or pain; the placing of faith, hope, or expectation in material people or things; more or less hidden belief in the curative power of material medicine; faith in dishonest methods of business—all such false faiths are idolatry, and are inimical to progress and success. Again Mrs. Eddy warns the lecturers, "No fetishism with a symbol can fetter your flight." We must see to it that we attempt no exorcism through the supposed magic either of things or of words. Fetishism with a symbol, whether savage, barbaric, or civilized—surely fetters one's flight. Mrs. Eddy has said (Miscellany, p. 218), "A bad belief is the fool of mesmerism." Attempt no conjure, my friend. Hear these words of Jesus: "If therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!"

Inflexibility

Consider the quality of inflexibility. We must not permit ourselves to be turned from our good purpose. In pursuit of our high calling, we must resist all error's assaults, the buffetings of evil in mass and in particular, and turn them from our path, undeterred by the forcible contacts of ignorant or malicious opposition. Nor need we respond to the temptation to acquire useless or harmful baggage from the milder and more attractive contacts of evil. We should follow the teachings of pure Christian Science: Be free yourselves and leave others free. So we shall not acquire any of the mass of error with which we may collide and under which we may seem submerged. It is not the acquisition of things, the accretion of wealth, and the gratification of desire for material conditions and things, but it is imperatively the triumphing of Truth over error, the reflecting of divine dominion, affluence, harmony, well being and doing that is the demand of wisdom. And know, too, that in inflexibility of purpose and conduct we shall be helpful. We shall not obstruct the way for others and so interfere with their experience and the good it involves. We demand freedom for ourselves, so we must loose others. We must be inflexible in the right. We must be unmovable, both under stress of fear and force, and under the blandishments of evil claiming to be good. The eyes of the world are upon Christians. The world is properly shocked to find followers of Christ dallying in the by-paths of the allurements of this world, indulging in what the world unerring calls bad habits, saturated with materiality, or departing from the strict requirements of divine Science.

Importunity

Akin to inflexibility and singleness of eye is the quality of importunity. This quality of persistence is indispensable in the prayer of Christian Science. We must demand of ourselves the proof of our God-given ability to achieve. Jesus commended this quality, and indicated, in a parable, that if a certain applicant for help had not persisted he would have failed, for the householder came down and let the pleader in and gave him what he requested because of his very importunity. This quality of persistence in good intent and effort requires courage, and Christian Science inculcates courage to the highest degree. Discouragement has been called the devil's favorite weapon, but it is empowered only by lack of faith and lack of perseverance.

Activity

Again, to pray aright is to employ the Christ quality of activity. The motion of mass mesmerism is a negative activity, and going downward with the mass is worse than no motion. In Christian Science, right activity is opposed to torpor, lethargy, and inertia. Right activity illustrates, to quote Mrs. Eddy (Science and Health, p. 445), "the unlabored motion of the divine energy." Right activity reaches beneath the surface of things and utilizes the hidden lines of force. So we must take issue with general mortal belief, such as so-called laws of material medicine, alleged laws of nature, psychology, environment, heredity, and economy.

ies. We must exempt and save ourselves through Christ, the idea of Truth, from the operation of all false laws. We must agree to disagree with them actively, positively, and we must go forward.

Spontaneity

Now for a quality of Christ of greatest importance—spontaneity! We should leap into action. No man should wait for time and tide. Spontaneity is an intelligent quality. It is no blind, unreasoning impulse which does things and hopes for the best. Spontaneity is a stage beyond hope. It is consciousness of all things good being possible—it is even the great white light revealing the presence and possession of good. It is more than hope, for as Paul put it: "But hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?" Spontaneity is the important quality that opposes habit. Spontaneity is based on self-knowledge and that sense of the infinite variety of Mind's ideas. Spontaneity indicates individually, originality in being and acting.

Joy and Enthusiasm

Finally, the disciple of Christ should be vibrant with joy and enthusiasm. That is inevitable, because of self-knowledge, self-control, and the other virtues of Christ. Self-knowledge means no selfishhood apart from God, from good. The consciousness of good, in its abounding spiritual qualities, and the claim of presence to evil, to fear, no worry, no sorrow. There is left only joy, enthusiasm, great expectation, and full, satisfying realization. In this spiritual self-consciousness we enter that heaven which Christ Jesus declared is "within you."

Conclusion

The desire and effort to realize, acquire, and develop in our lives the qualities of Christ may be said to be true prayer; and true prayer is always answered prayer.

How shall we, as individuals, deport ourselves on the rocking pulsator of human life? Shall we listen to mass murmurs, and the clamor of mortal mind, agree with its calamitous claims, and sink our individuality in the contagion of general evil mental consent? Shall we cry with the Lotus-Eaters, in Tennyson's poem:

"Let us alone. What pleasure can we have To war with evil? Is there any peace
In ever climbing up the climbing wave?"

Shall it be, for you and me, repression, suppression, depression, oppression, or shall it be self-expression? If the latter, remember the requirements for individual success, in presence of a depressed and negative social, economic, or physical structure, are in the Christ qualities: affirmativeness versus negation; receptivity of good, but not of evil; self-knowledge; self-control; balance; poise; equilibrium; a sense of values; singleness of eye versus double-mindedness; confidence versus doubt and fear; importunity; persistence in right versus indiffy of purpose and action; activity versus torpor, lethargy, laziness of mind and body; initiative and spontaneity versus inertia and habit; joy and enthusiasm opposed to depression, "blues." We shall have to bear in mind that even as consciousness of possession and right use of all these virtues will bring us triumphantly through the downward struggle, even so agreement with the opposite bad qualities is responsible for the downward course of the mass on human life's pulsator. We cannot get something for nothing. That fallacy is the basic error of the ages. It begins with the very Bible allegory, in the second chapter of Genesis, the story of material creation of a world out of nothing, and extends to all phases of human life unlightened by divine Science. In general world economic and moral problems. It is the speculative or gambling instinct in the human mind. It is seen in the frantic efforts of individuals, of church memberships, and of business firms to retrench themselves into safe enclosures. Mrs. Eddy has enjoined upon church and individuals at all times, wisdom and economy. But it seems as difficult for us to arrive at the one as the other. What constitutes wisdom and economy? Rather adjustment from unwise expenditures to wise provision, and that in times of prosperity as well as of depression. Christian Science does not teach retrenchment. In Mrs. Eddy's own words (Miscellany, p. 203): "All that is worth reckoning is what we do, and the best of everything is not too good, but is economy and riches." The spiritual sense of good is a sense of increasing number, increasing substance, supply, service; and that spiritual sense of good, its all-presence and power, destroys error of all sorts, through exclusive occupancy of the ground. Said Jesus to the repentant Magdalene, "Thy faith hath saved thee"—thy spiritual understanding of truth hath purged thee of error, leaving only the pure substance and consciousness of good.

Then, if we are laboring under a sense of damage from the mass contacts about us; if we feel hurt by the conduct or misconduct of others, or by the evil practice of a world mass-mesmerized, let us not wall for soothing embrocations, nor wait for a turning tide to cast us up on a shore of relief. Let us clean up the home premises of our individual consciousness, for out of the heart are the issues of life, and not out of the machinations of other people or the mechanics of things. Down the pulsator of human life, propelled by the oscillation and downward gravitation of the carnal mind, there rushes a vast horde of confused mankind. What are we individually doing to save ourselves, and to furnish saving examples for our fellow men? Are we to agree to the degradation of the race through vicious habits, loss, lack, decadent morals, debauchery of men and business?

Are we to agree that the "harsh irritants" of life can be removed by "toasting"—either here or hereafter? Are we to go with the mass, to bring back intoxication of the people, to defile the hands of our Government with the filth and crime of the liquor business? Shall we not rather read the signs of these times and be wise individualists, and so good servants of our Lord and of our fellow men? The physician, the philosopher, and the physician, each in his own peculiar way, is approaching that final vision of Truth Mrs. Eddy saw and gave to the world many years ago. What are those who have found Christian Science going to be able to say to these weary searchers when they shall ask: What have you been doing with this precious jewel, the final revelation of Truth to this age? What of your stewardship? Let us hold ourselves to the stern resolution to pray in thought, and to pray in deed, the fervent, effectual prayer of the Kimberley stone—brave, modest, humble little stone; the prayer in action of the qualities of Christ; let us hold ourselves to the rigid requirements of self-reliant expression of all we have seen in the pattern shown us in the mount of vision.

As for the error all about us, let us observe it without belief in it, or indulgence in it, resting assured in Mrs. Eddy's comment in "The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany" (p. 220), "Whatever changes come to this century or to any epoch, we may safely submit to the providence of God, to common justice, to the maintenance of individual rights, and to governmental usages." In the words, and after the example of our dauntless Leader (Message for 1900, p. 15):

"Watch! till the storms are o'er—
The cold blasts done,
The reign of heaven begun,
And love, the evermore."

Newton Orchestra Receives Gift of Musical Library

The Newton Symphony Orchestra, Inc., which has just completed its sixteenth season under the direction of Mr. D. Ralph MacLean, has recently been made the recipient of a very complete musical library containing several hundred selections, presented by a friend of the orchestra, which is to be known as The Ralph MacLean Memorial Library. As this collection includes complete scores of symphonies, concertos, overtures, etc., the orchestra will have a wealth of material from which to draw for future concerts.

Several members of the orchestra gathered at the Colonial Inn in Concord on Saturday evening, May 18, where a banquet was held in honor of Mr. MacLean, the Director. As an expression of appreciation for Mr.
MacLean's leadership, a gift was presented to him from the members of the orchestra.

Plans were also discussed for reorganization for the 1935-36 season, and the following members were appointed to the Board of Directors:
Mr. Nicholas Richardson, Mr. Frank
Hurter, Mrs. G. Roy Bennett, Mrs.
Kenneth Hastings, Mr. Arthur L. Haberstroff, Mr. William Minot, Miss Elsa Badger, Mr. Charles Boyden.

Old Custom Revived at Graymare Riding School

This week Graymare Riding School inaugurates a new diversion by introducing to this city an old form of vehicular transportation.

With an idea, altogether different,
Graymare expects to arouse interest in that old fashioned coach known as the Tally-ho. It has acquired such a vehicle from the Sturgis stable in Newport. It is one of the last park coaches in existence, manufactured by the Brewster Body Co. of Broomfield, New York, now manufacturers of custom built automobile bodies.

The coach is in perfect mechanical condition and is an excellent example of all that the aristocracy could wish for in the way of transportation in the gay 90's.

Besides this Brewster Tally-ho which will accommodate fifteen passengers, Graymare also has a fine
Paris Sedan wagon, made by a French firm of carriage builders, and which was so popular in Europe some years ago.

With these two vehicles parties up to 25 persons can be comfortably accommodated. When interviewed Mr.
Roberts of Graymare said, "We are catering to a high grade clientele; we shall furnish competent drivers, and will go any place selected. Due to present day road conditions as a safety precaution we will use two horses only on the coach instead of four.
We anticipate a great demand for the Tally-ho outings, and have already booked parties for the near future."

Newton People Interested In Wellesley Children's Circus

Newton alumnus and friends of Wellesley College are keenly interested in the Children's Circus which is sponsored by the Boston Wellesley College Club this Saturday at 2 P. M. on the college campus. It had originally been planned to hold the circus on Tupelo Point, but so many reservations have come in that the one-ring circus performance, which begins promptly at 2, will take place on Tower Court Green. At the close of the show, which will last an hour,
a band, imported for the occasion,
will lead the spectators to Tupelo Point, where there will be continuous side shows from 3 to 6. On the screen at Billings Hall the children will share the adventures of Mickey and Minnie Mouse. In Zeta Alpha Society House a puppet show will hold their attention. There will be a magician in Agora Society House, and a fortune teller. At Tau Zeta Epsilon Society House tea will be served for grownups, and those who prefer to may sit out of doors. Phi Sigma and Alpha Kappa Chi Society Houses have been reserved as havens of rest for tired mothers and weary children.
In case of unfavorable weather the affair will take place in Alumni Hall.

Mrs. W. M. Pawcett of Newton heads the Newton ticket committee.
Proceeds will go to the Students' Aid Society.

Among those from Newton who are

West Newton Community Centre Displays Its Work

In a few free minutes, it will be well worth one's while to stop and look at the articles which are on display at 1288 Washington street West Newton. All of these articles have been made by members of the West Newton Community Centre, Inc. (charter member of the Newton Community Chest, Inc.) in the leisure time clubs and classes which meet weekly in the Club House on the Eden Avenue Playground, West Newton.

Handwork alone does not complete the program of the Centre. Many boys and girls in the neighborhood have been enjoying the physical activity program which the Centre sponsors—baseball, basketball, boxing, tap dancing, folk dancing, and group games. For those who like dramatics, two amateur dramatic clubs have been formed. Some of the members come only for the social clubs, where varied programs of social activity, table game contests, billiards and pool have been enjoyed.

Present Annual Children's Play to Aid Industrial School

Women of the Newtons and Brookline have joined hands with children from North Bennet Street Industrial School of Boston in the presentation of "The Steadfast Princess," a fantasy with dances interludes at the Newton Centre Women's Club Hall, on Saturday morning, June 1. Approximately thirty children in the cast will make the nineteenth annual dramatic pilgrimage from Boston to Newton for the show. Their ages range from eight to fifteen years.

"The Steadfast Princess" is ideal children's entertainment given by children for children. It is the charming story of Ursula, a young girl, who has been reared in the simple home of the village toymaker, having been taken from her father's palace when an infant. As they busily make the toys, each one dreams his own dreams, which are portrayed in a series of delightful dances. The toy-maker dreams of the little children who will play with the toys he makes; Hans, the little boy helper, of the fairies who dance in and out among the work benches; but Ursula, like all young girls, dreams of her prince.

The second act tells of Ursula's return to her father's country as queen; of the trials and troubles of her country; of the final triumph of right over might; and of her rescue by the handsome young prince of a neighboring realm. The play will begin at 10:45 o'clock, and is directed by Miss Clara D. Gommers. The dances have been arranged by Miss Irene Hamel and Miss Frances Venuti is the accompanist.

The patronesses who make this annual Newton presentation possible are heartily in sympathy with the purposes behind it. In addition to giving children from the North End's crowded streets a day's outing and introducing them to another section of Boston, the Newton presentation serves a much more significant purpose.

All the money received from this performance is used to send mothers and babies from the North End to North Bennet Street Industrial School's summer vacation camp for mothers and babies at Boxford, Mass.
This vacation is looked forward to throughout the year by mothers whose large families give them small chance of outings of any kind, and tots whose glimpses of open country are limited to a very few occasions in their young lives.

The camp was founded and developed through the interest of the Board of Managers of North Bennet Street School, of which Henry L. Shattuck is president. The vice-presidents of the school are Henry V. Greenough, Francis W. Hunnewell, Mrs. Henry
Lyman, and Miss Mary R. Williams.
Frederick Deane is treasurer, Henry
A. Laughlin, clerk, and George C.
Greener, director.

Reception and Sale at Stone Institute for Aged

The reception and sale of articles made by the ladies of the Home, held Saturday, May 18, was a very pleasant social affair.

The proceeds from the sale amounted to a little over $200, and will be distributed to the ladies in the usual manner for their spending money.

The officers and directors desire to thank all of those who contributed to the success of this sale and also would add if there are any who were unable to be present and would like to contribute to this fund they may do so by sending their check to Mrs. M. W.
Melcher, 147 Lake avenue, Newton Centre, Mass., who is the treasurer of the fund.

Lucy Jackson Chapter D.A.R. Holds Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting was held on Monday, May 13th. The chaplain, Mrs. Amos R. Wells, conducted a brief memorial service for Mrs. F. J.
Fessenden, Mrs. A. C. Farley, and Mrs. E. D. Dodge, members who had passed away during the year. Miss Agnes Early, assistant registrar, called the roll and reported a membership of 153. Gifts of Miss Kate Muller, granddaughter of "Parson" Baurly recently received were a pair of vases and a painting, formerly in the manse. The corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. W. Allen, reminded the members of "open day" at Hillside School and asked for registration of those who could take their automobiles and of those who desired transportation. Miss Emily Jordan, historian, recalled the use made of Boston Common for a spinning contest, when a premium was awarded the most skillful spinner. She told of the life of Paul Revere, subsequent to his famed ride, and the part he played in influencing Massachusetts to become a state of the Union. She reported the marking of two graves of Revolutionary soldiers in Hingham and one in Needham. She had contributed an article on the Chapter House to the D. A. R. magazine. Mrs. W. L.

Vosburgh, chairman of Americanization, described the Christmas party for foreign mothers. Their children are cared for while the mothers are attending a class in English, by a nurse paid by the chapter. Miss Florence Tower, conservation chairman, warned of the menace of the Dutch Elm disease, which is now found near the Massachusetts border, and urged reporting signs of this pest to tree wardens, that we may preserve the beauty of our shaded streets. Mrs.
H. M. Dana's "mile of pennies" has progressed to the $100.00 mark. Mrs.
A. P. Friend, who has sent three afghans to the veterans' hospital, hopes for a "deluge" of seven inch squares to assist in making others. The annual report of the treasurer, Mrs. C.
H. Vee showed various interests which had received assistance, among them the Northland and Hillside schools, Student Loan, Americanization, and Constitution Hall. Ten dollars in memory of Mrs. Fessenden has been given by the Chapter to the fund for Constitution Hall. Mrs. W.
L. Holden announced a card party to be held on the lawn of the Chapter House on the afternoon of June 4th.
The following delegates were elected to attend the Fall Conference: Mrs.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

"Lantern Land," an operetta in two acts, presented by the pupils of the Bigelow on May 10, was a great success. Because of its Japanese background, costumes and scenery, it was very colorful entertainment. Miss Osborne, who directed the production, and Miss Hamilton, who played all the piano accompaniment, were presented with bouquets by members of the cast. Presentation was made between the acts by Edward Schwarz. The cast of characters included William Wiles, Katherine Rogers, Patricia Hern, Joseph Kearney, Harriet Tashjian, Charles Brown, Mary Rich, Edward Schwarz, Mary L. Shadman, Leon Kruger, Clinton Wilson.

Chorus: Bessie Bacon, Shirley Bernstein, Frances Carroll, Allene Crissney, Alice Dyer, Margaret Foley, Barbara Ford, Genevieve Hansen, Dorothy Jones, Ruth Kaufman, Doris Linberg, Jean MacNeil, Ruth Meredith, Margaret Moorhead, Irene Sampson, Venus Shamlan, Janet Smith, Mary Underwood, Charles Brink, Kenneth Bryant, Edward Carleton, John Eusden, Donald Ferguson, Robert Gallant, William Ford, Sumner Marcus, Edmund Morgan, Robert Olivigni, John Sundborg, and Edward Saunier. The ninth grade boys are in the second round with Strum and MacDonald and Ellis and Buswell paired. The eighth grade girls and boys have entered the second round with a large group playing. Harrington-Kruger lost 6-4, 3-6, 4-6.

Ellis lost 1-6, 1-6.

It consisted of a talk on "The Purposes of General Language," by John Eusden, "How the English Language Grew," by William Holmes, and "Story Telling Wards" by Janet Smith. Also a piano selection "Serenade" by Olsen was played by Mary Louise Shadman.

On Wednesday, May 8, the Assembly at the Bigelow was presented by pupils of the F. A. Day under the direction of Mr. Thornton, Mrs. Holmes, and Mr. Read. At the same time an assembly program by pupils of the Bigelow was being presented at the F. A. Day.

Mr. Laughton was the speaker at the assembly of May 15. He gave an interesting talk on his experiences in Denmark. This was illustrated by many pictures taken while he was there.

The annual gymnastic demonstration of the girls' department of Physical Education was held in the gymnasium on Thursday, May 23, at 3 o'clock. The activities, in at least one of which every girl of the school participated, were as follows:

The Department of Forestry of the city has completed the landscape gardening around the school building. The lawns and shrubbery look very attractive. A new fence across the back of the school lot also adds to the attractiveness of the rest of the grounds.

Many boys and girls from this school attended on Tuesday the All-Newton Music Festival at Dickinson Stadium. It was a colorful affair with the gay costumes of the bands brightening the green field. A delightful program of music, marching and twirling was offered. The F. A. Day feels very proud of the fine work done by its band and its handmaster, Mr. F. A. Tanner.

Some of the clubs are venturing away from school these last few weeks on trips connected with their club activities. The Linguaphone German Club intends to go to the Fine Arts Theatre to see a German movie. The Outing Club is planning an all-day excursion on Saturday to the Benson Animal Farm.

There seem to be indications that the end of another school year is gradually approaching, a year which will add another group of young people to the large list of F. A. Day alumni. The class photograph of the present ninth grade was taken last Friday, and will soon be added to the school's collection of class pictures. Plans are underway for the last "Day-tonian" issue. Queries are already afoot, "What are you going to do this summer?" Work is commencing on the program of classes for next year. Students are making a final effort to complete the year with scholastic honor.

Spring sports are well under way with three full teams representing the schools in boys' baseball, with a fine tennis squad, and with girls' baseball teams in the process of formation.

The Seventh Grade Dramatic Club presented a charming little play in the Assembly on May 22nd. The scenes of the play "Ten Minutes by the Clock" were laid in the land of make-believe. The cast included: Francis

Plan to Employ Harvard Students For Local Schools

Protest By Harry Bryant Postpones Action on Plan

An arrangement between the Newton School Department and Harvard University whereby students at the Harvard Graduate School of Education would teach in the Newton public schools as teaching fellows, or apprentice teachers, was proposed at the meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday night. Supt. of Schools Warren recommended the adoption of the agreement and stated it would prove advantageous both to the schools of Newton and to the Harvard Graduate School. He explained that the Dean of the Graduate School would submit the names of outstanding second-year students at the Harvard School and from the list so submitted the Newton Supt. of Schools and the School Committee of Newton would make selections. Those so selected would be paid a salary of $850 and engaged for a year to perform regular teaching work. Mr. Warren said that the first year probably one or two such teachers would be appointed, and never more than four or five in any one year from the Harvard school. He explained that the Newton public schools now take students from such colleges as Boston University, Boston College, Simmons and Wellesley as practice teachers and these students are not paid any salaries. The "teaching fellows," who may be either young men or young women, would give three-quarters of their time to teaching in the Newton schools and one-fourth to study at the Harvard Graduate School.

School Committeeman Harry E. Bryant opposed the plan. He argued that it would create an oligarchy, squeeze out many graduates of other colleges and schools who will not go to the Harvard Graduate School, and eventually would make the Newton school system an annex to Harvard. He said that he distrusted the plan. Chairman Walter Amesbury of the School Committee said that the proposed arrangement does not bind the Newton school department to any obligations to the Harvard Graduate School. The Newton School Committee would have the power to make selections from the lists submitted, or need not take any. On motion of School Committeeman Fernald the motion to enter into the agreement with Harvard was laid on the table until the next meeting of the School Committee.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

EVERETT EDGES NEWTON IN STATE TRACK MEET

Most of the 2000 spectators at the outdoor State Meet for High Schools last Saturday in Newtonville went home with the impression that Newton High had won the Class A title, and learned only afterward that Everett had nosed out the Garden City athletes 22½ points to 22. In a remarkable finish, Newton's 880-yard relay team broke the state record in winning the event, apparently to take the Class A honors, only to have Everett collect 1½ points for eighth place in the relay.

Aside from the final excitement furnished by the record-breaking relay victory over Brookline, Newton partisans cheered a hairbreadth finish in the half-mile, in which Allen Freeman won from Larry Piscione of Everett, and separate firsts in the hurdles and broad jump by the indomitable Warren Wittens, who also ran a blazing anchor leg for the relay team.

Both Hurdles Marks Fall
Wittens had little trouble breaking the record for the Class A 120-yard low hurdles, 14 3/5 seconds, which was made in 1928 by Eugene Record of Brookline. The Newton captain set a new record at 14 seconds even in the semi-final, and equalled it in the final, beating Brookline's Robin Hartmann by a stride each time. Eugene Woods of Roxbury Memorial took almost a second off the Class B hurdles record, which came down from 14 4/5 seconds to 14 flat.

The boy who ran the 100-yard dash in 10 flat for the first time in the history of the State Meet, Frank Ziemetz of Boston English, gave Wittens a real battle in the broad jump. Wittens finally won with 21 ft. 9 3/4 in., just a quarter-inch better than the best effort of the English speed king.

Freeman Comes Through
Allen Freeman, with his effortless middle-distance stride, won the Class A 880 from a pair of Everett aces, although it was the sort of a finish that is occasionally reversed by a motion picture, what with Freeman pushing his chest through the yarn a half-inch ahead of Everett's Piscione. Allen ran with Paulding of Everett through the first lap, pulled away on the backstretch, and came into the last 220 with a three-yard lead on Piscione and Woods of Malden. At that point it looked like a good spot for Piscione, for Freeman is not famous for his finish, but Allen breezed in with the good will of the judges in the good time of 2 m. 2 3/5 s.

When the points were added after the 880, Newton had 17, including Ted Ladd's third in the 220, and Everett led with 21. Newton had the second relay from the last, against Brookline, and won by six yards from their old friends in the record-breaking time of 1 m. 33 2/5 s. Ted Ladd, Al Freeman, Bob Muther and Warren Wittens, all of whom had run earlier, carried the baton for Newton, cranking the ten-year old record of 1 m. 34 s. by dint of fair passing and great running.

What upset the appreciative Everett and nearly cost them the meet was the astonishing disappointment of Frank Mascianica in the relay. Running against Brockton, the team that ran the third-best time, Everett had a substantial lead in the first two legs, when Mascianica took the baton and tied up badly, giving Everett's anchor man a terrific handicap and increasing the team's time to 1:35.5, eighth best, and good for only 1½ points, which barely sufficed to give the turnpike towies the meet.

RINDGE TOPS NEWTON DESPITE 4 HOME RUNS

Although four lusty home runs kept them in the ball game, Newton High lost to Rindge Tech in an 11-inning game last Friday at Dickinson Field by 6-5. Tornabene, pitching for Newton, allowed fourteen hits and struck out four, while Maloney struck out thirteen and gave eight bingles. The free-hitting Rindge team, suburban league leaders, earned their score with safe hits in groups of two and three, while Newton's Captain Spillman, Jim Byrne, Jim Tornabene and Pete Morrison each rode one of Maloney's slants to a far corner for a home run.

Spillman's circuit blow came in the first inning, but was counteracted in the second when Rindge got two runs out of four singles. Another run for Rindge in the seventh was balanced by Tornabene's home run in that inning, and Joe Watson added another in the eighth for Rindge, doubling and coasting home on a safe hit by Baniewicz.

Byrne, Tornabene and Morrison Hit Hard

Newton came from behind suddenly in their eighth inning as Cormier singled and scored ahead of Byrne in the great Bullt smashed a homer into deep left centre field. The visitors got an unearned run in the ninth as Suckiel was hit by a pitched ball, advanced on a long fly, and scored when Tornabene mishandled Watson's roller. But Pete Morrison clouted a high one to the scoreboard sector in right field and the ball carried beyond the track for another home run and what proved to be the final Newton tally.

McCarthy singled in the tenth inning, went to second on an infield sacrifice, and scored on Watson's single. Tornabene started Newton with a bingle, but was stranded as Morrison whiffed, McHugh fled out and Callahan grounded out to the third baseman. All in all, the game was as cleanly played and interesting as any Newton has won or lost this year. Byrne, Tornabene and Morrison proved to bear the batting punch against Rindge, each making a home run and a single, while Cormier and McHugh were fodder for the Maloney strikeout record with seven between them, although Cormier also singled at right time. The heavy stickers for Rindge Tech were first baseman Matthews, the colored boy who has hit better than .500 all year, and catcher Dussault, each of whom hit three clean singles in five attempts.

Newton Highlights

Newton High's Dickinson Stadium track proved to be a fine place to hold the State Meet, and it will be a surprise if the meet is not held in Newtonville next year again. Boston sportswriters wore out the phrase "lightning fast" in referring to the track, and the suggestion has been made that the New England I. C. 4A arrange to hold their meet here. To this there would be only one obstacle, the fact that the school and college meet dates would very probably conflict.

Proof that the Newtonville track was one of the fastest in the country can be seen in the fact that seven of the twelve track event records were broken. The new records and their holders are as follows:

Class A:—
120-yd. low hurdles: Wittens, Newton, 14 s.
100-yd. dash: Ziemetz, Boston English 10s.
440-yd. run: Mascianica, Everett 50 4/5s.
880-yd. relay: Newton High, 1m. 33 2/5s.
Class B:—
120-yd. low hurdles: Woods, Roxbury Mem. 14s.
880-yd. run: Dundulis, Norwood 2m. 00 3/5s.
880-yd. relay: Watertown High, 1m. 33 4/5s.

In the field events, Swenson of Lynn Classical set the new mark in the shot put at 51 ft. 6 in., as did Gilligan of Brighton in Class B, with a heave of 48 ft. 11 in. Daughters of Watertown increased the record in the Class B broad jump to 21 ft. 10 5/8 in.

Bob Hunter and Sister Dorothy Win
A strong Newton combination, Mrs. Dorothy Hunter Whittemore and her brother, Robert Hunter, won the state club pairs mixed foursome championship last Sunday at the Dedham Polo and Country Club. Mrs. Whittemore, formerly girls' junior champion, and her brother, captain-elect of the Harvard golf team, won the E. C. Stone cup for Brae Burn by defeating Mrs. Henri F. Prunaret, Jr., and Frank Craven of Charles River Country Club by 7 and 6 in the final round.

Mrs. Whittemore and her brother played superior golf throughout the tournament, and were pressed only once, when they edged into the final bracket by defeating the Oakley team of Mrs. E. H. Baker and Edward Peterson by 1 up. They won their first round match by 7-6 and their second by 6-5. Mrs. Whittemore won the state club pairs in 1931, teamed with Newt Hyslop of Albemarle.

I. C. A. A. A. Meet at Harvard

The track meet of track meets comes to the Harvard Stadium today and tomorrow as three teams from the west coast attempt to capture the I. C. A. A. laurels, and they are very confident of so doing. The perpetual track season on the California cinders seems to foster great sprinters, and Californians usually dominate all races up to the 880. In the hurdles and field events the points fall where they may, but the net result is nearly always a victory for Stanford or U. S. C.

Among the Californians are three or four hurdlers with remarkable records this season, but they will have to be very good to beat the New England hurdlers, Milton Green of Harvard and Phil Good of Bowdoin. Good was first in the highs and second in

NEWTON HORSESHOE PITCHER'S LEAGUE

At a meeting of the Newton Horse-shoe Pitcher's League held last evening the following teams were represented: Cabot, Boyd A. C., Murphy's of Boyd, Horace Mann, Levi Warren, Rubber Mill, Upper Falls, Wetherall Park, Charlesbank A. C.—3 teams entered. In addition to these eleven teams that were represented last night, word was received from five other teams who wish to join the League—Victory, Lower Falls, West Newton, Anburndale and Thompsonville; and it is expected that a colored team will enter from West Newton.

It is planned to have a sixteen team league, each team playing at home and away from home every week.

The cup offered by a prominent merchant in Newton Corner will be on display at Hubbard's Drug Store in about ten days. This cup is valued at $75.00 and must be won three years by a team to become their permanent possession.

Players list of ten players, to which the teams will be limited for the remainder of the season, will be submitted on July 1st. The League will officially begin its matches on Thursday, June 13th. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, June 11th, in the Cabot Recreation Building at 7:30 p. m.

the lows last year, and Green was not eligible. Green last week won both hurdle events in the Harvard Yale meet and took first in the broad jump with a leap just better than 24 feet.

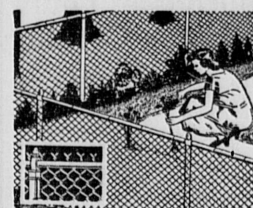

Stan Johnson of Newton and Tech was second in the New England Inter-collegiate broad jump last Saturday, when his best effort of 23 ft. 5½ in. was bettered by an eighth of an inch by Stuart Parks of Springfield. Parks beat Johnson last winter in the University Club games by the same narrow margin. Both will have to do their best, or better, to place in the big meet at Harvard tomorrow.

Lottery Agent Gets Jail Term

Carl Wyman, 41, of 134 Parmenter road, West Newton was given a 6 months suspended sentence to Middlesex county prison by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Wednesday. Hugh Boyd, attorney for Wyman, demanded that the police return to Wyman $53 seized when the defendant was arrested on May 14 for selling "nigger pool" tickets. Boyd argued that the police could not show where Wyman got this money. Inspector Burke who arrested Wyman said he could procure evidence and the judge postponed his decision on the money for a week. Wyman had previous convictions on similar charges in Waltham and West Roxbury.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Triennial Meeting
In DetroitThe Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs which is to be held in Detroit in June—the 4th through the 12th—promises to be a most interesting event.
Not the least point to be considered, naturally, is the number and calibre of candidates for office, as the delegates must choose a new president and others through the entire list of the Executive Board. The ability of the women presented for office by the various sections of the country, by States, will make the choice a difficult one.It is well for clubwomen throughout the country to know something of the women who are being considered to lead them, so that this brief glimpse of background may bring the national organization nearer in interest as affecting each and every one, as it does far more than may be realized casually. Qualifications of candidates for the presidency and first vice-presidency have already been given in this column, but their names are given as a reminder.There are two candidates for the presidency: Dr. Josephine L. Pierce of Lima, now second vice-president, presented by her native state, Ohio;
and Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, of Tulsa, now first vice-president, presented by her state, Oklahoma.Oregon presents Mrs. Sallie Orr Dunbar, of Portland, for the first vice-presidency. She is unopposed for this office. Mrs. Dunbar is now recording secretary of the General Federation.Illinois offers as candidate for second vice-president, Mrs. Walter W. Seymour, of Chicago, who now heads the major department, American Home. She has been State president of Illinois, and their director to the General Federation.New York is offering Mrs. Walter Seaman Comly, of Port Chester, at present the vice-chairman of board of trustees. She also has served the General Federation as director from her State, as Secretary of the board of Trustees, and as a member of the Membership committee, and she has held many offices in her State Federation, including President, North Dakota's candidate is Mrs. Albert E. Jones, of Lisbon, chairman of the General Federation's division of Community Service, one-time member of the Executive committee;
a past president of the Presidents' council and contact chairman for the Federation's 1930 Biennial Convention in Seattle, and for four years General Federation director and State president.Tennessee presents for the office of Recording secretary, Mrs. Arch Trawick, of Nashville, who has headed the division of Correction, and in the preceding administration, chairman of the division of industry. This is her second term as State president and General Federation director from Tennessee. Mrs. Trawick has been secretary of the Tennessee Conference on Child Health and Protection since its organization in 1932. Virginia's choice is Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck, of Richmond. As chairman of the local executive board for the Federation's Council meeting in Richmond, in 1933, Mrs. Buck planned and directed the intricate machinery of this vast gathering. She is now General Federation director from Virginia, and has been State president, as well as State treasurer and Club Extension chairman. West Virginia presents Mrs. John Speed Harvey, of Huntington, who also did notable service for the Richmond Council meeting, as Program chairman, author of "The Silver Gleam," which was used to celebrate the State Federation's Silver Jubilee in 1929; General Federation director from her State and a former State president. Under her leadership, the Junior Clubs of West Virginia increased their membership by more than 2,000.New Hampshire is offering Mrs.
LaFell Dickinson, of Keene, for treasurer. Now chairman of the Budget, a member of the board of Trustees and of the Executive committee, Mrs. Dickinson is in close touch with all phases of Federation policy, particularly in the field of finance. When a young girl, her father's death left to her the management of his extensive lumber business and real estate holdings, and she also succeeded him as director of the Winchester National Bank. Vermont's candidate, Mrs.
Laura Waples McMullen, of Montpelier, heads the department of International Relations in the General Federation; is the author of the text book, "Building the World Society," and editor of a bulletin, "Today's World." Mrs. McMullen has been on the faculty of Bryant-Stratton Business College, of Chicago, conducting courses on business letters and the psychology of selling, and has had five years' experience in the real estate business.An announcement that has come through at this time might well be made here. Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, chairman of the department of Education in the General Federation announces that Mrs. George M. Deaver of Canton, Ohio, a member of the Canton Sorosis Club, is the winner of the prize in the contest for an original play, which was sponsored by the department. The title of the play, which will be produced at the General Federation Triennial in Detroit in June, is "Educating Father."Mrs. Poole Gives Wise Advice to Clubwomen of MassachusettsInstead of beginning the account of the Annual Meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs by recording the many events and addresses of the three-day session held at Swampscott from Tuesday, May 21st through Thursday, May 23rd, your Editor is going to give an innovation this year, leaving the record of the sessions to a later issue of this Column. The reason for this is that an opportunity is offered to present to Newton clubwomen unusual information from an authoritative source, which may be of value to new presidents of clubs and to more seasoned clubwomen, and which may inspire more interest in the General Federation and its objectives.Mrs. Poole said that 31 years ago when she was a new, young president of the Brockton Woman's Club, she wanted desperately to know about the work of the General Federation, and wished she could ask a president of it to go about to the clubs and explain it to them. She promised herself that if ever she knew a president of the General Federation she would ask her to do that.
And the first president of that organization she knew was herself.
So that she had kept her promise to herself by herself going about over the country and telling the club-women about the General Federation.
She said this on Monday afternoon,
May 20th, at Swampscott.It was a perfect afternoon, in a perfect location for beauty. Ocean, sky, grass, flowers, vied to make the picture. In the foyer of the New Ocean House, the early arrivals of the leaders among clubwomen met and chatted intimately, a pleasurable experience before the bustle and confusion of the arrival of all the group, numbering over 2,000.There seems no more interesting and appropriate beginning to the account of the Annual Meeting of the State Federation, than to chronicle some of the statements of the guest of honor to Massachusetts, Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation, in her intimate talk to a group of Club presidents and leaders, numbering between two and three hundred, on that Monday afternoon in a Preconvention gathering, in Convention Hall. With a clear logic and forceful method of presentation of facts, made delightful by her rich humor, Mrs. Poole told about her duties as National president and of her home at National Headquarters, and of the workings of this great national organization of women, in an intimate manner that could not have been possible in a formal address such as she gave on Tuesday evening before the great gathering of about 2,500 clubwomen.
Those who made the effort to be present at this "Talk" felt that they had imbibed of the "cream" of the entire session.With a setting on the platform and about it of spring flowers in delicate pastel shades of pink and blue, with white, and with potted plants of gorgeous rose hydrangeas, the few who were upon the platform with Mrs. Poole seemed nearer to the group of clubwomen than when the very dignified formation of many officers faced them. Mrs. Poole, hatless and in a simple straight-line garnet sport dress, which became well her dark hair and eyes, and wearing the badge of her popularity in a shoulder bouquet of gardenias, a gift from admirers, gave the impression of the very efficient manager of her club business that she has proven herself all through her career to be.She acknowledged the introduction, which, indeed, was not an introduction but an announcement, that brought enthusiastic welcome, with her usual display of humor. Mrs.
Poole would not be Mrs. Poole if she did not have her little jokes. She told of the tactless little club president who introduced her, in attempt at graceful ease, by saying that when LaFell Dickinson, of Keene, had thought, "Is THAT Mrs. Poole?"
And then Mrs. Poole had taken off her hat, and she seemed much better, and after she began to talk she forgot altogether what she looked like! "Since then," said Mrs. Poole,
"I have never worn a hat if I could help it! And now I know just what I am, by this expression of what other people think of me!"
Mrs. Poole had to wait for the hilarity to subside. One wondered if this frank report of a president's "break" might send shivers down the backs of some of the newly elected young women present, in fear of what they might do when unaware! One wonders, too, if Mrs.
Poole, in her infinite wisdom, meant this sly remark just for the purpose of warning!And then she attacked her topic of the General Federation, and its work, and what it means to be its president, by saying that by the time she arrives in Detroit for the Triennial in June, she will have traveled in the three years she has been president of the General Federation, in work in its behalf throughout the country 135,734 miles! She expressed pride in the fact that when she goes out of office there is a much larger club membership than 140 Clarendon Streetwhen she came in, and a much better financial condition. This, she stated was due only to the depression which came on in her predeces-sor's days, which made the new president's task one of conquering this set-back. She quoted the words of the auditors called in to verify the intricate accounts, that never do they find as efficient and economical management of a large business as they find in this record of 127 activities that have to be supplied, as well as the housekeeping problem and upkeep. Headquarters, the lovely old General Miles house, which was purchased by a group of clubwomen for $75,000, she stated was today worth $125,000. "But," she added,

"it is an old house, and something is always happening to it—a burst pipe, or a leaking roof"—so that it has become a byword with her corps of secretaries, when she goes home to Brockton for a week-end, and returns on Monday: "Have you told Mrs. Poole yet what happened?"
"What has happened," added Mrs.
Poole, "is that in the past three years $10,000 of the $25,000 fund set aside for upkeep has been used to rectify these conditions." No wonder the National president has worked so hard to raise the Foundation Fund which will answer all problems of expense for the General Federation.She feels keenly that extension work should go on, and said that because there was no money for traveling expenses of chairwomen of departments—and clubs could not raise such money—small clubs throughout the country who wanted so much to hear of work that was being done and that they could do, could not hear such women as Mrs.
Fred L. Pigeon, National chairman of Education, whom she declared was the finest Education chairman the General Federation has ever had.Here, too, she would have her little joke. She said that contrary to the ideas of many clubwomen—and of others in the world—who thought that life was one merry round of travelling for their officers and chairmen, for which the General Federation paid, she said that the General Federation would pay the carfare and lower berth to Detroit in June for Massachusetts Director, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, but so far as they were concerned Mrs. Bennett would have to walk home! Mrs.
Bennett, taken by surprise, as she sat quietly content upon the platform, listening to her leader, suddenly stiffened, and regarding Mrs.
Poole with such an assumed air of outrage that it was worth the trip to Swampscott just to have seen it.
Of course Mrs. Poole was in this tactful way making her serious point that there should be funds for the General Federation to use for her efficient workers, so that these places would be open to all gifted women.Mrs. Poole here made a plea to clubwomen to subscribe with Mrs.
Bennett for THE CLUBWOMAN, the General Federation Trade Magazine, as she aptly termed it, since it keeps clubwomen informed upon the work of their trade. With a child's desire to exceed, she brought a laugh when she pleaded for 100 more subscriptions, just so "we can beat Illinois!"
in the number of yearly subscriptions. "Do want to beat Illinois," she declared emphatically. If Massachusetts clubwomen had heard this they would flock to give Mrs. Poole her wish. Your editor has reported this facetious bit because she hopes that Newton clubwomen who read it will respond and subscribe to this magazine which is indeed, a most useful tool in the craft of club work.
Many do not realize what they are missing in not taking this magazine.Mrs. Poole explained how she was able to go to visit the various State Federations; in this instance, for example, several New England States shared in paying her expenses in order to have her company. Massachusetts was paying $20.00 to have her here. "So that while it is hard on you, I feel that I must talk every minute in order that they get their money's worth," she added. She need not have felt just this way, for her presentation of facts gave ample recompense for the money expended.She added, further, that there were those who felt that the president of the General Federation had a splendid income for her work, since she was allowed $450.00 a month for her expenses. But when she went on to tell of paying her office help and secretaries over $225.00 a month, and having to pay for dinners and hospitality to guests, one could realize the truth of her statement that by the end of the month she had to open her own private purse for many items.She explained in detail the proposed plan by which the Foundation Fund is to be raised, on the basis of fifty cents each year for five years, amounting to $2.50, for each Federated Club member. It seemed a simple and painless method of securing the vast sum needed, and one to which no clubwoman who understands the situation could possibly object.She described headquarters, and her own room, furnished by Massachusetts, which she said was very very lovely. In it she has something from so many States. She sleeps under New Bedford sheets, and a wonderful patchwork quilt made by Arkansas Juniors. There is moss from Louisiana, and redwood from California. There is a delightful picture of Louisburg Square, and another, most fittingly, of the church at Framingham, where first was sung

THE NRA DECISION

The Supreme Court decision as to the invalidity of the NRA and other affiliated governmental control over the affairs of the nation will undoubtedly have far-reaching effect. Volumes have been written the past few days since the unanimous report was issued. Volumes more will be written in the future. The decision will be regarded as one of the most historic moments of the existing depression. No one can predict the reaction that is sure to come. On the one hand there is much fear of continued economic disaster and hardship, on the other hand there is the feeling that industry will hold fast to that which is valuable in the NRA and will take over the leadership in its field that will mean a natural recovery. There is no one who will not agree with the belief that the NRA has accomplished certain desirable ends. The country as a whole, the states individually and the people themselves will demand that these assets be retained, either by governmental regulation or by industry itself. The fundamental question involved is that of states rights. Once again the Constitution of the United States proves to be a rock upon which the nation is founded. Long may it remain.

AS TIME PASSES

Four veterans of the Civil War took part in the Memorial Day exercises in Newton yesterday. The survivors of the conflict of seventy years ago are the only living connection we have with that struggle. As time passes and they, too, rejoin their comrades, their memory will remain. Within a few years at the most the GAR will no longer be actively represented in the observance of Memorial Day. Though they have gone their spirit will live to the end that all men are created free and equal.

IMMANUEL CHURCH ANNIVERSARY

The seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Newton will be observed next week with fitting ceremonies. During the life of the church many of its parishioners contributed to the betterment of the community. We extend our congratulations along with those of people of Newton.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edward H. Powers

The unanimous decision of the Supreme Court regarding the NRA may mean the end of that more or less noble experiment by President Roosevelt to drag this country out of the economic morass it has been in since 1929. But, unless we are mistaken, that decision will be epochal in another respect. We believe it means the beginning of the end of the utter authority now vested in the Supreme Court. This famous body has been of wonderful value to the U. S. A. on many occasions. At other times its decisions have not been so popular. When a majority of the Supreme Court decides that extraordinary conditions cannot create some degree of flexibility in our sacrosanct Constitution, possibly the aged gentlemen of the Supreme Court can tell this nation of a way in which to solve the terrific problems with which we have been struggling for the past six years. Conditions have changed greatly since the Constitution was written 150 years ago. We have not enthused over the NRA as a whole, we believe that it has been replete with inconsistencies and impracticability, but in many ways it has been of great value. Industry, society, political stability in this country are traveling over dangerous shoals and the most careful piloting will be necessary. The Supreme Court now has the authority to tell us where we can't go. There are many persons in the country who have a definite idea as to where we are going unless a safe and sane solution of our economic problems will soon be found.

With an agreement made between the Newton Health Department and the Harvard School of Public Health whereby students attending the school will perform health work in this city, and the proposed tie-up between the Newton School Department and the Harvard Graduate School, the City of Newton is officially tending to become quite Harvardized. With so many alumni of Dartmouth residing in this city some jealousy may be aroused and the graduates of the Harvard institution may ask that similar opportunities be accorded students at the New Hampshire university. It would be possible for the Dartmouth students to commute between Hanover and Newton by means of airplanes.

About as barefaced a betrayal of the will of the people as has ever been manifested in Massachusetts is the scheme to pass a new billboard law, allegedly as a compromise between the billboard magnates and the people of Massachusetts who have been endeavoring for nearly a score of years to compel the removal of billboard eyesores. In 1920 the people of Massachusetts voted to curtail the billboard nuisance. With the money of their command the billboard interests engaged in litigation which dragged this matter along through the years. Finally, some months ago the courts decided in favor of the people. And then with arrant presumption, and apparently depending on co-operation from certain Legislators who, unfortunately are too numerous in the Great and General Court of this Commonwealth, the billboard interests introduced the pending legislation which would not only defeat the efforts which were recently crowned with legal success after a 15 years' fight, but would put this State further at the mercy of the billboard interests by taking away from cities and towns whatever local authority they now possess to curb the billboard nuisance.

Driving along Chestnut street on Wednesday we observed a shrub with a profusion of beautiful, white blossoms. Making inquiry we were told it is a rare specimen named Spirea Vanhouttei. We predict it will become popular.

Yesterday brought fond memories of the "Boys in Blue" who in years past marched so proudly in Memorial Day parades in Newton garbed in their G. A. R. uniforms, and who have joined the comrades whose graves they tenderly decorated each May 30th. That only a few Civil War veterans participated in the exercises brought forcibly to us the fact that human life is of short duration.

Serious Fire at Newton Centre

The home of G. Wilbur Thompson, 38 Everett street, Newton Centre was damaged to the extent of $4000 last Thursday by a fire which started on the roof and spread into the attic of the house. It was supposed to have started from sparks from the chimney. The blaze was discovered by Norman Stickney, an employee of Mr. Thompson's, who was working in the garage at the Everett street address.

WHITE—WALKER

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Whitney Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Walker to Wilfrid Gordon White, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid O. White, took place on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock at the Leyden Congregational Church in Brookline. Rev. Paul G. Macy of Worcester, uncle of the groom, officiated. Miss Janet Walker, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. Robert E. White, brother of the groom, was best man.

Relatives and intimate friends of the bride couple were present. Miss Walker graduated from the Choate School in Brookline and is president of its alumnae association. She attended Vassar College for two years and graduated in the class of '34, Boston University.

Mr. White prepared at Tabor Academy and is a graduate of Columbia University. He is associated with his father in business in Boston.

Plan To Employ Harvard Students

ton and the Harvard Graduate School are as follows:

(1) It is proposed that the Dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Education shall nominate each year to the Superintendent of the Newton schools a certain number of candidates for appointment to the positions hereinafter described. The nominees will be students in the second year of their graduate study. The Superintendent will select from among the nominees as many persons as he deems advantageous to appoint. He is not under obligation to select for recommendation to the Newton School Committee any of the persons nominated. It is assumed, however, that he will ordinarily wish to select a few of them.

(2) Those selected for appointment will be known as Harvard-Newton Teaching Fellows. They will be appointed to such posts as the Superintendent may designate at salaries not exceeding $850 a year. They will serve under the usual contractual obligations in force in the Newton School Department, but it is understood that they will have enough free time to take one course in the Graduate School of Education.

(3) Fellows appointed under this arrangement will be granted a scholarship covering part of their tuition ($50) at Harvard. Their work will be supervised by instructors in the Harvard School in accordance with such arrangements as the Superintendent may confirm.

Rotary Club

Paul Elicker, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee, was in charge of the Rotary program last Monday. For ten years now, loan and scholarship funds have been made available by the club for students in higher institutions of learning. Some of the membership dues have gone to this fund. Harry Bascom, Dr. Charles Ansley, and James Melcher, who spoke in place of Horace Orr, who was absent presented the various phases of the work of this committee during the past decade and the very encouraging results. Fourteen scholarships have been given during this period, and loans from small amounts to $500, which is the maximum, have been made to 36 young men and one young woman. Among these 37, there have been but two "dopes", a remarkable record and showing with what care the committees during these years have worked. It has been the general policy to give loans only to Juniors and Seniors. As one of the speakers put it, "We give a push over the hurdle after a good two year start has been made instead of assisting at a possibly false start."

The practice of a very detailed investigation of the needs of each applicant has meant a great deal of work for the members of the Boys' Work Committee. In the case of each recipient of a scholarship or loan fund, one of the club members has assisted as sponsor. Especial credit is due Harry Bascom and Horace Orr who from the beginning have taken the greatest interest in the students and worked hardest to make this important phase of Rotary activity of prime importance.

The presence of the successful scholarship recipients for next year, two members of this year's Newton High School graduating class, added to the interest of the meeting. Leonard Rowley and Lester Davis, who will enter M. I. T. and Wesleyan respectively, were introduced to the members.

Rotary's new Board of Directors elected at this meeting, to serve for a year beginning July 1, are Harry Bascom, Lucius Bohlman, Douglas Clark, Dr. Philip Bohlman, Douglas Francis, Walter Gregg, and James Melcher. This board will choose the other officers for next year.

Sterling Court Pays Tribute to Mrs. Erma La Rhette

Sterling Court, Order of the Anverant, paid tribute on Tuesday evening, May 21st, in Queen's Temple to Mrs. Emma L. LaRhette of Yabon, one of their own past royal matrons, who had been elected to the highest office of the order in this Commonwealth, that of Grand Royal Matron. The largest group of grand officers ever to assemble was present to share in the honors.

A group of officers of the local court dressed in white preceded the long line into the assembly room to act as ushers.

Mrs. Mabel D. Bunker, royal matron, and Arthur C. Bicknell, royal patron, accompanied by the distinguished guests, marched into the room. Forming a huge semi circle the members were escorted around the line to violin music by Mrs. Emma W. Richardson, accompanied by Mrs. Amber Bennett at the piano.

Mrs. La Rhette, Mrs. Jennie L. Hunt and Mrs. Josephine Crocker carried beautiful bouquets.

After the reception, an entertainment was presented with Edward Whittridge as master of ceremonies including a quartet from the Christ Church choir of which he is director. Solos were rendered by Mrs. Frances Robbins and readings by Miss Viola White.

Will Address Young People of Newtons

"Dad" Weight, well known leader of Camp Merowista, will speak in the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church at seven o'clock on Sunday evening. The young people of all the Protestant churches of the Newtons and surrounding communities are cordially invited to be present.

Joy Postponed

Light-hearted and smiling I had determined that for me June should be a month of roses, although I knew it would require close attention to spraying vines and bushes and the scrutiny of every bud and stem for the presence of those pesky little green bugs. Nevertheless, I was determined that regardless of the labor involved and the patience necessary, I would raise a gorgeous collection of blooms such as make June days rarer than—well, 'er, whatever you may decide.

All this was smooth sailing for my imagination until I happened to pick up an almanac for 1935—a much respected and greatly relied-upon almanac. There I found the weather forecast for June written in these dismal words: "June 1st to 15th unsettled period, with considerable rain. 6th to 10th, stormy period; 11th to 15th, cool spell, exceptionally so for this time of year; 16th to 21st, warm dry period; 22nd to 25th, unsettled period; 26th to 30th, stormy period."

My reverie ended abruptly and I decided to wait until July for all the joys I had anticipated. Thus I have reluctantly postponed all castle building and "such stuff as dreams are made on."

Day Off for Some Folks

If you're lucky and Bunker Hill Day, June 17th, means a holiday, you will have to step across the Boston line to make your celebration legal. Not that there is any law against observing the anniversary of that historical occasion in any other place. The day, however, is a legal holiday only in Suffolk county, which comprises the cities of Boston, Revere and Chelsea and the town of Winthrop.

Charlestown people may truly say, and probably will, that there's no holiday like it. They may have something different in their minds as to why it is distinctive. What I was driving at was that the Legislature, after resisting for years and years attempts to legalize the day throughout the State, decided to put it up to the voters of the county. Nobody was surprised that the "yes" majority was overwhelming. Then another law had to be passed this year verifying the vote and establishing a legal holiday on which "all public offices in the county shall be closed." Therefore, this is the first legal observance of Bunker Hill Day.

Possibly Charlestown people will feel a little better now that there is partial recognition of the day. It means to them, and the rest of Suffolk county, the closing of package stores, which it didn't before prohibition, and a cessation of other mercantile activities. But there will be parades and other goings-on right in the Charlestown district while outside it is likely to be dull. Boston business men, who live in Middlesex, Norfolk, Essex and nearby counties, may find the time hanging heavily on their hands unless they take advantage of the fact that it falls on Monday and include it in their week-end vacation plans.

Don't Be Too Sure

The moral of this is to look before you leap to conclusions. Among the earlier people to establish themselves at the shore for the Summer is a young bachelor friend of mine. He is so enterprising that he has already given one successful week-end party. Assuring his guests, on their arrival Saturday night, that on the morrow they would be served one of the best New England breakfasts of their lives, he found them skeptical in their views and derisive in their speech.

"O, you can't cook," said they. "We'll get up when we feel like it and get our own meal."

"Believe it or not," he replied, "there will be a wonderful breakfast for you."

They went to bed with scoffs and jeers on their lips. Still unconvinced, next morning they were slow, very slow, in getting downstairs. Indeed, they became apologetic with, "Sorry to keep you waiting—you must be hungry," etc.

"O, don't worry about me," said the host. "I've had mine. You see, I arranged for all of us to eat at the farm-house across the road."

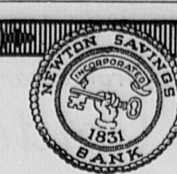

"Great," exclaimed the others. "Sorry," people! the host went on. "She's cleared the table. Wouldn't wait for you. There'll be another meal about 1 o'clock. In about two hours you'll get something to eat. Meanwhile I'll try and find you some crackers."

Amateur Sleuth's Home Work

O, yes, patience sometimes meets reward. In this case I doubt if you would hardly find it that. However, let's get down to business. For, lo, these many years I have seldom borrowed a book from the Newton Free Library without wondering who last had read it. Somehow the idea fascinates me, probably because it's fantastic and purposeless, and I like to contemplate the volume's reaction on my predecessor. Anything he or she may have left behind in the way of a place-mark intrigues me.

This week I had out a book relating to stage celebrities of past and present. It wasn't half as interesting as the scrap of paper I found. I take it, from the handwriting and items, that some young woman had listed things to be done that day. Maybe they were not done. Possibly there's a romance. Anyway, read for yourself and form your own conclusions:

The statement of Frank A. Goodwin, State Registrar of Motor Vehicles, in connection with his drive for greater highway safety condemns "rum and high speed". It reminds me that during the campaign to repeal prohibition we were told that much would be done to separate these wedded evils. The fact is, however, they haven't even started to get a Mexican divorce.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, De-nounced" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 2.

The Golden Text is: "When the wicked spring as the grass, and when all the workers of iniquity do flourish; it is that they shall be destroyed for ever" (Psalms 92:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. . . . Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand" (Ephesians 6:10, 11, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We should become more familiar with good than with evil, and guard against false beliefs as watchfully as we bar our doors against the approach of thieves and murderers. . . . Evil thoughts and aims reach no farther and do no more harm than one's belief permits. Evil thoughts, lusts, and malicious purposes cannot go forth, like wandering pollen, from one human mind to another, finding unsuspected lodgment, if virtue and truth build a strong defence" (p. 234).

NEWTON NINE EDGES WATERTOWN HIGH

The Newtons won a close 3-2 verdict over the strong Watertown High nine at Dickinson Field Wednesday, breaking the tie with a lucky run in the eighth. Both teams played good ball behind good pitching. John Quinn struck out three Watertown batters, gave two bases on balls, and allowed seven scattered hits. The Watertown hurler, Ray Chamberlain, a lad of no mean reputation on the diamond, struck out ten Newton batsmen, yielded seven hits and gave a single base on balls.

Watertown led after the second inning, when Chamberlain singled, Harris hit a triple, and Lund singled, bringing Harris home. Bullet Byrne hit a three bagger in Newton's second inning and scored on an error by Newell at first on Callanan's grounder. Sylvan Simon made a home run in the fifth to tie the score, leaning on Chamberlain's fast one with all his 127 pounds. The ball was a line drive into right centre field, crossing the track, and Simon was rounding third base before a redcap caught up to it.

Newton won the game on a break in the last of the eighth inning. Simon fled out to center field. Captain Spillman made his third consecutive single and went to third on a wild throw. Pinch hitter Carl Bosworth fled out to the second baseman, but Pete Morrison hit a ground ball toward first base that took a peculiar hop over Newell and Sherlock, both of whom were attempting to field it, and Spillman crossed the plate. Byrne walked, but Marrazzo grounded out to end the inning. A feature of the game was the short order in which both pitchers handled the opposing batters, since only 32 batters faced Chamberlain in eight Newton innings, while Quinn pitched to only 34 Watertown batters in nine innings.

NEWTON TRACKMEN WIN AT AMHERST

Newton High's track team, competing against a strong array of preparatory schools, won the Amherst Interscholastics yesterday at Amherst College with a total of 25 points, knocking out Choate School, with 24. Warren Wittens, Newton's great captain, set a new record in the 220-yard low hurdles, winning in 24.8, and added another and invaluable point with fifth place in the broad jump. Newton's 880-yard relay quartet took third in the event, which was won in the comparatively slow time of 1:34.2.

Julia Ward Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republic," this of course, being in the Massachusetts room dedicated to Mrs. Howe. Kentucky and Oklahoma furnished two bedrooms on the fourth floor.

What many clubwomen may not know, so that it is repeated here, is that they may have a room at Headquarters while visiting Washington, at most reasonable rates and under most pleasing conditions—PROVIDED they arrange in advance for such accommodation. There is a demand, at times especially, for the rooms available. And this method of adding income helps in the expense of the house.

A force of 18 young women and one man carry on the office work of the Headquarters. While getting ready for the Triennial at Detroit 25 are working.

She told of the Research Department, where inquiries from any member club may be sent, and answers will be given free of cost; for non-members there is a fee. Many, no doubt, do not know of this valuable feature of membership in the General Federation. One wonders if Massachusetts clubs may be in this class, for Mrs. Poole said that when she asked their research workers if many inquiries come in from her home State, they answered "practically none." Mrs. Poole's explanation was more complimentary, for she said that evidently Massachusetts knew so much they didn't have to ask about anything!

A clever way Mrs. Poole took to boost THE CLUBWOMAN was her declaration that she always reads every page of it except the first one, (this being her own page as a message from the president, which should be known to all clubwomen, elicited just the inquiries for which she was angling) but that she was going to read even this one after the June issue (when a new president will write the page).

She brought out how appointive honors come to a president because of her position; for example, her recent appointment as a member of the new Commission to study Fisheries. "I am resigning this week," she said, "as the new president will take over my place, but while I have been in I have done the best I could for the Fish Industry, on account of our own Cape Cod, and I feel that the next one taking my place won't do half so well, as she comes from an inland State!"

Speaking of her experiences in office, Mrs. Poole called attention to how careful a president has to be of being the victim of those who have some ulterior motive. There are all manner of organizations that are trying to put across "propaganda" concerning their own selfish interests, in many cases extremely dangerous, and they boast that the Women's Clubs are their best field, because "they will fall for anything!" In warning of this danger she sorrowfully admitted that wise as she had considered herself and open to watchfulness three times she had burned her fingers! If she were a new president, she said, just coming into office, she would make it a rule to be suspicious of every request made to her by anyone who wanted to appear before the Club, and answer "No!" Then she would sleep upon considering the matter for several days, and if she finally decided her suspicions were wrong, she would get in touch with these people and say "yes." It is much easier to change your answer from "yes" to "no," she said, than from "yes" to "no." Wise words all club officials should have heard!

On the question of Club endorsements of political measures or of other measures, she warned against the statement being made that all the membership of an organization were in favor of or opposed to a certain thing. Telling of an experience in which she appeared before a Legislative Committee, she said she told them just how many delegates had voted in favor of the measure, and just how many against, which showed the clear majority. A legislator said in great surprise, "What, you don't say, like so many, that two million women are in favor of (or against) this?" "Certainly not," answered Mrs. Poole. "I've given you the recorded vote of delegates. No two women ever agreed perfectly about anything, let alone two million!"

Can not the clubwomen of the United States glory in the wisdom of a woman whose experiences and clear thinking has brought her to their leadership with such expressions of truth?

Mrs. Poole explained about the Revisions as to Regulations for Juniors which were coming up at Detroit, these becoming absolutely necessary with 50,000 Juniors in the General Federation, of varying ages. The question becomes, then, according to Mrs. Poole, when is a Junior not a Junior, as women far over 35 years of age are clinging to the Junior Clubs. Just here Mrs. Poole startled her audience by saying that there are two women she hopes she will not see in Detroit, not that she knows them, or perhaps that they know her, but because of letters they—and she—have written. A Kentucky woman she knows will not speak to her, for this elderly, gray-haired woman told her in high feather that she was a grandmother and a Junior! Mrs. Poole told her she was no Junior! The other woman wrote for advice how to interest Juniors to join their Club, complaining of their lack of interest. Mrs. Poole looked up the file of Year Books—yes, they have these on file at Headquarters if the Clubs will send them in! Another hint your editor gives to our Newton corresponders—secretaries—and discovered that the year's program consisted of study of "The Ancient Arts of Egypt." She immediately answered this woman that if she were a Junior she wouldn't join this club either.

Lowering Wages Unjustified and Unfair

The Basley Lumber Company will not lower the wages of their employees and will do everything in their power to further the cause of recovery and stability.

The lowering of wages is an open invitation to disaster and discontent and is most unfair to a long struggling and patient suffering mass of those connected with the building industry. We invite those of our industry not to take advantage of what we believe is a temporary hitch in the industrial activities of our country.

that they needed more progressive and modern programs for a part of the year. "And now she is furious and thinks I do not approve of culture," ended Mrs. Poole amidst much laughter. (Newton clubs take warning from this excellent advice!)

That Mrs. Poole is wise is shown by her declaration that she intends to request the clubwomen at Detroit to allow the Juniors to have the floor to debate the question of the new revision, by which the age limit for joining a Junior Club or Department of a Senior Club shall be 25, with an eight-year service, so that after the age of 33 they must become members of the Senior Club. The Juniors, she stated, said the Senior clubwomen would decide what was their affair, and Mrs. Poole promptly retorted: "I shall give you the floor, and I shall expect you to be smart enough to win what you want, there being many on each side of the question!" And then they became alarmed (?) and asked if the Seniors couldn't help them (?)

Mrs. Poole's final wisdom was expressed in her closing statement that she was going to try to go out of office gracefully, and not disgracefully, if she could; that she was going to retire absolutely; go into the ranks; and help from there the incoming president. She declared it was most discourteous to put anything in the way of a new president; and that clubwomen, even if through experience they think they know how efficient they are, should never forget to put themselves in the other person's place and be courteous!

Aged Newton Man Overcome By Gas

George Roberts, 74, was nearly suffocated by gas fumes on Wednesday morning at his small apartment in the Nonantum Building, 312 Centre street, Newton. Occupants of the building observed gas fumes coming from Roberts' apartment and notified the police. Patrolman Loughlin with Thomas Hughes and G. E. Tolman, gas company employees, went to the place and found Roberts unconscious in his bed. Gas was escaping from a burner on a gas stove. A pan of water was above the burner and it is supposed the water had boiled over and extinguished the flame. Roberts, who was formerly night cashier at the Waldorf Lunch in Newton, lived alone in the apartment.
